Rev. E. A. Paul held a very successful meeting here last week. We wish to commend him for his excellent work here.

It seemed that the longer he preached, the better the sermons were notwithstanding the first was not bad by any means.

The meeting closed last Sunday with a good many conversions during the week and several additions to this church in membership.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va.

How She Got Him.

In St. Louis the other day a girl expressed disbelief to her sweetheart that astronomers could possibly calculate the hour and minute of an eclipse of the sun.

Don't Mow the Roadside Flowers.

J. Horace McFarland, President of the American Civic Association, writes in The Country Calendar for July:

"I am aware that in the prodigality of nature there will be, in time, an encroachment of growth upon the road space, and that in the pinched narrowness of our highways this may need to be restrained.

The result of this ruthless mowing of the roadsides is always to kill the more delicate and beautiful of the shrubs and flowers, and by thus disturbing nature's balance, to encourage the growth of the vigorous but really unpleasant weeds which otherwise would be in the minority.

For instance, along one road with which I am familiar, the goldenrods, asters and the like have been destroyed, but each season there springs up a plentiful growth of dock, sand-bur and other unpleasant weeds.

In another case, the naturally pleasing combination of several viburnums, huckleberries and a dozen herbaceous plants has been 'improved' until now the road is bordered only by briars of black-berry, which, while they do give one a burst of flowers and fruit, are not by any means satisfactory.

"I talked with one of these supervisors who was thus 'improving' a road in central Pennsylvania, and found that he supposed it necessary to cut out the growth in order, as he expressed it, to cause the road to 'dry out.'

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy.

Even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough.

whose editor, William Allen White, is well known to every reader of contemporary periodical literature: "Between the magazines that are using the lever of their circulation to pry up the world, and those which have nothing of current interest later than 1812, there lies a fine pathway for some Magazines, for people who are now on earth who are not excited about the proximity of the demitison bow wows to the orbit of this sad old earth and in that path Scribner's Magazine seems to be walking in solitary state.

Its fiction is particularly sane and wholesome. It lacks the Miss Nancy pucker of the fiction of the magazines of prunes and prisms, and holds the vigor of the fiction of the more strenuous magazines without the slightest rawness. Scribner's is a great and good magazine, and should be in every American home."
