Maxton, N. C. Jan. 29, 1908. Canadians Want to Interest Mr J. A. Brown in Colonization

The following, taken from the issue of The Charlotte Observer of the 23d, will be of interest to Robesonian readers:

"Mr. J. A. Brown, whose home is at Chadbourn, and whose interest brought him to Charlotte to attend the sessions of the North Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Association, has achieved such marked success that the impress has been felt by the Canadian government with sufficient effectiveness to call forth a specific invitation or request for his presence in the affairs of the Dominion. "It would be the plan of the Canadian officials to have Mr. Brown direct a series of colonizations in that section of Southwest Canada contiguous to the lands of the Northwestern States.
