WILL PILE UP BIG MAJORITY

The Radical party, Butler and Butlerism Will be "Snowed Under" So Deep That In Will Take a Thousand Years For It to Thaw Out..

It's an assured fact that Pasquotank County will, on the 8th of November pile up the usual big Democratic majority for its conceded that the Republicans have no show of cutting any figure at the polls.

Yet, it is well enough to the Democrats to see to it that the majority is made larger than ever before, by having every Democrat in the county to turn out and visit the polls and cast a vote. Republicanism should not receive any hopes of ever being successful in electing any part of a ticket in this county. The slightest decrease in the Democratic majority instantly revives such a hope. North Carolina does not need the Republican party and certainly not with Marion Butler in charge of that party. The history of the party when it was in power has been one of misrule, riot and bloodshed and the party has not made much improvement in ability, stability and respect ability. Let the Democrats turn out on election day and snow under Butlerism so deep that a thousand years of continuous summer will not thaw it out.

MR. SWERTZ GONE NORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Swertz left Wednesday for their home in New York after having spent the season here. Mr. Swertz was horse trainer at the Albe marle Park and has been for two seasons.

He is an excellent trainer of horses and he has done more in the past two seasons to develop and improve the standard of horses in this section than has been done in years before. He is very popular with the sportsmen and the people in general and he will very likely return next season.

BEAUTIFUL BRIDE OF A PROMINENT CLERGYMAN

One of the prettiest weddings to occur here was solemnized Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock in Canns Memorial church (Presbyterian) in which Miss Helen Sheep, the cultured and talented daughter of Prof. and Mrs. S. L. Sheep became the bride of Rev. Frank Morton Hawley of Mebane, N. C.

The church was beautifully decorated in flowers and potted plants and present a scene of rare loveliness which harmonized with so joyous an occasion.

Just before the ceremony, Miss Hat tie Harney sang with surpassing sweetness of voice a solo, entitled, "Because God made you mine" Mrs. George W. Ward presided at the organ and rendered the wedding marches in an artistic manner.

The bride beautifully costumed in white Crepe Metier trimmed in Princess lace and pearls with bridal veil caught with lillies of the valley and carry a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley and brides roses, entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her away in marriage.

Miss Pauline Sheep, a sister of the bride dressed in crepe de chene, wearing a picture hat and carrying yellow chrysanthemums was the maid of honor. William Cobert of Mebane was the best man and Messrs Harry Sheep and Frank V. Scott were the ushers. Rev. Mr. Searight of Washington, N. C. performed the ceremony in a very impressive manner. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the brides parents in Main street where a breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawley left on the afternoon train for a wedding trip and they will be at home in Mebane about the 15th of November. A large collection of costly bridal presents attests to the popularity of the bride who is one of the most beautiful young ladies in Eastern North Carolina.

Rev. Mr. Hawley is a prominent Presbyterian clergyman and was a former pastor in this city.

BETSY'S SON ABROAD.
There is one man, however, who is a candidate for governor and don't know it. His name has been mentioned a great many times among those who are wont to discuss such things. And yet I doubt if the matter has ever been suggested to him, and were it suggested I have an idea how he would take it.

King County has gotten to the point where it is no longer a question of what she is entitled to, but rather of what she can get. She wants a lot of things. She wants a governor and a United States senator, and—oh, well think, of anything and that is what, King county wants. We have had in the past few years a lot of men who have seen the hand writing on the wall, and have considered themselves chosen to rule over the destinies of the state. But somehow the most of them have failed to connect.

It is now suggested that we elect R. B. Albertson governor and that we later make him senator.

I have heard worse suggestions than this.—The Seattle Argus.

Where Did You Stand in 1910?
Nineteen hundred and ten will be remembered in North Carolina politics.

It will be remembered as the year when the republican party tried to bring Marion Butler into power in North Carolina.

It will be remembered as the year in which the people of North Carolina taught the republican party that that was one thing they would not stand for.

It is a pivotal year.

The question is, shall the work of 1898 be undone? Shall we confess that Butler was right then—right in his advocacy of negro domination, right in his opposition to the disfranchisement of the negro right in taking a fee from the Schafer Brothers while senator, to enforce the collection of the bonds, that the state had long ago settled—shall we confess in 1910 that he was right in 1896, 1898 and 1900—and give him a vindication?

Or shall we overwhelm him and his party with a majority like that of 1898?

One of these days your neighbors will be asking:

Where did you stand in 1910? Were you in your place in the Democratic army, fighting for victory? Or—did you falter? Were you running with booters, independents, near republicans, trying to weaken the democratic party in this pivotal year? Were you standing by your colors, or did you show the yellow streak?

When all the country was rising up to rebuke republicanism and Butlerism in 1910, where were you? When the democratic party was nearer to triumph than it had been in twenty years, where were you? When democratic principles needed every voter possible. Where were you.

It is a serious question, North Carolina, that you will answer November 8, 1910.

History will be made that day.

ADVANCE PRESS NOTICE DURNO.
Durno the Mysterious is booked to appear at the High School Auditorium on November 11th. Those who have never seen this master of magic should not fail to attend this performance and those who may have enjoyed Durno on other occasions will be most pleased at this announcement. He will have lots of new tricks and illusions that are truly wonderful. He is a man of exceptional dexterity with his hands and his deception is perfect not because his brain is more skillful than his spectators but because of the lightening like rapidity of his movements. He is quicker than the perception of sight.

An entertaining feature will be Metamorphose, a clever conceit which shows the dematerialization of human bodies. It is marvelous and fascinating.

Durno is also a humorist and will make you laugh in spite of yourself. This seems to be a part of the spell which he casts over the audience. He is also a ventriloquist and will give some clever and mirthful exhibitions of this art. Durno will have with him several assistants who will add to the entertainment with songs impersonations music and monologues—all full of wit and humor.

TAKES UP FIRE INSURANCE.
Jas. G. Fearing who has been in the retail grocery business for several years, is closing his grocery business which is located in Main street and he will devote his entire time to the fire insurance business. He will be actively engaged with B. H. Fearing & Co. of which firm he is a member.

Saves An Iowa Man's Life.
The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured me. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at Standard Pharmacy.
