PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS.

From Durham Herald.

A Mr. Jackson has been appointed postmaster at Hendersonville which is another victory for somebody.

There is perhaps no doubt but that it was Mme. Bernhardt's farewell performance in Asheville and Salisbury.

The political rings might put up better men for office if they knew you would refuse to vote for the other kind.

If it does not pan out as Mr. Jordan predicted he can at least claim that farmers did not act upon his advice.

It is perhaps a fact that the putting of some republicans in jail is the only way to keep them from scrambling for office.

If temperance was making as rapid progress as is prohibition the whiskey business would be on the run sure enough.

Mr. Hearst wants to be governor of New York, but this can be explained by the fact that there is nothing else to run for just now.

And suppose the governor does spend a good portion of his time out of his office—it will not hurt those who want pardons to wait.

Mr. Jerome is suing Mr. Hearst's New York papers for libel which, of course, causes many to wonder what they said about him.

The republican who can get an office in this state just now and have nothing said about it is entirely too good for this world.

It appears that about everybody in this section of the State knew that Dr. Matthews was crazy, and yet he was allowed to run at large and practice medicine.

We are surprised to learn that the democrats are abusing the republicans. We thought they were standing by and enjoying the abuse the republicans were heaping upon each other.

Most towns wink at the houses of ill fame, claiming that they are a necessary evil, but if this is the case why not be honest about it and repeal all laws aimed at their suppression.

Two New Lawyers For Durham.

Durham, March 20.—Two new lawyers were today given the oath and permitted to practice in this State. These young men are both from the University and came here as a matter of convenience. They are: Mr. Norman Alexander Townsend, of Robeson county, and Mr. Thomas William Simmons, of Sampson county. They received their license at the last sitting of the Supreme court and are now studying for a degree in law at the State University. In receiving the oath as lawyers Mr. J. Crawford Biggs, of this city, stood sponsor for them and administered the three oaths taken by each one.—Cor. Charlotte Observer.
