In ordering the address of the paper changed a subscriber should give the address to which it has been going, and the new address.
With the large circulation that it has, The Robesonian is a first-class advertising medium. Rates will be furnished promptly to prospective advertisers.
The paper wants to be fair to correspondents and will give them as much latitude as it can, but it is not responsible for the views of any correspondent. We require that a writer sign his name to a communication attacking some one else or an institution. In publishing articles where the name of the writer is not required to be published, we reserve the right, for good reasons, to give the name when asked for.

BETTER PASSENGER SERVICE.

We have, on one or two occasions already, called our readers' attention to the need of a double daily passenger service on the Atlantic Coast Line between Elrod and Fayetteville. A petition has been drawn with this change in view and will be presented to the State Corporation Commission.

The petition sets forth the great public necessity for the establishment of such service; that if it were done people from Fayetteville could spend the day in any point east of Pembroke on the Seaboard Air Line and return to Fayetteville the same night, whereas now it takes a day and two nights.

Messrs. McIntyre & Lawrence have left a copy of the petition at The Robesonian office and all who are interested in securing the better service can call here and sign the petition. It is desirable to get the matter ready as soon as the commission can hear it.

A young man of Wilmington insulted some ladies at Wrightsville Beach a few days ago while they were surf bathing. He was haled into court and sentenced to duty on the chain gang. It is said that several lawyers refused to appear in his behalf. If it had been in their power to keep him from receiving his just desert they deserve credit for refusing him their professional services.

John Willis, of Glasgow, Montana, an old-time friend of President Roosevelt, declined to dine with the latter at the White House table a few days ago because he had left his dress suit at home. He evidently had not seen the President's menu card or he would not have let a little thing like that stand in his way.

Much more about the meat and food we've been eating and the milk we've been drinking we'll need an appetizer to eat or drink anything.

Worse Still.

"I see," said an old student of Rutherford College who lives here, "that they say our friend, Prof. A. T. Abernethy, is crazy and they have sent him to an asylum. He may be crazy, but his marrying record began years ago, and the four wives that he is charged with having in the Northern cities where he was arrested as a bigamist, are not all of his accomplishments in this line. Years ago he married a young school girl who was sent to his father's school. The girl was very young and didn't want to marry him at all. But he declared that if she didn't he certainly would kill himself and his blood would be on her head. She still refused, and he got some bottles of laudanum and made a great show of taking the stuff, falling dead in a most tragic style out at the wood pile with the empty bottles beside him. The people came and applied all kinds of restoratives and after hard work brought him to, for the scamp hadn't taken a drop of it. But the young girl was thoroughly frightened and became convinced that she would have to marry the young professor in order to keep him in the world or be responsible for his death. They were married, but parted in a few weeks. This wife seems not to have been taken in the same way. Abernethy was arrested in Philadelphia."

THE PURE FOOD BILL.

Senate and House Conferees Agree on One-Misdemeanor to Manufacture Adulterated or Misbranded Articles.

Washington Dispatch, 27th.

The pure food bill was agreed upon by the conferees for the Senate and House today and was reported to the Senate just before adjournment.

The bill makes it a misdemeanor for any person, to manufacture, sell or offer for sale any article of food, drugs, medicines or liquors; which is adulterated or misbranded, or which contains any poisonous or deleterious substance. It prescribes for each offense a fine not to exceed $500, one year's imprisonment, or both, within the discretion of the court, and for each subsequent offense a fine not less than $1,000 or one year's imprisonment.

Section 2 prohibits the introduction or shipment of any article adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the act under penalty of not exceeding a fine of $200 for first offense and $500, or one year's imprisonment, or both, for each subsequent offense. Concerning shipments to foreign countries, it is provided that no article shall be deemed misbranded or adulterated when no substance is used in conflict with the laws of the foreign country for which it is intended. This clause, however, does not exempt any person from prosecution if the article is offered for sale for domestic use or consumption.

Section 4 provides for examinations of foods and drugs in the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture. Owners are to be given hearing and if it is found any provision of that act has been violated, the Secretary of Agriculture is to certify the fact to the proper United States district attorney for action.

All the United States district attorneys are obligated to conduct prosecutions without delay for the enforcement of penalties.

The standards for drugs are those recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia, or national formulary. Confectionery is held adulterated if it contains any ingredient or coloring matter deleterious or detrimental to health. Foods are held adulterated if containing any substances reducing, lowering or injuriously affecting its quality or strength; when any substituted wholly or in part for the article; when any valuable constituent has been abstracted; when mixed, colored, powdered, coated, or stained to conceal damage or inferiority or any poisonous or deleterious ingredients added. The use of preservatives by external application is permitted when the directions for the removal of such preservatives are printed on the covering of the package. Food products are declared adulterated if in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substance or of any portion of an animal unfit for food, whether manufactured or not, or if the product of diseased animal or one that has died otherwise than by slaughter.

The term "misbranded" applies to foods or drugs whose package or label bears any statement, design or device false or misleading, or if falsely branded as to place where manufactured or produced. The term "blend" is construed to mean a mixture of like substance and does not exclude harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients. Dealers are protected against prosecution if they hold the guaranty of the concern from whom they purchased articles. The act is to take effect Jan. 1, next.

The Mother's Ward.

In the handsome nine thousand dollar infirmary now in process of erection at Wake Forest College one ward will be called the Mother's Ward. In it will be a beautiful metallic tablet bearing the names of one hundred mothers, each name representing a ten-dollar gift from husband, son or brother. The sentiment prompting these hundred generous givers strikes us as eminently beautiful for in no other channel does the mother heart find more fitting expression than in the tender ministry of the sick room.

And the son or friend of Wake Forest who puts a name on the tablet in the Mother's Ward is building a striking monument to a loved one to stand through all the coming years and at the same time rendering a distinct and timely service in the erection and equipment of this much-needed building. We commend this movement to all the sons and friends of Wake Forest among the fifty thousand readers of the News and Observer, and trust that the hundred names will be secured in a few days. The infirmary must be ready for use by the beginning of the next session.

To Secure Immigrants.

Baleigh Times, 26th.

Messrs. E. A. Smith and S. P. Sargeant, representing the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers Association, called on Governor Glenn this morning and requested that he issue a special commission to T. M. Costello as special immigration agent to go to England and secure immigrants suitable for employment in the cotton mills of the State.

The Governor readily granted the request, feeling as he said, that it was his duty to do whatever he could for the betterment of all the interests of the State.

Quite a party of immigrants have already been located with excellent results by Mr. Costello at Charlotte. There are other Charlotte mills and also mills at Fayetteville, Henrietta, Concord and various other places which are to receive colonies of the immigrants Mr. Costello proposes to bring into the State under the special commission just issued to him by the Governor.

Well, I Declare.

Greenboro Record.
It won't do to make fun of some of the sayings of the old darkey. One of them is that whatever the day of the week the first day of May falls on, the same day is Christmas. That is to say, if May 1st falls on Tuesday, Christmas day is Tuesday. A man who remembered being told this by an old darkey looked it up the other day by examining almanacs for fifty years back and found it was true. How many people ever thought of such a thing?

The congregation of the Baptist church at Dillon, S. C., has voted its pastor, Rev. F. O. S. Curtis, a two weeks' vacation, which he will spend at Jackson Springs.
