

OLD TRAP.

Correspondence of the Tar Heel. Old Trap, N. C. Nov. 5.—The cotton picking is almost over now.

Mr. Doxey of Coinjock, who is in our midst for a few days has returned home. He says that a great many are making preparation for ducking this winter.

Messrs. J. W. Kight and A. B. Needham of New York received a hearty welcome in our midst by their friends and relatives. They have gone over to the "Alligator" on a bear hunt, but will return in a few days.

Mr. E. G. Harrison came very near getting killed last week by a four year old colt. He had just finished gearing her to a farm cart and was fastening the girl when she gave a lunge. He caught her by the bridle and tried to stop her but could not; and in going through the gate he was thrown against the post and his left arm broken between the elbow and shoulder. Dr. Fearing was called immediately, and under his treatment Mr. Harrison is getting along nicely.

SOUTH MILLS.

South Mills, N. C., Nov. 4.—Correspondence of the Tar Heel.

The 4th quarterly meeting of Camden Circuit, was held last Tuesday Oct. 30, at Mt. Brides M. E. Church South Rev. J. E. Underwood, P. E. presiding. The C. C. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, should feel greatly uncouraged and proud as this report was one of the best in the entire district, as expressed by Rev. Underwood. Rev. Hocutt is a zealous and earnest worker for Christ and is greatly beloved by all his people, they just will not hear to anything except his return to Camden charge for another year.

The people of South Mills and vicinity are just now discussing the probability of the Inland Waterway from Beaufort Inlet, N. C., to Tidewater, Va., utilizing the Dismal Swamp Canal as one of the links in this great enterprise. Sunday ago I noticed a supposed report by the Suffolk Correspondent of Virginian-Pilot of some expert Engineers as to the dangerous diseases lurking in the confines of the great Dismal Swamp, should the water from Lake Drummond used by Canal Co., as a reserve water supply in case of exceeding dry weather, and the probability of the Lake being drained dry should the Canal be widened and deepened of. Then people representing a combined Lumber dealers, who now have a suit pending in the courts of Va. against the Lake Drummond Canal & Water Co., for lowering the water in the Canal and by this means drain the swamp, killing, their lumber.

I can say without contradiction that the people as a rule are as healthy here under the very shadow of the great Dismal Swamp as at any place I know of. I am sorry the draining of Lake Drummond and the lurking disease of the Dismal Swamp are just now troubling the minds of scientists. It seems they have just awakened to these new dangers and difficulties since the talking of the proposed Inland Waterway.

THE WILCOX TRIAL.

The Fate of Jim Wilcox May Soon be Determined.

Unless counsel for the defense or the defense himself pleads for a removal the new trial granted James E. Wilcox, by the Supreme Court, will be heard at the November term of Pasquotank superior court which convenes here on Monday Nov 17th. 1902. If the defendant or his counsel asks for the removal to some other county another delay will be occasioned. Lawyer Aydtlett when interviewed said that he knew nothing of any movement to have the trial carried elsewhere. Knowing that every moment's delay is in favor of the prisoner, the public may expect the defense to invite procrastination.

If Wilcox is given a hearing at this term of the court Pasquotank will for the first time in its history have two murder trials on one docket.
