On the 12th instant, near Amon, Bladen county, Tom Branch, 65 years of age, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Mr. Branch, it is said, had been threatening to take his life for some time. On the morning of the 12th he went to a trunk and secured a razor, telling one of his grand-would be dead in one half hour. The granddaughter, with other of the women relatives, hastened to get one Mr. Long to go with them to the old house, where they soon arrived, just skulking off into the woods. Concluding that Mr. Branch was only trying to perpetrate a joke, they went to a nearby store to make some purchases, and when they returned to their own home they found the old man lying deed at their deep store to a dream and said that he had dead at their door step.
