TUESDAY, December 19, 1905.

Why not make your friend a Christmas present of a year's subscription to The Robesonian.

We want a live correspondent at every town and village in Robeson county and will be glad to correspond with anyone who can take up the work.

The Democrats may "wash their linea in public," but they certainly make no bigger or more disgusting display than the Republicans of the Western district of North Carolina in their unholy scramble over Federal patronage.

From recent contributions to campaign funds it is stated that the Republican National Committee has a large surplus on hand. They might pay back to the policy holders a part of the money contributed by the big insurance companies.

The Raleigh Times says, "There is much feeling at Lumberton over the inexcusable act of a sheriff's deputy, who shot and killed a negro prisoner while the latter was trying to make good his escape." This is followed by a lengthy discussion of the affair. If there is any great amount of feeling over the matter here we have not learned of it.

The death of Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, brings a feeling of peculiar sadness to the hearts of those who are in any wise sentimental. At the time of his death he was still a member of the nation's chief law making body, though serving a sentence imposed upon him by the courts. The Senate took no notice of his death, the first instance of the kind in the history of the body. It does seem that the Senate should expell its members, if it is not going to extend them the usual courtesies.

Two bills recently introduced in Congress are of especial interest to North Carolinians. One provides for the making of Guilford battle-ground a national park. The other makes similar provision for the spot on which was fought the battle of Moore's Creek bridge. The Guilford battle ground is the only battlefield of the Revolution preserved in its entirety. This has been made possible by some of Greensboro's patriotic citizens. The battle of Moore's Creek was one of the first of the war. Both battlefields ought to be preserved and to be made Meccas for patriotic Americans.
