Rheumacide

REMOVES THE CAUSE OF THE PAIN.

Quincy, Mass., July 18, 1905. Dear Sir: I was laid up last November with Rheumatism in my feet and ankles, but after taking four bottles of Rheumacide I have not been bothered since. I tried every old kind of liniment and was under two doctors, and all I tried had the same result, until I got Rheumacide. Now I am pleased to say it has not been necessary for me to take any medicine for Rheumatism since February last. Everybody that I recommended it to has had the same results. Yours very truly, P. RANAGAN, Manager, Quincy Industrial Co-operative Society.

Not in the Ritual.

St. James' Church in Washington is very "high" indeed, and provides incense, sacred bells and altar lights to assist the devotions of the congregation. A procession was passing around the nave of the church singing a processional hymn, preceded by acolytes swinging censers and carrying lighted candles. Dr. James S. Clark noticed the censer growing weaker, and not wishing to interrupt the processional stepped up to the thurifer and sang in the plain song harmony: "Where, oh, where is the incense pot?"

Whereat the boy, forgetting everything but his burnt fingers, sang back lustily. "Left it in the vestry—too damned hot!"

Father Clark retorted.

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of the gripple is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by Dr. J. D. McMillan.

Denmark Claims Nelson.

The Danes maintain that Admiral Nelson was one of their race, despite the fact that he was born in England. They point out that the name is Danish and that many Danes were settlers in East Anglia. They could not themselves over their defeat at the battle of Copenhagen with the thought that the victory was one of their own race. At least one Scandinavian historian refers to his family as "one of the most brilliant examples of noble English families descended from the Northmen."

There is probably nothing more annoying than to have to spend a lot of time preparing for an emergency that failed to emerge.

She Didn't Put it Out.

An odd boy of his flock once called up a Dr. Gill with a grievance. The doctor's neckbands were to long for her ideas of ministerial humility, and after a long harangue on the sin of pride she intimated that she has brought a pair of scissors with her and would be pleased if her dear pastor would permit her notions of propriety. The doctor not only listened patiently, but handed over the offending white bands to be operated upon. When she had cut them to her satisfaction and returned the bits it was the doctor's turn. "Now," said he, "you must do me a good turn also."

"Yes, that I will, doctor. What can it be?"

"Well, you have something about you which is a deal too long and which causes me no end of trouble, and I should like to see it shorter."

"Indeed, dear sir, I will not hesitate. What is it? Here are the scissors; use them as you please."

"Can't you," said the study divine, "good sister, put out your tongue?"—London Mail.

The Original.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. For sale by McMillan's, & H. B. Ward, Rowland, N. C.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Either a woman doesn't trust her husband or wishes she could. It's queer, but it's always the fat woman in a crowded car that has the most bundles.

A girl thinks heaven is something like a matinee and a woman that it's like a nurse.

The less sense a man has the bigger bluff his wife puts up that she thinks he is a great man. A man can never understand why a woman, after they are married wants to sit so close; and she why he doesn't want to.

Warren and Jefferson.

Joseph Jefferson was playing Sheridan's comedy of "The Rivals" in Boston on one occasion many years ago. His version of the play had been arranged in such a way as to give Bob Acres considerably more prominence perhaps than the author originally intended, occasionally at the expense of the other characters. William Warren, the old comedian, sat the play out and at its conclusion was asked, "How do you like Jefferson's Bob Acres?"

"Capital, capital," replied Warren, "and Sheridan twenty miles away."

A Liquid Cold Cure.

Parentetical Remarks.

A well known Indiana man One dark night last week, Went to the cellar with a match In search of a gas leak.

(He found it.)

John Welch by curiosity (Dispatches state) was goaded: He quipped in his old shotgun To see if it was loaded.

(It was.)

A man in Macon stopped to watch A pitiful cigar clipper: He wondered if his finger was Not quicker than the nipper.

(It wasn't.)

A Maine man read that human eyes O'hy notism were full: He went to see if it would work Upon an angry bull.

(It wouldn't.)

Cured his Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided that it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Dr. H. T. Pope & Co., & Dr. G. Rozier.

DISASTER IN MINE.

Eighteen Men Believed to Have Been Killed. Rescue Work Difficult.

News of the awful disaster quickly spread to nearby mines, and hundreds of men were soon at the scene, eager to join in the effort to rescue the entombed miners, if they, or recover their bodies if dead. The ventilating fan was down out of position by the explosion and it was not until four o'clock this afternoon that it had been repaired and put back in its place. As soon as it was set in motion a fairly good current of air was sent circulating through the entries.

The first rescue party consisting of 15 men, entered the mine at 7:30 o'clock. The work of replacing the fallen brattices, and removing the debris which obstructed their progress was slow. The first body reached was that of G. P. Neal, which was discovered 150 yards from the entrance. The mine superintendent says that the other men were working much further back than Neal, and he has no hope of reaching them until tomorrow morning. Even though the men survived the explosion, it is almost certain that they will fall victims to the deadly after damp.

Mothers, wives, children and friends of the entombed miners crowd about the mouth of the pit and declare they will not leave until they know the fate of their loved ones. The cause of the explosion is not yet fully determined, but it is believed that a blast ignited the dust which accumulates in the mines. The Detroit and Kanawha Coal Company sold its holdings a few days ago to a syndicate consisting of the Mucklow Brothers, of this city; W. D. Barry, of Scranton, Pa., and other Pennsylvania capitalists, who purchased ten mines on Paint Creek and incorporated the Paint Creek Colliers Company to operate them. The transfer of the properties was made last Monday, and a few days before the transfer the mines were examined by the mine inspector, who reported that it was in good condition.
