

TOLD IN BRIEF.

Going and Coming of People You Know and of Some You Don't Know.

Mr. Z. F. Johnson is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. Frank Bond, of Edenton, was a visitor in town yesterday.

T. R. Ward, a prominent citizen of Belvidere, was in town yesterday.

Mr. C. J. Ward has returned from a visit to his old home at Belvidere.

Miss Della Derickson, of Frankford, Md., is visiting at G. F. Dericksons.

S. F. Stallings, a prominent citizen, of Winfall, was a visitor in town last week.

The Raleigh Morning Post has appointed John B. Stow as Elizabeth City correspondent.

Mr. P. L. Whitehead was married yesterday to Miss Elizabeth Lewis at Chapanoke by Rev. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCabe entertained the whist club Friday night, at their handsome residence on Main St.

A party of Elizabeth City sportsmen returning from the sound on Saturday were hindered by the ice and reached the city by road.

Captain M. L. Johnson, of Manteo, was caught in a gale Thursday. He was compelled to anchor in the mouth of the river for safety.

Miss Jennie Burrus, one of New Bern's most charming young ladies, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hathaway, on Road st.

Mr. W. D. Barnard, Jr., of New York City, and Mr. F. B. Walker, of Norfolk, Va., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnard this week.

Mrs. John Burgess accompanied by her little son Johnie, of Norfolk, Va., is visiting the family of Mr. John H. Burgess on Fearing street.

Mr. T. H. Kellman has a repair shop for furniture and wood-work repairing. He can make broken articles of furniture as good as new.

Mr. M. L. Whitehead is the efficient keeper of the Pasquotank river bridge having succeeded Mr. Hughes, who has been keeper for several years.

The "Neuse" due at this city at 9 o'clock Saturday morning was delayed by ice in the river and did not reach here till 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

Miss Clara Bond, who has been spending several days with her friend Miss Greenleaf, on Main street, returned to-day to home in Edenton, N. C.

Among Elizabeth City boys who are doing well abroad is Fred Ship, who is with a large coal firm in Richmond. Fred's friends are glad to hear of his success.

Josiah Johnson died last week, age 45 years, at South Mills. His death came very suddenly. He was formerly of this city and has two brothers and a sister residing here.

Mr. J. Hooper returned yesterday from a trip for Fowler & Co. The Fowlers do a large jobbing business in their millinery lines as well as handling a heavy retail trade.

Mr. J. D. Parker, a prominent and prosperous farmer, of Nyeonor, was a visitor in town last week. Mr. Parker has many friends in this place who were glad to welcome him.

The management of the Camden Phone Co. have expert linemen at work connecting the long distance line to Norfolk. They expect to have it in working order by the first of February.

C. N. Blanga left yesterday for Dismal Swamp Va., where he is foreman of a large planing mill. He was formerly of this city and his many friends were glad to welcome him home.

Mr. M. L. Whitehead, of Chapanoke visited in this city yesterday. He was formerly section master, on the Elizabeth City division of the Norfolk & Southern and is now prospering on his farm at Chapanoke.

Married, yesterday at the Arlington Hotel at one o'clock p. m., Mr. William S. Woodhouse and Miss Annie L. Ship, both of Norfolk, Rev. Mr. Tuttle officiating. They are both very highly respected young people of Norfolk. The Tax HELL extends congratulations.

Pedestrians on Main and Poindexter street have had their attention arrested by Fulmer & Co's handsome window display of fancy groceries of every description, and complimentary comments have been thicker than bees. It is a fine exhibition but only a hint of the remarkably fine stock inside.

Many of the prominent citizens of the city have received invitations from Mr. M. K. King, general Superintendent of the Norfolk & Southern to meet him in his private car at the depot to-night. This conference is the result of the agitation for the new railroad.

The two masted schooner, Ida Faren, Captain Q. V. Merchant, empty from Baltimore, collided with the railroad bridge over the Pasquotank, Thursday, She was in tow. The vessel ahead passed through, but the bridge was closed on her. The schooner was damaged to the amount of $400. She is being repaired at this city.

Mr. W. G. Ferebee, of Camden county was a pleasant caller on the editor Saturday afternoon. Mr. Ferebee is one of the most progressive farmers in this locality. He uses modern farming machinery and implements as well as up-to-date methods. He believes in everything that points towards progress, improvement and development. We wish that more men of his stamp were to be found in the vicinity of Elizabeth City.

Thomas A. Jr., and William, sons of the famous northern inventor were in this city for several hours today and were driven about the town by a local liverman. They expressed themselves as impressed with the future possibilities of this locality along the lines of lumbering, fisheries and commerce.

The Edisons with a party have been spending several days in the Currituck sound district on a hunting expedition and are meeting with good success. Mr. Thomas A. Edison Jr., has been conferring with the commissioners of Manteo, N. C. for the establishment of a trolley line between Manteo and Skycoc. The project is well received by the influential citizens of the place. The party left about 4 o'clock on their yacht to return to Manteo.

"Pink Tea" at Swan Quarter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Swindell, of Swan Quarter have issued invitations to a pink tea to be given in celebration of the nineteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Delle, on the twenty third of January. Miss Swindell is one of Swan Quarter's most beautiful and accomplished daughter. By her pleasant and happy disposition, she has won a high place in the esteem of all who have made her acquaintance.

Our best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

"THE OLD PASQUOTANK."

Suggested by Mr. Cropsey's Admiration for the Pasquotank River.

He once loved that dear old River With the zeal of a half grown boy; He had gazed on its restful bosom 'Twas his daily pride and joy.

He had often fished in its shining depths, And talked of it, filled with glee Of its wild and wondrous beauty Fit for an "Artist" to see.

Yes, that once dear old River Holds now, a secret—apart The form of his darling daughter The idol of his heart.

Beautiful, winsome "Nellie" Cherished darling of all Lies on the cold river bottom Wrapped in a funeral pall.

Missing from us one cold winter's night, Was it the murderer's hand? Or could you Nellie—sister of life, Ah, no—we cannot understand.

But we shall behold you "Dearie" For they shall rise," He said, "And the old Pasquotank will give you up "When the Sea gives up its dead," Upon the discovery of the body, Dec. 27th.

The mother gazing out that morn Upon the river—dark Suddenly saw an object floating, Something which made her start.

'Twas given to the mother The "lost one" to spy, "Yes, 'tis Nell," the missing one Her babe of years gone by.

Home again! Yes Nell 'tis you Returned to us once more, But not the same bright winsome Nell Upon the River shore.

For we are dead and lonely now! She lies in Death's embrace, But "we shall know as we are known" We shall see her face to face.

"We shall gather at the river, Where your angel feet have trod We shall meet to part, no never In the Happy Home of God.

Lower Prices, Larger Business, Better Shoes.

Making big profits is no road to big business. There must be satisfaction with the goods, satisfaction with the prices, satisfaction with the wear of the shoes through weeks and months of service. It's not enough to make sales today. There must be value that will be talked about to friends and neighbors. We've reached that point with our shoes.

It's safe to say our men's $3 shoes are as good as anybody's $3.50, and our $3.50 shoes are as good as anybody's $4.

It's safe to say our women's $2 shoes are as good as anybody's $2.50, and our $2.50 as good as anybody's $3.

No wonder this business is doubling.

For January Weddings.

The advent of December causes a lull in winter weddings—but January brings renewed activity in a shape of a swarm of them. With wedding invitations, questions of presents come crowding upon you. That's when our superb, rich collection of solid silverware rises to the emergency, both as a suggestion and provider of wedding gifts.

Here is a wealth of beautiful pieces, distinguished in designs of lasting worth and conservatively, not fancifully priced.

The collections hold many possibilities for the embellishment of the new home. We have a large variety of articles suitable for wedding presents, Cut Glass, Clocks, Sterling Silverware, Cream Ladels, Meat Forks and Tomato Servers, inexpensive, but very serviceable.
