THE DOCKERY-ROGERS CASE.

Judgement Pronounced Against the Ex-Policeman of $50 and Costs.

Raleigh, N. C., January 18.—The legal aspect of the sensational shooting of John C. Dockery by Policeman Isaac W. Rogers, in Raleigh last June, came to an end this afternoon in Wake county superior court, Judge G. W. Ward pronouncing judgment of $50 and costs. The original bill of indictment was amended to secret assault in July before a magistrate and Rogers was released on $5,000 bail. The case was called this morning and deferred till the afternoon.

Counsel for Dockery addressed the court pleading in the name of the plaintiff. He stated that Dockery was sure Rogers had been misinformed, and labored under delusion. It was not a matter of money, but by advice of his father, family and friends, he was satisfied Rogers had no malice outside of this to him. The plaintiff had suffered greatly and was a better man in every sense, and he prayed the court not to inflict the punishment, as Rogers had acted as any father under like circumstances. The plaintiff decided this after a long and serious reflection. Judge Ward asked the wish of the solicitor, who stated that such a settlement would be satisfactory; that any punishment the court imposed would satisfy the state. The Judge said he could not dispose of the matter without punishment, but not a humiliating one. He also stated he was glad the two had reached an agreement in the matter.

Sickening Shivering Fits

of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of the drug's bad after effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and audice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At all druggists; price 50c, guaranteed."

How to Avoid Pneumonia.

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop, of Anew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." For Sale by McMillan's Drug Store Lumberton, & H. B. MIDSHIPMAN FOUND GUILTY.

Cases Against Marzoni and Foster Awaiting Action of the Secretary of the Navy.

Annapolis, Md., January 18.—There is good reason for the belief that Midshipman Worthy Foster, of New Albany, Ind., and Peter- sen B. Marzoni, of Ponsicola, Fla., have been found guilty of hazing. It is officially stated that the cases are awaiting the action of the secretary of the navy. This is considered to be equivalent to saying that a verdict of guilty was rendered.

Both of the midshipmen belong to the first class, and would have graduated on February 12. They are regarded as good students in general, and each had a specialty. Foster devised an improvement in the form of the war nose used on torpedoes, and Marzoni is considered the best linguist in the class.

Midshipman Warren A. Vanderver, of Mount Holly, N. J., who has been under suspicion of having protected the midshipman who was hazing Jordon P. Kimbrough, while Vanderver was on duty, has been released from arrest and restored to duty.

Where He Was "Fooled."

A small but belligerent dog was left in charge of a buggy while his master attended to some business in a neighboring store. A large brindle complexioned cur happened along that way, and seeing nothing about the buggy to guard it except the small dog, concluded to help himself to some provisions he saw in the vehicle, supposing that his size would bluff the guard. To his surprise the small dog did not bluff worth a cent, but, on the contrary, made a running jump, climbed all over the brindle cur and bit him in four different places within three seconds by the watch. It was a great surprise party to the brindle cur, and, filling the surrounding atmosphere with howls of pain, he lit out down the street. As the small dog quietly lay down again under the buggy he remarked softly to himself: "I have noticed during my association with both dogs and men, that nerve and activity count for a blazed sight more than size and hair."—Valley (Tex.) Farmer.

Depends Upon the Farmers.

The subject of good roads bobs up at all seasons of the year in this country and demands discussion. It is a fact that the farmers, who are the chief beneficiaries of good country roads, are not yet fully awake to the importance of improvement, and until they are ready to act the problem will not be solved.

New York has the best country roads of any state in the union, and its farmers are demanding still better ones. Such good roads as the state now has, have resulted in adding many millions to the wealth of the agricultural community, and there is no stopping the public clamor for still more improvement.

Such improvement is certain because the farmers are in favor of it. The farmers of any other state can have just as much influence as those of New York, and when they see fit to exercise their influence, in this direction the result will be a benefit to every citizen, and particularly to the farmers themselves.

How to Stop Hazing.

It was The Charlotte Observer that advocated the use of the pistol as a defense against hazing, and the idea seems to be endorsed. In an editorial article, the Washington Post tells of how a long suffering little fellow at length drew his barlow knife and plunged it into the thigh of his tormentor and was never afterward troubled. The Post says that the "moral is that the lower class men can easily protect themselves if only they have the nerve to do it. They have to consider but one fact—that the hazer is a coward and a brute, and to gaff him at the earliest opportunity. One flash of a good, reliable knife; one well directed shot from an able-bodied revolver; one act in a word, of really competent resistance, and the day of the ruffian and bully is over."—Charlotte Chronicle.

ROYAL TONIC.

Beats Anything We Ever Sold as a Strength-Creator and Body Builder.

Our well-known druggist, Dr. J. D. McMillan, is very enthusiastic over the delicious cod liver oil preparation, which contains no oil. In referring to the matter, said Dr. McMillan, "We sell many tonics, and we handle all kinds of remedies that claim to be invigorators and strength-creators. We do this because we are druggists and it is our business to supply the public with what they want. When our advice is asked, however, in regard to a tonic, body-builder or strength-creator, we invariably recommend Vinol, as we know of nothing that can compare with it."

In Vinol modern science has given us all of the tonic, body-building and curative properties of that famous old remedy cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, without a drop of the obnoxious and system-clogging grease which characterizes old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, and which has proved such a drawback.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, as the label on each bottle tells everything it contains, therefore you know exactly what you are taking. In the most natural manner it tones up the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body to do its work as nature intended.

Our faith in Vinol is so strong that we gladly offer to refund the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction." Dr. J. D. McMillan, Druggist.

What he Had Read.

A story is going the rounds in the court house of an Irishman who recently went before Judge Stephens to be naturalized.

"Have you read the Declaration of Independence?" the Court asked.

"I hav not," said Pat. "Have you read the Constitution of the United States?"

"I hav not, your Honor." Judge Stephens looked sternly at the applicant and asked:

"Well, what have you read?" Patrick hesitated, but the fraction of a second before replying.

"I haved hairs on me neck, yer Honor."—Fraternal Voice.

A $5 Bill Now Worth $2,560.

L. C. St. John, of this city, has a curiosity in his possession in the shape of a five-dollar bill which is 125 years old. He has just gained possession of it, although it was left to him by his mother, who died some 12 years ago. This bill was given to her when a child by a relative.

It was issued under the act of July 2, 1770, by the State of Rhode Island, drawing 5 per cent interest per annum and signed by John Arnold. Figuring compound interest it now worth $2,560.

It is the intention of Mr. St. John to communicate with the authorities at Washington and ascertain if the State of Rhode Island will redeem the bill.—Indianapolis Star.
