Weather Conditions Remind of the Time When Sherman's "Bummers" Passed Through the Fork-Farmers' Union Organized—Oak Grove School Closed—A Married Man Steals a Young Girl—Wise Hens.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

There is quite a change in the temperature this morning, after several days of gloomy, dizzly weather; the wind whistles keen and cold and I'm uneasy that to-night may bring disaster to the peach crop. Some of our farmers are about ready to plant corn, but the recent rains have made the soil too wet, and they will have to wait until it dries off.

The weather conditions of last week reminded me of the same week in March 1865, when Sherman's "bummers" were passing through the Fork—a veritable band of thieves and robbers, stealing everything, from horses down to ladies' jewelry and clothing. My sister and I, being unlearned in the mode of Yankee warfare, packed our best raiment and jewelry in a trunk and had it deposited in the loft of our black mammy's house, which turned out to be a fatal delusion, for mammy told us afterwards the very first rascal who entered her door climbed mimbly up the trunk, found and broke open the trunk, and took off everything of value it contained.

They were bent on completely devastating the land, and for this reason carried off and destroyed many articles which were of no use to them, but through a spirit of wanton animosity and revenge they vented their spleen against us in the destruction of property. One squad came to my father's house on Tuesday afternoon, the 7th of March, in a half drunken condition, and one vile old wretch attempted to ride his horse into our front piazza. My gentle mother ventured a protest, and mildly requested him not to do so when he angrily exclaimed in a profane manner, "Why, Madam, when I'm at home I ride this horse into my parlor;" and if he did, I am sure the four-footed beast was by all odds a more fitting occupant than the two-legged one.

My only brother was captain of a company of junior reserves. On leaving home he wore a suit of beautiful home-made grey jeans, the coat of which bore on collar and cuffs the insignia of his rank. Later on, when the government furnished him with the regulation Confederate uniform, he sent home the suit of jeans, which our dear mother had packed away in his trunk. The ruthless plunderers soon came upon it, took out the coat, and seeing the gilt bars upon it, recognized and defamed it as the property of some rebel, and said if they could but find him they would shoot him down. The very sight of this emblem of the Confederacy seemed to put them in a frenzy, and they asked mother to whom it belonged, and where was the owner. She replied, "Those clothes belong to my brave boy, who is an officer in the Southern army," and then the volume of their wrath poured forth in torrents of profanity, but they did not forget to steal the full suit of jeans.

I hear of no local news of interest in the Fork. The enterprising agent of the Farmers' Union, Mr. Swanson, met with a number of our farmers at Oak Grove recently and organized a Union at that place with about a dozen charter members, and a prospect of future additions. I see that this movement is making rapid strides throughout this State and county, and I hope may be fraught with great benefit to the Southern farmer, who has for forty years been the victim of cotton gamblers and speculators.

The school at Oak Grove closed on Thursday last, and Prof. Reynolds, the efficient principal, attended the teachers' meeting at Red Springs on Friday, which he reports as having been exceedingly interesting and instructive. The professor and Miss Easterling, his assistant, will leave for their respective homes on tomorrow (Tuesday).

Very early this morning the 'Squire had a caller, Haywood by name, seeking counsel in regard to his wayward young daughter, aged 17, who had on by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and obstructs the hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's catarrh cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

RAFT SWAMP NOTES.

Compulsory Education—Personal Mention.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Compulsory education was much talked about in The Robesonian some time ago, and the writer is of the opinion that it would be a grand thing, provided the poor children were furnished with necessary supplies. In many cases parents are exceedingly poor and are not able to supply their children with decent clothing and on this account they are kept out of school, and unless such provisions were made it would be cruel to compel them to go to school. The writer is in favor of education in the superlative degree and thinks that every child should have the benefit of a good school; but let's not compel them to go whether they can go or not.

Mr. Rowland Davis spent Saturday night with his cousin, Mr. James Phillips, of East Lumberton.

Mr. Furney Davis returned Friday afternoon from Columbus county, where he had been spending some time with his sisters, Mrs. J. T. Tyner and Mrs. Frank Singletary. He reports a nice time.

The school here is still progressing very nicely under the excellent management of Mr. Odum.

Mr. Ira Davis is remodeling his dwelling, which will add lots to the beauty of his home.

Mrs. L. E. Tyner is visiting her children, Prof. B. Y. Tyner, Mr. Carl and Misses Cara Lee and Addie, at Wingate.

It was Mr. Law Gregory who rendered music for Miss Powell's entertainment, not Mr. Sam.

THE FERTILIZER TAX.

Secretary of Agriculture Graham Reports Some Fudging.

The Raleigh correspondent of The Charlotte Observer writes that the Commissioner of Agriculture Graham says that it is found that fertilizers have been put on the market this season without tag, this being done through mistake or carelessness. One case is plain that while a tagger was away from the mill some of the negro employees filled an order for fertilizers and failed to attach the tags. Various excuses are given. The penalty is $10 on the seller and the buyer and of course this would make a very heavy total if the law was strictly enforced. The Agricultural Department does not desire to give special trouble to any persons, but if the law is not complied with after this notice the commissioner will put the case in the courts. It is also found that in some cases there is lightweight of stock feed and here again there is a penalty. The Commissioner of Agriculture desires that special attention be called to these failures to carry out the law, which is designed for the protection of the public in every way and also to properly protect the department.

Robinson Elliott, colored, was shot at his home in Flea Hill township, Cumberland county, Monday by Deputy Sheriff Claud Godwin and badly wounded, the ball striking his thigh and shattering the bone. He was taken to the hospital in Fayetteville. Godwin was attempting to arrest Elliott on the charge of his disposing of mortgaged property and it is claimed that Elliott resisted.

Saturday last, during the absence of her parents, been stolen away by a married man named Calvin Burkett. The 'Squire advised the indignant father to make every effort to locate the guilty party and have him brought to justice. Living as we are, so near the South Carolina line, many criminals escape by crossing over the border, but I hope this unprincipled fellow may be apprehended and punished according to the magnitude of his offense.

We have been doing some gardening in the Fork, and I hear of a good many little chickens hatched out; but up to date our hens do not seem to be anxious about setting—perhaps they have an intuitive wisdom to wait awhile and let the hawks start off on some of the neighboring biddies, for they surely do feast on my early chickens every spring.

I went off, hoping to entice the martins to build, and help keep the hawks away, but we have not been able to get them put up yet.

A Gay Parisian Suicides Under Unusual Circumstances.

Paris Dispatch, 13th.

Fernand Ravenez, a wealthy young Parisian, committed suicide at Monte Carlo last night under unusual circumstances. The young man gave a supper to a number of his friends and with the pleasure was fast and furious. Several times during the evening Ravenez cried: "This is nothing, a big surprise is awaiting you at the end."

At dawn when the party were separating Ravenez shouted: "Now for the great surprise." At the same time he arose abruptly and walked toward the gypsy orchestra, which was playing a Hungarian rhapsody. His friends expecting a practical joke, watched him expectantly. They were stupefied to see him suddenly place a pistol at his temple and fire. He fell dead.

The only reason for this act is described as "sheer boredom." Ravenez was only 20 years old and he had been a familiar figure on the Paris boulevards, where his liking for vivid clothing attracted attention.

Infant Choked to Death by a Peanut.

Durham Special, 14th, to Charlotte Observer.

The 17-month-old child of Thomas McAbee, of this city, died last night from an unusual cause.

The baby had taken a peanut from an older sister and put it in its mouth. In a short time there was a struggle for breath, the infant dying within twenty minutes after swallowing the nut.

One of Zeb Vance's Remarks.

Lileton News-Reporter.

Senator Vance once said that a man with a sharp axe could fell in two hours an oak that required a hundred years to grow to maturity. It is so much easier to destroy than to build up, and unfortunately that class that loves to destroy has so many active members.

Three Cities of Java Buried Under Tons of Earth.

Victoria, B. C. Dispatch, 12th.

News of landslides burying three villages, involving the loss of a thousand lives at Pendjolo, Java, was brought today by a steamer Empress of China. A part of Mount Kentjona fell, destroying the village of Tegiboebohan and the towns of Wardengiste and Telokbangoe. But one man, one woman and two children escaped to tell the tale. Tons of earth were slipping as the vessel left. Crowds were flocking to see the terrible sights and recover the bodies, mostly buried deep below tons of earth. Dogs and birds were feeding on the bodies exposed to view.

TO TEACH FARMING.

The Commissioner of the State of North Carolina has appointed an Up-to-Date Farmer to Teach the People of the County Scientific Farming—A Boys' Corn Club.

The Robesonian does not attempt to advise farmers, just as it does not try to advise merchants or bankers or men in any other line of business, but it is always glad to publish anything that may offer helpful suggestions. The following dispatch of the 14th from Winston-Salem to The Charlotte Observer is of interest:

"The Forsyth County Boys' Corn Club, designed to stimulate progressive agriculture among the youth, was formed today, many of the most up-to-date farmers in this section also being in attendance to encourage the score of young men who enrolled in the organization. The State agricultural department has offered prizes, and the Piedmont Fair Association likewise, and it is expected that a worthy rivalry will be engendered throughout the county in the cultivation of crops."

Also the following, a dispatch of the same date to the same paper from Greensboro:

"Guilford took another forward step in the march of progress yesterday when a number of representative citizens, at a meeting held in the court house, approved the plan of employing a progressive and up-to-date farmer to teach the people of the county scientific agriculture. The work will be carried on in connection with what is known as the farmers' co-operative demonstration work of the United States Department of Agriculture, and it is planned to establish a number of demonstration farms in different sections of the county."

"The meeting was called by the board of county commissioners, and in spite of the inclement weather, was attended by a large number of progressive farmers. Also many public school teachers, both men and women, were present and participated in the proceedings. Mr. C. R. Hudson, of Statesville, a special agent of the United States Department of Agriculture, addressed the meeting and explained in detail the scope of the work of the farmers' co-operative demonstration movement. He talked of the value of soil improvement, rotation of crops and other things of interest to live and wideawake farmers."

"The county commissioners, who have become responsible for the expense that will be incurred by the work, will hold a special meeting next Thursday to select a farmer to direct the movement. It is the purpose of the board to employ a Guilford county man, and in a public meeting this afternoon it was announced that the commissioners would appreciate the suggestion of the names of persons available for the position."

When the county gets the work under way, it is understood that the expense of continuing it will be shared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

"In connection with the farm demonstration movement, the county commissioners have decided to take up the work of instructing the people in hygiene and sanitation. This work will be under the direct supervision of the county board of health, and it is planned to employ an capable physician to give his entire time to the matter. He will be required to lecture in the schools and instruct the people in their homes on hygiene and sanitation. Dr. J. R. Gordon, one of Guilford's Representatives in the Legislature, appeared before the commissioners this afternoon in behalf of the movement and told of the assistance that will be received from the State board of health in carrying on the work."

A negro named Matthew Ferris died at his home in Fayetteville Monday fifteen minutes after drinking some blind tiger whiskey he had bought for a white man. After giving the negro a dollar to get the whiskey for him the white man was locked up, and when he returned and could not find the man he began drinking the stuff himself. Before arrested and locked up probably saved the white man's life.

I. L. Hooper, charged with burning a house at Elizabeth City to obtain insurance, was found guilty Saturday and was sentenced to three years at hard labor on the county chain-gang.
