ALL LABORED FAITHFULLY

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight for the purpose of devising plans to take up the work of completing the building.

The money necessary to complete the building has been raised, and now the directors are planning to begin the actual work on the building.

Every person connected with the movement to build the Y. M. C. A. has labored faithfully, and well, and they are all now rejoicing in the success of their efforts. Much honor is due the directors who stood by the movement when it was apparently doomed to failure, great honor is due to the various canvassing teams, who at different times have labored faithfully to secure funds to make this magnificent building possible.

It is a great honor to this city to have such men 'its' citizens and its a great honor to have such a building that will for all ages to come reflect honor upon so progressive a people.

UNITED STATES SENATOR TAYLOR TIME ASSURED IN STAR COURSE

United States Senator Robert L. Taylor will deliver his famous lecture 'The Fiddle and the Bow' in the High School auditorium on Wednesday night, December 1st.

This is the second number of the Star course and the attendance should be limited only by the capacity of the auditorium for it is seldom that our people have the opportunity to hear so celebrated a platform orator as Senator Taylor; a man with a national reputation as the most entertaining speaker before the public at this time.

His lecture is entertaining, instructive and very humorous and those of our citizens who have heard him in the larger cities say that his lecture is worth the whole price of the course and that no one can afford to miss it.

A flash of imagery, a burst of eloquence, and a wealth of glittering thoughts scattered like fireflies over a clover-field—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. A song borne in the wings of some dear old melody, a joke rippling from a fountain of humor, a subtle note of pathos awakening tender, sacred memories—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. Words painted in all colors of fancy and put together with all the skill of faultless diction, the lights of innocent childhood, and the shadows of somber age developed on the back ground of common experience—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. A radiant smile penetrating the gloom of despondency, a ray of hope arched in every man's horizon, a fragrant flower to brighten and to cheer—that is Bob Taylor's lecture.

—Memphis Scimitar. The admission price, reserved seats $1.00, general admission 75c. Tickets for sale at Selig's after the 26th. The price may seem high but it is low when compared with what you would have to pay elsewhere to hear this celebrated lecturer and the management must have a good price in order to meet the expenses incurred in an entertainment of so high an order.

SHOE PRICES GOING UP 10 OR 15 PER CENT

BUT THERE IS NOTHING ADDITIONAL IN FOR THE RETAIL MERCHANTS.

The following item is clipped from a Norfolk paper. It will be of interest to the Tar Heel readers, so it is published.

When you buy your shoes hereafter you will have to pay from ten to fifteen per cent. more for them than you have in the past. That is the statement of several of Norfolk's leading shoe dealers and the indications are that the increased price will prevail for some time to come. It is said that the cost of beef is responsible for the increase, and that until the price of beef is within reach of the working classes the price of foot-wear will remain high. The shoes that you now pay $4 for, will, in the future cost you $1.50 and those that cost $3 at present will retail for $3.25. Other prices will soar proportionately.

In discussing the matter, one of the most prominent retail dealers said: 'Yes, it is true that the price of shoes has increased and all footwear manufactured after the first of this month will be from ten to fifteen per cent. higher than it was before. This increase is due to the increase in the cost of leather and the retailer does not benefit by it. The profits are no higher for us.'

When asked for an explanation of the cause of the increase in the price of shoes, this dealer said it was due to the cost of beef.

'The price of beef is so high,' he said, 'that people in moderate circumstances can not buy much of it, and for that reason there are not as many hides taken as there would be if the price of beef was lower and the demand greater.'

'It is true,' continued the dealer, 'that the tariff has been taken off sole leather, but the increased cost of the uppers of the shoes, on which there never was any tariff, more than offsets the taking off of duty on sole leather, and it has just become necessary to raise the price of shoes.'

It is said that traveling salesmen have been notified by their houses to inform their customers that the increase in the price of shoes will become effective immediately, and that there may be a still greater increase in the price of spring goods which are now being manufactured.

ONE WAY

One way to advertise a town. For every public institution possible, invite every religious body to hold their annual conferences and convention—in your town. Every order or political body be invited to meet and hold its convention in the town. Let your town be noted for its hospitality and people will love to meet within its gates.

There are many things to be gained by these meetings. First, is the coming together of the people, in spirit all concerned, the entertainers getting the largest share.

Nothing so helps the people as the coming together of these bodies, which assemble for the betterment and promotion of humanity.

GATES HAVE GOT TO COME DOWN

OR THE RURAL ROUTES WILL BE ABOLISHED. PETITION WILL BE CIRCULATED.

The following petition will be presented to the Board of County Commissioners at an early date.

The people residing on the rural routes embraced in this territory have been repeatedly warned that free delivery will be abolished if the objectionable gates are not removed.

Various kinds of automatic gates have at various times been installed on the roads of these routes, but the gates have proven absolutely unsatisfactory. They were said to be automatic. When they arrived, they looked like they ought to be, and for a short while did work fairly well, but in a little while, it generally would take two men armed with fence rails to get one open.

The post office department has stood the 'devilment' of these gates until it will not stand for it any longer. The last manifesto has been issued: Take down the gates or the routes will be abolished.

The people are not taking chances now, about their routes which they esteem as of considerable value. The following petition will be circulated in the near future.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners of Pasquotank County—Greeting:

Whereas, the Postoffice Department of the United States government has made it known that the free delivery service on routes number one and two, Pasquotank County, will be abolished unless the gates to the stock law fence crossing the public roads of said County on the routes above referred to are abolished;

And Whereas we, the undersigned citizens and free-holders residing within the stock law territory, in Nixontown Township, Pasquotank County, consider the free delivery of mail of far more importance than the maintenance of this stock law territory;

And Whereas there has been much dissatisfaction among your petitioners by reason of the fact that certain parties residing within the stock law territory above referred to, have not maintained their part of the fence;

Now, Therefore, we, your petitioners, the undersigned citizens and free-holders within the stock law territory above referred to, of Nixontown Township, Pasquotank County, do hereby petition your Honorable Board to call an election, as early as possible, and pursuant to the statute made and provided in such cases, to determine whether or not the said law fence shall be continued or abandoned.

SOME PRETTY THINGS

Auto hoods are shown in the shops which fit closely around the face, with a peak at the back, like the jester's cap of the opera and of old-fashioned pictures. They are bewitching, framing a pretty face.

Corded ribbon is being used as a trimming on several of the daintiest of ready-made evening gowns.

An attractive dressing sack may be made of white wash crepe, bouded all around the edges with colored ribbon and with huge dots of the same color embroidered over the surface.

FOWLER AND CO.

The well known firm of Fowler, that has been carrying a large stock in The Tar Heel, has a change, calling attention to the Dress Goods Department.
