EROME IS AFRAID THAT THAW

WILL ESCAPE IF PLACED IN PRIVATE ASYLUM.

Fit aboth, N Y., May 27.-Attorney Jerome accompanied by his assistant Francis P. Garvan arrived here this evening for thes umming up on the King committee charges.

Mr. Jerome received a telegram notifying him of the decision of Judge Morschauser in the Thaw case and he read a copy of the Evening World telling of the decision. Asked whether he would consent to Thaw's being sent to a private sanitarium, Mr.

I don't like to say what I will do until the matter has come officially to my attention. I will say however that I would not feel inclined to consent to Thaw being put in any place where there is no guarantee that he will not be able to escape.

It would undoubtedly be a good thing to relieve the State of the exrense of caring for any person who is able as Thaw is to pay his own way in a private asylum, ordinarily I would not object to such a thing but in Thaw's case I do not see how it could be done, because of the posstbility of his escaping. At large, he would be a dangerous man. My idea is that he ought to be kept at Matteawan.
