MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1908.

DONT'S.

A Few Things You Should Remember Not to Do.

- Don't offer to shake hands with a lady; the offer must come from her. Don't handle, unasked, the bric-a-brac about the room. Don't be in a hurry to get to a seat and don't fail to rise when a lady enters the room. Don't be distant; don't be effusive; be cordial. Don't stretch yourself anywhere except in your own apartment. Don't be fidgeting or balancing your chair. Don't introduce ladies to gentlemen, but gentlemen to ladies. Don't play or sing without being asked by your hostess. Don't always be touching people when addressing them. Don't talk in a loud, boisterous voice. Don't speak to anyone across the room; don't whisper in company. Don't boast of the big people you know to people who don't know them. Don't make fun of anyone only in the mildest form; better avoid it altogether. Don't tell stories of a doubtful character. Don't interrupt; don't contradict; don't be quarrelsome. Don't tell long stories even when asked to; avoid "chestnuts". Don't be inattentive when other people are talking. Don't moisten your thumb when dealing cards. Don't be noisy, either as a winner or a loser. Don't read a book or a newspaper in company. Don't keep looking at your watch as if bored; don't pretend to go and then stay; avoid prolonged good-byes. Don't stay too long anywhere. Don't keep other people waiting; be there on time. Don't lie back in your chair or place your elbows on the table. Don't seat yourself until all the ladies are seated. Don't sit sideways, but straight to the table. Don't use your napkin as a bib; let it fall across your lap. Don't bend your head for each mouthful; sit erect. Don't cut your bread, break it. Don't use your knife to carry food to your mouth. Don't make any noise with your mouth when eating. Don't speak with your mouth full or half full.

- Don't begin a sentence before you have finished swallowing. Don't use your fork as if it were a pitchfork. Don't introduce your spoon point first, but sideways, into your mouth. Don't use slangy words; they are vulgar. Don't use profane words; they are sinful. Don't drink a glassful at one gulp. Don't bring your glass higher than your lips, then incline it gradually. Don't have your elbows away from your body when eating or drinking. Don't spit a bone or other substance on your plate or floor. Don't use anything but your fork to bring or take away any solid food. Don't wipe your face with your napkin; it is only for the lips and hands. Don't forget to see that all the ladies are served before you. Don't neglect the ladies to your right and left. Don't look worried if any small accident should happen. Don't use toothpicks except behind your hand, and sparingly then. Don't leave your fork and knife in your plate when sent for second supply. Don't pile up the side dishes on your plate when it is to be removed. Don't go to the table half dressed, half washed, half combed. Don't leave the table before the others do. Don't over eat. Don't let one day pass without a thorough cleansing of your person. Don't sit to your evening meal before a complete toilet. Don't clean your nails in public. Don't use hair oil, dye or pomades. Don't wear evening dress in the day time. Don't wear jewelry of a gaudy character or not genuine. Don't over-dress yourself or walk affectedly. Don't wear slippers, dressing gown or smoking jacket outside of your own room. Don't stick your hands into your trouser pockets. Don't whistle in public places or inside houses, either. Don't use your fingers or fists

LECTURE AT ST. PAUL'S.

Mr. Grant to Deliver a Lecture on Scotland, his Native Country—Other News Items. On Friday evening, June 26, a lecture on Scotland will be given by Mr. Robert Grant in St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Mr. Grant is a student of Columbia Theological Seminary who, during his summer vacation, is with much acceptance assisting the pastor, Rev. Joseph Evans, in supplying the pulpit of St. Paul's church. Mr. Grant is a native of Scotland and speaks with an enviable Scotch accent in a voice remarkably rich and clear. He is an enthusiastic worker among both young and old. As a speaker, Mr. Grant is forceful and eloquent, always holding the attention of his audience from the moment he appears in the pulpit. He is original, up-to-date and a thinker, and those who come to this lecture may expect to hear something very different from anything they have ever before heard about the "Old Country." An interesting feature of the evening will be a choice selection of Scotch sacred songs by members of the choir. The admission fee is twenty-five cents. The entire proceeds are to be used for the cause of foreign missions. Quite a large crowd from St. Paul's attended the funeral of Mr. A. L. Shaw at Lumber Bridge on last Monday. Mr. Culbreth has recently moved into his new store on Main street. Mr. Troy King, who lives near Tolarsville, was here on business last Monday. "X." St. Paul's, N. C., June 16, 1908.

Mr. Jno. M. McNair for Register of Deeds—Men Suggested for Commissioners. The immortal Vance once said that "the horse that pulled the plow should eat the fodder." From the number of announcements I notice in your columns for register of deeds there are quite a number who are willing to be numbered with those who have pulled a ripe Democratic plow. Among them are several who are great many of the secular walks of life. Their friends are showing their peculiar fitness for the office and it's gratifying to know we have so many capable men. I see where Blue Springs Voter has expressed his preference for Mr. J. E. Purcell, giving, among other reasons, that he is a Confederate veteran. Now, as a greater part of our great county is composed of farmers, isn't it fair that they should have some representation? They make the fodder and ought to be allowed to eat. Among those who have announced themselves for register, I note Jno. M. McNair, of Blue Springs, a man fully capable as any who are aspiring to this office and he is a farmer, a countryman who desires to "go to town". Shall we who are farmers not help him? He and we alike have helped others to go to Lumberton, the majority of them, however, going from other towns. Now when one of our number asks for your support, he has a right to expect the vote of the other classes besides the farmer, because, as I said, he is a worthy, competent man, thoroughly furnished for the work. The last reason I give why we should support Mr. McNair is, if my information be correct, Blue Springs township, (with the exception of county commissioner), never had a county officer, and yet it is the recognized stronghold of Democracy. She has pulled the plow a long time. She pulled it hard for white supremacy. Now, this is not fiction, but facts. Shall we who now enjoy the blessed privilege of white supremacy refuse to allow the son of one of our noblest voters a part of the spoils? Finally, I say, everything else being equal, by a preponderance of evidence McNair should be our man this time. But I wanted to say a few words about our commissioners before I say good-bye. I see where the members of the board have all announced themselves. They must certainly like Lumberton, for I think they have eaten enough (the most of them) and I think lots of folks think so, too. Let them pull a white awl again. There is one member of the old board I want us to honor again, and that is Mr. C. A. Oliver. He is a working man, and I notice the auditing board never found where he violated his obligations but once, and that was for feeding the county mules while they were at work in his community. A man who knows him better than I says he was there and it was necessary for Mr. Oliver to do this. Well, there was nothing flagrant in that, so we want him again. We also suggest our friend John A. Hodgins, of Antioch; no better man than he is in our county; Mr. L. R. Hamer, of Raynham, who is one of our best men; Jno. McCormick, of Parkton, who is guilty of the same offense as the others, namely, being a good man's and last, but not least, R. D. Caldwell of Lumberton. Fellow citizens of Robeson, with these as our nominees we will certainly unfurl to the breeze the victor's laurels. I ask you to take these men, all of them, and consider them, work for them, vote for them, elect them. What will be the result? You will be glad you did it. "Red Springs Voter." Red Springs, N. C., June 18, '08.

Two Ways of Purchasing Goods,

One for Cash at time of Purchase, that is called "Spot Cash," and one for Cash to be paid at future date; this is known as "On Time." "Spot Cash" obtains Goods at Lowest Prices. No man's name is good enough to obtain goods "On Time" at as Low Prices as he could buy same goods with "Spot Cash." We buy our Merchandise on the "Spot Cash" plan, so we give our customers as Low Prices for "Spot Cash" as it is possible for same goods to be obtained. Please remember that Quality and Style enter into the real value of Merchandise and Durability for less than $1.00 We guarantee to give Good, Full, True Value for every penny spent with us. We do business on the other plan—"On Time," also. Some men, on account of the Good name made by them as to promptness in meeting obligations, and on account of the fact that their estate is worth more than homestead exemptions, can get goods "On Time." Other parties whose estate is not of sufficient value to justify credit, make arrangements setting aside the operations of the homestead exemptions, and thereby obtain a line of credit, and buy goods "On Time." We offer the public $60,000 Worth of Choice Merchandise. We buy with idea of giving our patrons the Best to be obtained. Take the one article, Flour. We buy the very Tip Top Grade of Michigan Patent, "Rob Roy." Our customers say they never used better flour. We don't believe there is any better flour made. Take another line, say Shoes. We know the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company make shoes of Greatest Value and Best Style for any given price. We Sell Them and Guarantee Every Pair. And then the Old Reliable W. L. Douglas Shoes. We carry a Full Stock. The greatest Business done on any brand of shoes is done on the Douglas Shoes—every pair Guaranteed. The idea of Guarantee goes all through our Stock, from Ribbon in Millinery Department to the heaviest article of ordinary Groceries. Please remember that you can get Almost Anything in one of our Four Stores or Six Warehouses.
