TOO MUCH POLITICS

Mr. Taft's administration has had upon it from the beginning the blight of pernicious activity in politics and has presented all the time the optionable spectacle of one cabinet officer whose sole occupation seems to be that of peddling our Federal jobs.

Of course each administration has some necessary changes to make and commissions are continually expiring making new appointments absolutely necessary, but all of these changes should be made without the palpable evidence of a desire to keep well oiled the political machine. The Washington Herald makes a timely comment as follows:

A feeling is growing in well-informed circles that the Hon. Hitchcock's political activities are not doing the administration the least bit of good.

In fact, it is putting the case none too strongly to say that it is generally believed that his activities are doing the administration positive harm.

It is far from pleasing to see him dispensing and withholding patronage in the dual role of party chairman and cabinet officer—far from pleasing to anybody but himself.

It is neither good political morals nor good partisan politics. But it is decidedly potent in engendering resentment and adding to the troubles which beset the administration.

President Taft needs no political machine. He wants none. It is inconceivable that he has given a thought to the building up of such a machine. Everybody knows, who knows him at all, that he has no love of patronage power. The machine building is not his. It is Mr. Hitchcock's, and a sorry piece of construction it is proving to be.

If Mr. Hitchcock's activities were turned in another direction confined to the running of the postoffice affairs of the country, for instance—or if he were freed from official responsibility altogether by divorce from official life and thus permitted to give undivided attention to his national chairmanship role, we are candidly of the opinion that the administration would gain in popularity, and gain speedily. It would also gain in strength and public confidence.—Ledger-Dispatch.

Resolutions of respect on the death of Brother J. S. Beasley.

Brother Beasley joined Achoree Lodge on June 28, 1907 and after a short illness died at the age of 38 years in the prime of life.

Brother Beasley loved the order and impressed every one with his devotion to its principles his friends loved him. They recognized his general generous sympathetic qualities as well as his tireless energy and devotion to duty imposed on him by his Lodge. In his home he was ever the true husband, affectionate and kind.

His voice was often raised in the Lodge room is silent to be heard no more on earth, rare in the sad, mellow echoes which memory has impressed the memory of his deeds will live as a monument to the virtues of a genuine Odd Fellow.

Resolved, That we will cherish his memory as a Brother, who has gone to join the great majority above.

Resolved, That we will send a copy of the above to the widows and also a copy be spread on the minutes of the Lodge and that we will wear the usual badge in remembrance of his memory.

Respectfully Submitted,
H. O. HILL,
J. P. WHEDBEE,
G. F. DERICKSON.

Hall of Achoree Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., Elizabeth City, N. C.

Again with bowed heads and bleeding hearts we stand amid the shadows of sorrow and acknowledge that death is master and we, his subjects. That he comes unheralded and lays his hand upon the heart of the young and old, strong and feeble alike must answer to his call.

And we, who are left behind, desire to place this tribute of love and respect for our departed brother upon records of this lodge, and thus show the sorrow we feel and the loss we have sustained by the death of our brother, therefore,

Be it resolved, First, that in the death of Brother C. M. Burgess this lodge has suffered a great loss, his life was to us an inspiration and his presence a benediction. He was a good man, faithful to his obligations, every ready to assist in any good work he could find to do. His lodge his community, his church and the world is better because he has lived and moved among us.

Second, That while we mingle our tears and sorrows with his bereaved family, we mourn not as those who have no hope for by and by if we are faithful and true as he was we shall meet him on the shining shore where there will be no more parting.

Third, that we commend to the stricken widow and children left behind the gentle ministry and sustaining grace of that God whom our dear brother followed so faithfully during his life and pray His blessing and protection upon them all.

Fourth, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of our deceased brother, a copy be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy be published in the city papers and that we wear the usual emblem of sorrow and mourning for thirty days.

Fraternaly submitted,

M. N. SAWYER,
E. F. SAWYER,
W. J. BROUGHTON,
Committee.

DOG NOT RABID

Dr. Zenas Fearing is in receipt of a letter from Dr. Shore of Raleigh stating that the head of the dog which bit Master James Fearing last Saturday had been examined microscopically to determine if the dog was afflicted with rabies, and that the examination showed no signs of that disease.

In Dr. Shore's opinion the dog was not afflicted and there is no danger of inoculation of hydrophobia, but to be sure Dr. Shore make the inoculation test and will report to Dr. Fearing the result as soon as it can be learned.

HATTERAS NEWS VIOLATING THE FOOD LAWS

Hatteras, N. C., April 11th 1910.—Mr. A. J. Stowe and Mr. W. H. Rollinson left Saturday on the schooner Georgia Gaskins for Elizabeth City, where they will purchase their spring stock of goods.

Rev. J. A. Martin, our pastor, leaves today for Plymouth to attend the session of the district conference which convenes Tuesday. Mrs. Martin will accompany him on the trip.

The sale of the material saved by Capt. B. F. Stowe from the wrecked steamship Arroyo at Portsmouth took place last Wednesday. The bidding on the different articles was spirited and interesting and good prices were realized on all material sold. The account of sales amounted to $700. The principal portion of the material was purchased by Mr. W. H. Gaskins, Capt. J. B. Wheaton, of Norfolk.

Capt. Gard of the life saving boat Carolina, came down this week and brought a new power boat for use at the Creeds Hill life saving station. This boat will be used in making trips out to the diamond shoals in cases of shipwreck, and will be of incalculable service to the life savers in making such trips in heavy weather.

Mr. E. L. Styron, of Baltimore, formerly of Hatteras, who is chief engineer on light ship No. 45 in the Chesapeake Bay, came down, with Mrs. Styron, on Saturday, and will spend some time with his parents here. Mrs. Styron, who has been seriously ill for a long time, and who has been under special treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore for the past year or more, is now much improved and it is hoped that her improvement will be continuous and rapid and that she will soon be restored to her usual health. She intends to remain at Hatteras for several months. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Styron are all delighted to welcome them again, and are all specially rejoiced to see Mrs. Styron so much improved in health.

Mrs. W. H. Styron left for Southport, via Ocracoke and Beaufort, today, where she will spend some months visiting her parents there.

Mr. D. L. Ballance left for Elizabeth City Saturday with Captain B. F. Stowe, in the schooner Alma White, where he will purchase his spring stock of goods.

Mr. E. E. Burrus, the clever and popular agent of the Feuerstein Line at Hatteras, left for Elizabeth City on Saturday, where he will purchase his spring stock of goods.

Mr. Monroe Austin of the Diamond shoals light ship, who has been home for the past month or so on leave, will start for Portsmouth, Va., tomorrow to join his ship, after which she will leave for her usual post on the shoals.

The Rev. and Mrs. Will Graham who have been spending some days at Buxton and Avon, returned home this week. Mr. Graham is the popular pastor of the M. E. church here.
