The Most Skilful Player

Cannot produce really fine music from a poor Piano. The purchase of such an instrument is a mistake, the setting of one is worse.

When You Select a Piano Here we are always glad to have you bring an expert player with you. Then the tone and volume of our pianos are brought out in their beauty. Then the quality of our instruments is proven better than any attempt at description we might make.

All other chocolates seem just ordinary after you once try Huyler's. They are just as pure and wholesome as they are delicious. MT. ELIAM MATTERS.

Happy Jack Returns to Charge and Asks and Answers Some Questions—Wonderful Tobacco Seed—Other Matters.

As the McDonald's writer has asked me such a shocking, witty and wonderful question, I will, although scared, try to write enough to answer that great, great, most wonderful question. It looks like anybody with a bright mind could easily see that it is as heavy one time as another; now, don't it, Lindy? Wonder if a snake would do such a task. He ought to send that question to the President. But oh, that wonderful song! He need not think because he shuts up like a book everybody is going to shut up. I will shut up when the editor tells me to. We want him to open long enough to write another song. Wonder if he could tell us which travels at the greatest speed, heat or cold?

A few questions and answers: 1 A family tie—twins. 2 Well handled—pump. 3 After dark—chasing a negro. 4 How to grow fat—breed hogs. 5 A trimming store—a barber shop.

6 The worst thing out—out of cash. 7 A singular being—a bachelor. 8 Cool proceedings—kissing a lady's snowy brow. 9 How to find a girl out—call when she isn't in. 10 A ship that has two mates and no captain—courtship. 11 How to get fat—go to the butcher shop and purchase it by the pound.

Messrs. I. V. Britt, J. Z. Stone, M. J. Britt and E. B. Stone car tobacco to Lumberton Wednesday and were well pleased with the prices.

There was an ice cream supper at Mr. Francis Stephens' Saturday night. The writer and Mr. B. M. Lawson started off with much glee. We started through some woods and it was dark; we came to a deep ditch and Mr. Lawson crossed over all right and I fell in all right; for I saw the ditch and thought it was the bank and made a jump and sure enough I was in for a good time. I got out and got to the goal after a time—and such a time I never saw. Ice cream was served in great quantities; it was better than falling in the ditch.

Now, next I want to go to "Big Foot" and get some tobacco seed, some of the kind that you don't have to cure the tobacco in the day; but I shall change it and cure of a day and not of a night. I thought any wiper man like "Big Foot" could catch on, as they say, to what I said. Now if "Big Foot" has got the seed like he said he has got a fortune in his tobacco seed, for they will sell at $5 a spoonful, I am sure. He must be mistaken and be raising jimpon weeds and not tobacco. Look good and see, "Big Foot". Wonder will worms eat it. Tell us all about it, "Big Foot".

The farmers want me to call somebody's attention to a road not far from here. They say it has grown up very near in what is called claw briars. They are bad, sure. I won't say any more, as the supervisor gave such a blow about the bridges.

We will sing the closing song: There is a man in McDonald's town Who talks like some city show clown, To weigh the moon so far from the ground; He may soon come back to the land. But though he got so high from ground He surely is no babbler; To jab my ribs it is no shame For a man of great fame Like the one of Lindy's name; But probably he'll soon be tame; Then we'll be on land the same.

He must be quite bold, But he wants me the book to fold; But I guess he is quite old As you have all been told; He is not jump right up and scold Before the weather does get cold.

Because he wobbled the moon so soon He surely is no babbler; If he is bold like a coon [of June, He ought to have told it in the month What a monster to weigh the moon!

PROCTORVILLE POINTS.

Road Work and a Matter that Needs Attention—Truck Farming—Personal Mention.

It has been so long since we wrote anything for the public eye that we are at a loss what not to say. There has been such a long time passed that to attempt to mention the names of all who have visited in an out of the community would result in failure, and so we will not try to report for any time past more than just a few days.

Crops have been doing well until the past ten days. The hot weather, or something else, is causing cotton to shed its leaves and corn to turn yellow near the ground. Up to the 10th inst. we do not think we ever saw cotton look better and corn was good, too. Corn is needing rain just now.

We notice that there is some needed work being done between here and Red Springs and some on the "Wire" road in Blue Springs township, leveling the road bed and cutting down the bushes, briars and weeds, which adds greatly to the looks, and hope when it has time to get packed will help; but there is one thing that is much needed this hot weather on all roads that it has been our pleasure to travel—there are very few places where stock can be watered without getting a bucket or other vessel and hauling the water for some distance. Does not our Robeson county road law make it the duty of some of the road officials to see that there are suitable watering places provided at convenient points?

Our R. F. D. carrier has been enjoying part of his annual vacation since the 15th inst. We learn that the Standard Oil Company will put in a tank here and make this a distributing point for the surrounding territory. The prices of truck have been so low this season that there is not much left after the expenses are paid, if the balance is not against the producer. This is a good section for truck, when the prices are right. We have the right kind of soil and shipping facilities are fairly good, and it is our opinion that the growers should not let the low prices of this season prevent their planting some truck.

Miss M. J. Cobb is on a visit to relatives in and around Rowland for a few days. We hope she will have a pleasant visit. Miss Ethel and Mr. Kesler Cobb are on a visit to St. Pauls and will visit Wilmington and other points while away. We wish them a nice outing. Mr. Angus D. Conoly spent Sunday at the home of his father, Mr. J. C. Conoly. Mrs. L. E. Hughes and children spent Monday at Parkton. Miss Leona Graham, of Raeford, is visiting relatives in this community for a few days.

Mr. L. M. Currie and Mr. J. A. McGougan returned on the 23rd from Chickamauga, where the State guard has been for several days in camp. Mr. McGougan reports a nice time. There have been several visits lately in our community and some from our community visiting out of the community, but we cannot now remember who and where, and as it is nearly mail time we will have to stop. Mr. P. Mach Gibson handed us the first cotton blossom some time about the middle of June, but the exact date has escaped our recollection just now. But his was the first we saw.

Proctorville, N. C., July 28, 1908.

From Gilchrist Bridge. Correspondence of The Robesonian. As I have never seen any news from our corner of Robeson, I will try and let you hear from us, although news is as fine as frog hair. The Misses Blue were the guests of Miss Minnie McArthur Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Parks were out fishing Saturday afternoon, also Mr. Walter McArthur and Mr. D. A. McDougald, but the fish would not bite. Guess it was too near Sunday; they had better try Friday next time. I wonder if the reader would like to know what kind of a place this is. It is on the banks of Lumber river, a most lovely place, with nice cool shade and pretty white sand; one church, one cotton gin and two residences completed. We would like for "Happy Jack" and "Sarah Jane" to come some time and go fishing with us. If the fish would not bite they could sit in the shade and enjoy Mrs. I. H. McArthur's nice watermelons. They are fine. AUNT MAG. Red Springs, N. C., R. F. D. No. 3, July 28, 1908.

LONG BRANCH ITEMS.

Close of a Series of Meetings—W. O. W. Picnic—Other Items.

Rev. I. P. Hedgpeth, assisted by Rev. J. B. Jackson, of Fairmont, closed a series of meetings Sunday which were the means of several conversions in the church and 18 were added to the church. We hope that much and lasting good will be accomplished and Christ's kingdom built up here on earth.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Britt, of Lumberton, visited at the home Mrs. Britt's mother, Mrs. Cythia Britt, Sunday. Mr. Alex. Britt, of McDonalds, was visiting here Saturday and Sunday and was the guest of Mr. George Thompson. Miss Dollie Singletary, of Back Swamp, was the guest of her many friends down here last week.

Mr. Rowland Stone, of Mt. Eliam, was a pleasant caller at the home of Miss Nolia Stone Sunday afternoon. Miss Emma Britt, of Cerro Gordo, is now visiting her sister, Mrs. A. D. Stone. Hope she will have a more pleasant time than she did before.

I am requested to say that the W. O. W. is going to have a picnic the 20th of August. Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket. Misses Lillian Meares and Mary Nance, of Lumberton, visited at the home of Mrs. W. L. Thompson Sunday. We all sympathize with Mr. Foster Lee in the death of his fine mare, which died Sunday with spinal meningitis. Messrs. Jetter Williamson and R. M. Ballard, of Kingsdale, were visiting in this section Sunday afternoon. Guess they had a soon Sunday school. Miss Bessie Rowland, of Lumberton, visited her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Lewis, last week. Lumberton, N. C., R. F. D. No. 4, July 28, 1908.

Orum News Items. Correspondence of The Robesonian. It seems as though our sister town Proctorville did not realize the panic that has so greatly affected business throughout the whole United States. We suppose not; it is so small that we guess it was overlooked. Orum has felt it very forcibly, but it is easing up and business is progressing finely. Our school will open on the 31st of August with Prof. A. J. Williams as principal. It bids fair to be an excellent school. We regret to note that Mrs. Frank Jones is quite sick. Mr. Wesley Hedgpeth lost his tobacco barn Sunday morning by fire. Mrs. Alphonso Siarlo returned Saturday from Marion, S. C., where she had been visiting friends for the past week. Mr. J. G. Watson visited relatives here Sunday. Mrs. Bill Nye and children are visiting Mrs. Nye's parents at Marion, S. C. Sorry to report Miss Flora Frink on the sick list. Our farmers are all smiles. Tobacco is bringing a fine price and corn and cotton are fine. Mr. Geo. Warwick, who is teaching at Long Branch, spent Saturday and Sunday with his family. Some of our old bachelors are on the market and seem to be quite fond of Rosas. Miss Myrtle Leggett, who had been visiting her cousin, Miss Tommie Nye, returned home last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Collins visited at Centerville Sunday. Orum, N. C., July 28, 1908.

Novel Fashion in Gaffney. Gaffney, S. C. Correspondence Charlotte Observer. Falling in wells and coming out unhurt seems to be fashionable in Gaffney. A cow belonging to Prof. W. L. Johnson fell into a twenty-foot well this morning and after remaining some two hours was taken out none the worse for her experience. Fortunately for the bovine there was no water in the well else the result would probably have been different.

Mr. Sam B. Gerald, of Paso, S. C., sold tobacco at Mullins, S. C., Friday, July 24th, at the following prices: 274 lbs @ $15.00; 235 lbs @ $24.00; making an average of $19.18. When you begin to figure as to who sells tobacco for the best averages and highest prices you will find that Dixon & Boatwright usually wear the bell.

PARKTON.

A Thriving Town Which is Becoming a Great Trucking Center—Trucking and Farming in that Section.

We never see much in our paper of our town and community, but nevertheless we feel we live in the garden spot of Robeson county; of course other places feel the same. Now, we will take our town only a very few years ago. It was nothing but a small station, one store and postoffice. Think of it to-day—five handsome brick buildings, four of which have been erected this year! Also this year there has been a bank established here, also many handsome residences have been erected. Our town also has an excellent school and four churches—Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist and one colored church; one Masonic hall, one W. O. W. hall, one sales stable, one livery stable, one excellent hotel and a few boarding houses. But we want to say something of trucking and farming here. As to the trucking, about 500 acres of watermelons, 50 acres of cantaloupe, 100 acres in early corn, 10 acres in tomatoes, a good many acres in English peas, potatoes, beans, cucumbers, onions and pepper have been shipped from here this season. Not only is truck farming done here, but other farming is done very extensively. I will mention a few of our farmers: Dr. H. W. McNatt, with 200 acres in cotton, with no disaster will make 200 bales, and he says his corn is better this year than a few years ago, when it made about 66 bushels per acre. Another large farmer is J. B. McCormick, with about 200 acres in cotton that will make 200 bales if it continues doing well. He also has fine corn, etc. Also Mr. H. C. McMillan has about 150 acres in cotton that will make 1/2 of a bale per acre. Then there are Messrs. Frank Jones, A. Lancaster, D. W. Marsh, J. E. Malloy, T. W. Thompson, M. F. Underwood, A. A. Wright, Neil McNeil, and many others who have excellent crops.

This is fast becoming a great trucking centre. It has the advantage of most places, being on the main line of the A. C. L. R. R. and on the Bennettsville and Fayetteville R. R., and we hope the railroad from Lumberton will connect here with the A. C. L. R. and it looks now like it is possible that it will. Trunkers here can ship direct to Northern markets without any change or transfer, which places our truck on Northern markets very early. It is the same with the Southern markets, as the early crops are shipped North and the late crops South.

Revival at Singletary's X Roads Church. To The Editor of The Robesonian: Our meeting of days began July 20th and closed the 27th. Rev. J. L. Shinn, of Marshville, did most of the preaching, to the delight of all, and we were sorry he could not stay until the end; but he very greatly endeared himself to the people and all will be glad to have him come our way again.

There were seven baptized, four reclaimed, two dismissed by letter; and a back door was opened through which one went out; but perhaps the most magnanimous thing which took place was the coming together of two very prominent brethren who unfortunately became alienated some few years ago over a business difficulty. The blessed Christ let us have a foretaste of heaven when at the pastor's earnest appeal to them they came forward and at the altar took each the other's hand, thereby making peace between themselves. It is a great pity that so many of the Lord's people will not obey Him! If they would just stop and consider the harmful results of such conduct there would more of them be found doing as the above two brethren did.

To God the Father be glory and praise. J. M. FLEMING, Pastor. East Lumberton, July 28, 1908.

Mr. Fred Hucks, of Cool Springs, sold 3 lots of tobacco at Planters Warehouse, Mullins, S. C., with Dixon & Boatwright, prices as follows: 7.50, 11.00, 16.00.

JUDGE NEAL COMMENDED.

Mecklenburg Citizen Expresses His Appreciation For the Manly Stand of Judge Neal in Suppressing Lawlessness—Our Criminal Law Bad.

Allow me to join you in thanking Judge Neal for the manly stand he has taken against lawlessness. Civil law is the great bulwark of civil liberty, and the main safeguard of human life. The courts are only the executors of the law, and it bodes no good to a community when the people have lost confidence in the law and respect for the courts. But that our people are fast coming to this condition is manifest on every hand. What mean those crowds of hundreds of men, that creep gathering at the house of Moses every few days? Simply this and nothing more: They know that a foul murderer has been committed and they intend to punish the perpetrator of that crime as soon as they are sure of their man. Now the trouble is not with the courts, but with the law. However upright our judges may be (and most of our judges are honest upright men) they cannot execute justice on the worst of criminals because their hands are tied by our wicked criminal laws. If an ordinary criminal is brought into court, he is tried by a jury that has been selected by our county commissioners on account of their fitness to do justice between the accused and the State, that is between the accused and the law-abiding citizens. But if a desperado, who has murdered his neighbor in cold blood, is brought into court, he must have special privileges. He shall not be tried by the regular jurors who have been selected on account of their fitness to do justice. Oh, no, he shall not be tried by these men, but the sheriff must bring in 100 new men from whom he shall be allowed to choose a jury. And why is this? Because, as everybody knows, out of a hundred men, selected at random you can almost always find one or two who would not agree to hang any man, no matter what crime he had committed. Now the Divine law says that whose sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed. And the innate consciousness of mankind says this is right. But our law in effect says you shall not hang any man if he has money. The truth is, our criminal law is so very bad that it is not strange that the people have lost confidence in the law and respect for the courts that attempt to enforce it. It would seem needless to add that our laws will never be any better so long as we send lawyers to the Legislature.

CRVIS. Parkton, N. C., July 27, 1908.

State Assistance to Owners of Timber Lands. It is the desire of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey to assist land owners to make their timber lands profitable. It is difficult, however, to give satisfactory directions for the management of timber lands by letter on account of the different conditions existing in every piece of woodland. For this reason the State Forester will personally examine lands when requested to do so by the owners, provided there are at least five hundred acres at one place to be examined. The acreage need not necessarily belong to one person. The Forester will give the owners advice and prepare plans for them showing the best methods of cutting and protecting the timber in order to make the yields more profitable.

The future value of forests can be greatly increased by better methods of management, this being especially true of hardwood forests. One-tenth of all the property in the State consists of timber lands and of industries which are dependent upon them, and nearly one-third of the total area of the State is still in forest land, a considerable portion of which is not suitable for farming purposes. It is to the advantage of the land owners who have timber lands that cannot at once be cleared or which could never be profitably cultivated that these be put in the best possible condition for profitable timber growth. There is little or no profit in producing cord wood for sale (although every farmer should produce enough for his own use); but desirable kinds of timber that have not reached their full growth will steadily increase in amount of timber and there is apt to be a gradual but steady advance in its price.

For further information regarding assistance, address the State Geologist, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.
