Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Success in Life.

In a recent lecture to the students of Aberdeen University on "The Basis of Success," Sir Frederick Treves, the eminent surgeon, denied at the outset that success in life depends largely on money, social position, influence, luck, or genius. Ample or even moderate means at the career is a hindrance to independent progress. It is often said that a man with money is better able to devote his energies to original research, in as much he spared the unproductive drudgery involved in earning his daily bread. But that drudgery is not unproductive. As a matter of fact, the leisure of a man of means is devoted, as a rule, not to original research, but to golf or fly fishing. In the medical profession unarm-ed money counts for nothing in the struggle to excel. "If it is hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of Heaven, it is," said the lecturer, "still harder for a man so burdened to enter with advantage upon the career of medicine. In like manner, neither influence nor an initial social position is to be reckoned as conducive to real success. It is a common plea faint-hearted that success depends mainly on luck. I am no believer in luck, and the man who is content to wait for a stroke of good fortune would probably wait until he had a stroke of paralysis. Luck in any serious profession means nothing more than the man to whom it comes is ready for an opportunity when it presents itself. Most sagacious of all is the contention that success in a profession needs genius. Genius in its crude or native state is not wanted in the profession of medicine, nor could it be said to be a marked attribute of those who have raised themselves to the higher position in that calling. The marvelous achievements of Harvey, Hunter and Lister were not the outcome of any brilliant flash of genius nor of any inspiration which was denied to less fortunate mortals, but were the product of slow, dogged persistent work. Genius in a physician would be apt to give us flippancy, instantaneous diagnoses, the detection of disease by instinct, and other astounding phenomena which one attributes rather to the charlatan. In like manner, brilliancy in a surgeon is a quality from the possession of which he might well pray to be saved. In the days before anaesthetics the chief qualification of the operator was rapidity. Success in surgery is measured now, not by the duration of the operation, but by the duration of the recovery from it." What is really needed for success, it was held, is health, serviceable knowledge, sympathy, industry and honesty. Only a strong man can bear the burden of a really busy professional life.—Baltimore Sun.

Well Worth Trying.

Farms Awaiting the Farmer.

All over the country there are farms crying for tilling, and there are few responses. The lure of the city has absorbed thousands of the best young people of the agricultural district. If no plan is found for keeping young men and women on the farms, then a large scheme of emptying the cities of their poor and helpless should be evolved. It is one of the incomprehensible phases of the situation that, no matter how poor and suffering the average family of the city slums may be, it prefers to suffer the miseries of the tenements rather than go out into the country where healthful employment awaits all, and where the pure air will revive debilitated bodies and the sunshine win back the feeble tides of life.—Kansas City Journal.

Anyway, the Ohio man who was buncoed at the age of eighty-five live to enjoy a green old age.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousand of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lungs troubles." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

It's a wise mining stock that knows its own par.

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of lagrippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by Dr. J. D. McMillan

Ask Your Own Doctor

If he tells you to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your severe cough or bronchial trouble, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that. But we know what he will say; for doctors have used this cough medicine over 60 years.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for hard colds, bad coughs, and influenza. It has done me great good, and I believe it is the best cough medicine in the world for all throat and lung troubles."—ELI C. STUART, Albany, Oregon.

Keep the bowels open with one of Ayer's Pills at bedtime, just one.

Japan's Little Bill to Korea.

The Koreans seems to be a suspicious people. They think their Japanese friends are full of guile. Says the Korea Daily News: "Once upon a time Korea had a man-of-war. She was a collier, painted white. She was at the outbreak of hostilities taken by the Japanese as a collier again. We have reason to believe that she is at the present time resting under some twenty fathoms of deep blue sea. The Japanese minister now has the effrontery to send the Korean government a bill for the maintenance of this phantom ship." The sphere of influence is not without its humorous side to the in fluence.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyppepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach, belching, etc Sold by The Pope Drug Co.
