HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

A BOY WITH A GUN

'Doll' Pastorfield Accidentally Shoots his Cousin Joe Pritchard While Hunting Tuesday and Kills him Instantly.

A horrible accident occurred last Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock on Baxter's old field at the end of Church street in which 'Doll' Pastorfield, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pastorfield of this city accidentally shot and instantly killed his cousin, Joseph Pritchard, while hunting. Pritchard, who lived in the Berea section was visiting in the Pastorfield home. Yesterday afternoon they went hunting. Late in the evening Pastorfield came home and related to the family, that his cousin had gone home, but when he returned to his supper he told his father that he had accidentally killed Joe while hunting. That he was rapidly moving his gun in an attempt to shoot a lark, that his foot slipped and the gun discharged emptying the load in the stomach of his cousin. Mr. Pritchard accompanied by Mr. Benton immediately went to the old field and there they found the boy lying in a straw patch with a great wound in his stomach. The matter was reported to the sheriff. A jury was summoned, and a verdict was reached of accidental shooting.

The body was removed to the home of Mr. Pastorfield where it was prepared for burial, and the remains were taken to the home in Berea Wednesday for interment.

The family of Mr. Pastorfield is prostrated with grief over the sad affair and the friends of the families sympathize with them in their distress.

The Boy With a Gun

The Tar Heel can not refrain from sermonizing over the sad accident. It shows only too plainly the folly of trusting boys with guns. Many accidents of this kind have happened before; in fact, they happen some where each day, and they will continue as long as 12 or 14 year old boys are provided with guns and are allowed to roam the woods at will. We say this with the tenderest feeling for Mr. Pastorfield's family in their hour of distress. Of course it was an accident, pure and simple, and no one is to blame, the can not other people during the hunting season this year profit from this distressing accident and guard their boys from the recurrence of a similar accident?

HUNTING FINE IN CURRITUCK

HUNTERS KILLING DUCKS BY THE THOUSANDS. BIG MONEY IS BEING MADE.

The fowling season in Currituck opened especially fine this year. Such an abundance of game has not been seen for many years. Such reports as has been received from Currituck Sound during the past few days, makes the mouth of an epicure water at the thought of the luscious canvass back duck, and they stir the impulses of the local sportsmen.

Mr. C. S. Brinson of Powell's Point called to see us last Saturday. He informed us this is the greatest season ever in Currituck. He is a large buyer of the game and last week he bought 4000 ducks in four days. These ducks netted the gunners about 65 cents per pair, making a total of $1,300.

There are six buyers in a radius of 12 miles in the heart of the game land and they are kept pretty busy purchasing the game.

Mr. St. Clair Leward and his partner received from the buyers last Friday $118 for game killed in one day. Such reports makes the residents of the inland waters wish that they were Currituckers.

MR. GREENLEAF IMPROVING

The many many friends of the family will be glad to learn that the condition of Mr. H. T. Greenleaf, Sr. has greatly improved during the past few days. Mr. Greenleaf has been very sick for several days at his home on Mathews street. His friends are very hopeful of his rapid recovery.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. C. H. Robinson spent several days this week in Phillipsburg, Penn. attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Munson. The funeral and interment took place last Tuesday.

NORTH CAROLINA LEADS

ALL THE COUNTRY

President Taft Pays a Tribute to our Fair State in Wilmington Speech.

The following are extracted from President Taft's Wilmington speech as it was reported by the News & Observer.

The President's visit to the State is an item of great interest to our readers regardless of political affiliations. The speech will be read with interest by our readers.

I have visited North Carolina before and in doing so I have found that you were a little earlier in doing everything that had to be done in the crisis of the nation than any body else. I have found that you made a declaration of independence at Mecklenburg about a year before we thought of it in other parts of the country. And I understand that you suppress the stamp tax and emptied out the tea a very considerable time before they had that tea party in Boston harbor. It is, therefore, a matter of extreme self-congratulation on my part to have from your distinguished men and from the people of a State like this such a cordial welcome.

Preservation of Forests.

I observe that you court a good deal on the long leaf pine, and I congratulate you that you are the third and fourth State in the treasure of timber in the United States. But I urge upon you the lesson that the history of the timber treasure of other States and its destruction ought to teach you in the preservation of that which makes your State rich today among the States. We have reached a time in the history of this country when if we would have timber at all we must pursue the common sense course of treating it in such a way that it will reproduce itself and of cutting it in such a way that we shall not destroy it altogether. We must preserve it from destructive fires, and we must take steps of caution and precaution in order to do that. You have within the boundary of your State a gentleman named Vanderbilt, who has gone before any one in the science of forestry, and I congratulate you on having that example, that thereby you may formulate laws which shall preserve to you the timber of your State, continue your wealth and prosperity and form a model to other States in the preservation of that which God has given you and preserved to this moment.

Country Life of State.

I congratulate the people of North Carolina that next to the State of Mississippi it has a population more devoted to the soil and its cultivation than any other State in the Union. You do not have large cities, and I do not think that a defect at all in your civilization. The fact is that the tendency toward concentration of population in the cities is a tendency that ought to be restrained. Country life ought to be made comfortable and attractive. The pursuit of agriculture, the profession of farming today may well attract the mental and manual activity of men of the highest education of the highest culture and of the highest ambitions.

The Children Feature.

I had the pleasure today, of seeing and hearing the beautiful songs of the children, white and colored, in this city, and I am glad to note, that in the journey which I have taken of 13,000 miles that has been an especial feature of every greeting which I have had. In Chicago we had 18 miles of children, 150,000 from whose willing voices one took the national hymn in a way that inspired one as nothing else could, and from that time it has been given to me as the temporary head of the nation to see this growing generation steeped, I may say, in patriotism, anxious to render their respect to him who for the time being they regard as representing the sovereignty of the nation, and foreshadowing what we shall be in the next generation.

Word to Confederate Veterans.

I had the pleasure also of being received by the Confederate Veterans of Wilmington, and I thank them for their kindly welcome—silver haired, some of them a little tottering, but all of them full of good will, full of loyalty; cherishing the traditions of a noble past but glad to welcome the representative of a united country, You have, indeed made history in this, your neighborhood. Today it was give to me to go down to Fort Fisher, where that dreadful battle and carnage was fought to see how much lead could be pumped from one side into the fort of another, and what enduring a sacrifice the opponents could make. All that history you cherish and we cherish, but it does not make the slightest difference in our brotherly feeling, in our fraternal desire always to exhibit and manifest that love of each other which comes of standing elbow to elbow in the march of progress to make this nation, great as it is, even greater to afford under our country's flag an equal opportunity to all to work out their fortunes and to elevate the moral standards of manhood, so that above all in the type of American we can point to character as the thing to remember.
