WE ARE TALKING ABOUT OURSELVES

The Tar Heel is not given to horn blowing. It never blows its own and it does not blow the horn of any individual. The Tar Heel is not prostituted to the service of one individual to vent his spleen on another. No, sir, not if we know it. The Tar Heel does what it thinks is right, not what you think (everytime) hence the Tar Heel has enemies, lots of them too, who would like to see "her bust"

The enemies of the Tar Heel take occasion often to vent their spleen upon the Tar Heel because the Tar Heel will not vent their spleen on somebody else. These enemies too, propound questions to the Tar Heel.

Here is what a fellow wanted to know of the editor of the Tar Heel a few days ago. "Does the Tar Heel stand for anything?"

Well, well, does the Tar Heel stand for anything? Let's see about that.

See here, Let's ask you a question. Money is the best test, isn't it? A fellow will barter principle for money, sooner than for anything else.

Say, did you know it, it is pretty tight times now. It's about all a fellow can do to make both ends meet. And we have to hustle seven days in the week about 18 hours to the day to do that. Its the disposition of the average person to seek an easy place. We are along with the "average."

Say, do you know that if the Tar Heel would sacrifice one of its principles, it could lie down in "Green Pastures" in a land "of milk and Honey." Do you know Sir, that the whole force from owner of the plant to office boy could lay in the shade this hot weather, live sumptuously upon the best and electric fans to cool them. The rising of the sun or the going down thereof, would never trouble us.

It is a fact, now listen. We picked up a paper publish in a town not more than a thousand miles from this "burg" in looking over its advertising column, we found that it carried 18 or 20 columns of whiskey advertisements (in fact pretty nearly everything was a whiskey ad) That paper gets pretty good prices for this stuff too.

Do you know that the Tar Heel can carry and could have been carrying for the past six months everyone of these ads and even more at a great deal better price? Now lets figure a little. 20 columns of whiskey ads, 20 inches each, 400 inches at 25 cents per inch, makes $100 per week or $400 per month. Now could we not fare sumptuously upon this? Wouldn't have to wear out a pair of shoe soles every two weeks tramping the streets chasing after closed fist merchants who "Cuss us because we will not do their advertising (occasionally) for 10 cents per inch.

Isn't this a temptation? No, we are not afraid to do it either. We would not lose 100 subscribers out of our list if we carried $400 worth of whiskey ads per month.

It's principle, principle, downright principle nothing else. We are against whiskey and we fight it at a cost of $4,800. Hie, there you fanatics, ultra fanatics and hypocrites who keeps a little in the house for sickness and are consequently pretty nearly all the time sick, or who talks temperance six days in the week; orders a jug Saturday night and gets so drunk on Sunday that you can not go to church.

What Does the Tar Heel Stand For? What do you think it stands for? The Tar Heel Stands for Harmony.

You smile at our pretentiousness Sift it down, bud and see if we are right. Who labors for harmony and preaches the gospel of harmony in this old town? The files of the old Tar Heel are open for your inspection. We challenge you to show one utterance in the Tar Heel that suggests anything that would disrupt harmony, if there was any of that stuff in this town. Harmony, harmony, has ever been and will ever be the gospel that the old Tar Heel will preach.

The Tar Heel stands for brotherly love and a united citizenship. Here we stand alone again, and we are afraid that we will be without much company for many years to come. The Tar Heel has preached early and late, in season and out of season for an united citizen founded on brotherly, love and patriotic pride, but our enemies have circumvented us and have brought all our efforts to naught.

The Tar Heel stands for Betsy's prosperity and the welfare of her cit-to a store in a certain city. The local merchant put down his best figures, but he missed the mail order house by $1.29. The Tar Heel purchased the article of the home merchant at the loss of $1.29. This is practice what you preach, ain't it? How about certain people in this town, who own about half of the town. It's said that they make a trip to the other end of the N & S. R. R. about once a week or a little often to buy their tobacco or that other fellow who owns half of the town, who stands around a green grocers stand about an hour in the morning to buy a dozen ears of roasting corn, shucks every ear in the stock to see if its filled out, swears that the corn is no good, ruins the merchants trade on corn and finally does not buy a grain, when the corn is selling for 10 cents per dozen ears.

Lord that we are not like other folks."

The Tar Heel stands ready at all times to boost every church sociable, every candy stew or junk sale that is run in connection with or under the name of any church in this city. Boost it, sure, advertise it? sure to the extreme end of the earth and patronize it with our last nickel.

But if you want a program printed or a dodger or something of the kind, be charitable, (?) Take it to the other fellow, who can't advertise you. Let him have what little profit there is in your scheme. That is "reciprocity"
