

CIVIC LEAGUE DEPARTMENT

On the principle of keeping everlasting as it brings success, the Civic League of this city calls attention to the fact that waste paper still holds high carnival on the streets.

Would it be asking too much of our home-keepers to see that all waste paper is burned instead of being thrown in the yards or on the streets? The Civic League realizes that nothing can be achieved without labor and the laborers are few. The Civic Department does not undertake to command. It only kindly suggests and begs the co-operation and support of every citizen of the town.

Surely, there should be enough civic pride in Elizabeth City to see that interest in civic improvements does not lag, that every home owner and home maker remembers not only to try to beautify her own premises, but try to persuade her neighbor to do likewise. In many of our cities a campaign is being made against bill boards. Why should we not do away with the unsightly advertisements which mar the beauty of our streets? Near "The Raleigh" is a bill board that strikes terror to the eye and near our Public Building is a poster which detracts mightily from the beauty of the surroundings.

The bill board will soon be a thing of the past in up-to-date towns and we hope to see it abolished in our own little city.

We feel that we can not do justice to the public, but the following from the "Portland Oregonian" expresses our sentiments.

No city that makes any pretension to decent appearance can afford to permit bill boards anywhere within its limits. These most unsightly things offend all taste and sensibility; they give the city the appearance of a cheap and nasty place; even on vacant lots they should not be allowed. The push clubs and improvement clubs and city beautiful clubs should all take up the war against them. Objection to disfigurement of buildings with great letters that advertise cigars and other things should be included in the raid. A public opinion against these and all similar abominations ought to be created in Portland that would taboo such monstrosities."

TO THE SUPREME COURT

The case of State against Harris and Winder was sent up to the Superior court this week on a special verdict from the County Court Judge Ferguson sent the case on to the Supreme court for a final decision.

This case was tried in the County Court some time ago and it attracted a great deal of attention. The case grew out of a suit entered by several merchants against Harris and Winder upon the charge of conducting a gambling business in such a manner that it had a gambling feature connected with it. In the trial in the trial in the County Court Judge Sawyer rendered a verdict in favor of the defendants.

The final disposition of the case will be watched with interest by the public generally.

TO FIGHT THE DREAD DISEASE

April 24 to Be "National Tuberculosis Sunday"

The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis announces that on April 24, National Tuberculosis Sunday, will be observed in all the churches throughout the United States.

Following the campaign against consumption that have been carried on in the churches in hundreds of cities, and sermons on tuberculosis that have been preached thousands of congregations during the past year a movement has been started for the establishment of a permanent tuberculosis Sunday, on which it is hoped that every one of the 33,000,000 church-goers in the United States will hear the gospel against consumption, Anti-tuberculosis societies, labor organizations, fraternal orders, together with churchmen of various denominations have offered to join in the movement, also all the large interdenominational organizations, such as the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the King's Daughters, the King's Sons and the various young people's societies.

It has been planned, therefore, that on April 24th, sermons on tuberculosis and its dangers be preached in all the churches. Literature will be distributed among the members of the congregations of all the cities, towns and communities, and an effort will be made to teach that consumption is a dangerous disease, but that it can be cured.

Clergymen who desire additional information will apply to the local associations.

A town is judged by its newspapers much as a man is sized up by his clothes. The whole community is thus a partner in its journalistic enterprises. If you want your city to put its best foot forward, give the home paper the support it needs to keep on expanding and growing more attractive.
