OPEN LETTER

To Mr. A. J. McKinnon Concerning "Bull of Woods" Fertilizer.

A. J. McKinnon, Treas. Southern Exchange Co., Maxton, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I used 50 bags of your Guano, Bull of Woods, and am bound to say I got better results from it than any Guano I ever used. I used it for Potatoes and Cotton. I have the best crop on my place this year I have had in 20 years. My neighbors readily tell me this and ask me why it is, and I tell them I can't see any other reason only I find I used the best Guano I ever used before, so I advise everybody that want to make a good crop to use Bull of the Woods Guano.

Yours truly,
J. H. WILKINS.

The Seckel Pear.

In the long list of pears collected from all parts of the country and from Europe during the nineteenth century, none excel the Seckel in quality and hardly any come up to it. It is an American variety, which originated accidentally near Philadelphia. It has been known for nearly or quite 150 years.

Without being a rampant grower, the tree may be said to be fairly vigorous, and as for hardness there is none which excels it, and no other pear tree is so free from blight.

It was sent to London Horticultural Society early in the past century by William Cox, the author of the first extended American work on fruits, and as an appreciation of its excellence it is understood that he was elected to membership in the renowned society, the first of his countrymen who enjoyed the distinction. The original tree was living a few years ago, a nice engraving of it being bound up in one of the annual reports of the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture.

Though it cannot be called tardy, it does not begin to bear fruit as early as some, but it is very good and regular bearer. It has two drawbacks, however. The color is a dull brownish green, becoming brighter in the sun; not attractive in the open market, only to the knowing ones, and the size is rather small.

The first is by no means serious, and the second can be remedied in good measure. The small size is partly the result of its habit of bearing in clusters of two or three. Thinning each of these clusters to one early in the season not only improves the size but also removes the danger of injury by certain insects, so common where fruits are borne in clusters.

One peculiarity of the Seckel was brought to notice by Gabriel Sleath, one of the early members of the Cincinnati Horticultural Society—it grows well on the apple. It is best, however, to graft it on the extreme top of the tree, allowing the lower apple branches to remain, but keeping them in check. Persons who find enjoyment in grafting will be interested in trying this in spring.

G' B. Burhans testifies after four years

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe Kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of Kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from Kidney or bladder trouble." ## An Easy Way.

The Rev. Dr. Adams of Maine is noted for his sentimentousness both in and out of the pulpit. As he was coming down a Boston street one day a man asked him, "Sir, can you tell me how to find the sheriff's office?" "Yes, sir," was the reply. "Every time you earn $5 spend $50." Saying this, the doctor walked on, leaving his questioner gaping upon the sidewalk.

For an Impaired Appetite.

Loss of appetite always results from faulty digestion. All that is needed is a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will invigorate the stomach, strengthen the digestion and give you an appetite like a wolf. These Tablets also act as a gentle laxative. For sale by Dr. H. T. Pope & Co. Dr. R. G. Rozier and H. B. Ward.

Stuck to His Programme.

Mr. Bodawitz, of Admore, I. T., a prosperous merchant, will have his name preserved in the pages of history as the only person who has ever declined to meet the President of the United States when it was the easy and natural thing to do. Mr. Bodawitz went to Washington to file charges against an applicant for a Federal job. He succeeded in knocking out his man while calling at the White House Secretary Loeb asked him if he would not like to see the President. Mr. Bodawitz looked at his watch and replied: "It is now 12 o'clock and I have an appointment over at the Arlington in three minutes." "Couldn't you drop around in the morning?" asked Secretary Loeb, when he caught his breath. "No," replied Mr. Bodawitz, "I am going down Mount Vernon in the morning and will take 3 o'clock train for the West."

Mr. Bodawitz simply did not have any curiosity to see the President and no reason to believe that the President wanted to see him.—Philadelphia Record.

A Chicago Alderman Owes Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Dr. H. T. Pope & Co. Dr. R. G. Rozier, and H. B. Ward.

Disraeli's Thrust.

The giving to the English premier of social precedence over the nobility is a recognition of the prime minister's power. Apropos of this, Disraeli, after a banquet at which a number of titled persons preceded the premier from the dining room, took the arm of his neighbor and, pointing to the backs of retreating dukes and marquises, said pithily, "Next week I shall be making some of those."

Physicians say that no exercise is as healthful as walking. This may be true, but it is poor consolation to the man who can't afford an automobile.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bed time when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe. Sold by Dr. H. T. Pope.

Bible Names for Nags.

"Speaking of peculiar names for animals," said a traveling man in the Louisville Courier Journal, "I know a man who owns no fewer than 25 teams in connection with a large farm in the Blue Grass section, and he has 50 horses. He tries to name them all after prominent characters in the Bible. Several were mares, and with a second crop of colts he found himself in dire straits. "He was not a church goer—in fact, I don't suppose he ever saw the inside of a church—and his knowledge of Biblical names were a trifle limited. With his second crop of colts, he turned to Shakespeare for his names. Finally he sold several horses, but he still retains his 25 teams, and the neighbors have great sport over the curious combination of names.

"Ed," I heard him saying to his hired man one morning, I wish you would hitch up Moses with King Lear, and lead Nebuchadnezzar down for a new pair of shoes. Coming back, take Falstaff out in the lower pasture; he is getting pretty thin. And before you go you might give King Solomon a feed.' At time he has Hamlet plodding along dusty roads beside Adam. Eve is often harnessed with Henry VIII. His neighbors have never been able to learn how to keep all the names straight, but he evidently succeeds."

The best way to rid the system of a cold is to evacuate the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar acts as a pleasant, yet effectual cathartic on the bowels. It clears the head, cuts bronchial tubes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Sold by Dr. H. T. Pope.

In its way the gold cure may be all right, but a man seldom feels the need of the cure until his gold is all gone.

The Southern Life Insurance Co.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

The Southern Life Insurance Company is selling the most Attractive Policies ever offered by a Southern Company at the old time prices used by the giant companies of the North in building up their business, and upon which they paid larger dividends than they now pay on their present higher premiums.

It is an indisputable fact that all old line companies have earned larger dividends in the first twenty-five years of their existence than they have been able to earn afterwards. Hence, the wise man will take his policy in the young progressive "Southern Life," which is not only one of the strongest progressive companies, but the most economically managed.
