Are Drugs Necessary?
Do Drugs Cure Disease?
Can Nature be Assisted?

If people were born right and afterwards lived right, there would be no use for medicine. Every doctor knows this. So do other well-informed people. One thing more. When a person lives wrongly, or acquires bodily weakness by heredity, medicine can do only very little. Medicine cannot cure him. Only charlatans claim that medicines will cure disease. Medicines may palliate symptoms. Medicines may urge the powers of Nature to resist disease. Medicines sometimes arouse the efforts of the human body to right itself against derangements. This is the most that medicine can do.

A man accidentally puts his finger in the fire. Instinctively he wets his finger in his mouth, then blows on it for the cooling effect. This is no cure. He knows it very well. But it makes it feel better for the time being.

People eat unwisely. This produces dyspepsia or indigestion. The only rational cure is to eat correctly. Yet if a palliative is at hand the pains of indigestion can be mitigated, the throes of dyspepsia assuaged. The medicine cannot be said to have cured. It simply palliates disagreeable symptoms. The cure must come through right living.

Take Peruna, for instance. No one claims Peruna is a cure for dyspepsia. But Peruna will stimulate the stomach to perform its function properly. Peruna will increase the flow of digestive fluids, without which digestion cannot be carried on at all. It will increase the relish of food, the appetite.

It is admitted that all this can be accomplished by right living, but there are so many people who either will not or do not know how to eat correctly that a tremendous amount of good can be done by the wise use of Peruna.

A stomach that has been frequently abused performs the function of digestion very lazily. Such a stomach allows the food to remain undigested for some time after it is swallowed. This leads to fermentation of the food. Sour stomach is the result. This goes on week after week, until the blood is poisoned with the products of fermentation. This condition is very apt to produce rheumatism.

It is not claimed that Peruna will cure rheumatism. Nothing will cure rheumatism but correct living. But it is claimed that Peruna will assist a badly abused stomach to perform its work.

If a person would correct his habits, persist in right eating and temperate ways, undoubtedly the stomach would right itself, the blood would rid itself of the poison, and everything would be right. But as said before there are a multitude of people who will not or cannot adopt right methods of living. To such people Peruna is a boon. A dose before meals will assist the stomach to do its work. This prevents fermentation of the food, brings about normal digestion, and all the train of ills that follow indigestion disappear.

In other words, Peruna is helpful to those who live badly, or those who have acquired some chronic weakness. Peruna does not cure, but it assists the powers of Nature to bring about a cure. The whip does not increase the power of the horse to pull a load, but judiciously used it stimulates the horse to use his powers at the right time, without which he could not have pulled the load.

This illustrates the effect of Peruna, or any other good remedy upon the system. Taken at the right time, it calls forth the powers of the human system to meet the encroachments of disease, and thus cuts short, if not entirely ends, the diseased action.

No one should ever attempt to substitute medicine in the place of right living. In the end such an attempt will prove a disaster. But an occasional use of the right medicine at the right time is a godsend, and no reasonable person will undertake to deny it.

Those who know how to use Peruna find it of untold value. By and by the world will get wise enough so that through correct living no medicine at all will be needed. But that time has not arrived. In the meantime, while the world is approaching that perfection in which all medicine will be eliminated, Peruna is a handy remedy to have in the house.

Slight derangements of the stomach; slight catarrhal attacks of the liver, the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs or bowels; these attacks are sure to lead to grave diseases, and can be averted by the judicious use of Peruna.

Wouldn't you like to read a few unsolicited testimonials from people who have used Peruna, and who stand ready to confirm the above statements concerning it. If so, address the Peruna Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, and we will send some prepaid.

TAFT DAY IN WILMINGTON.

Magnificent Parade, Numerous Bands, Inspiring Military Pageant—Route of Parade.

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 26—One thousand men, representing the United States and State military establishments, will participate in the magnificent Taft Day parade when President Taft makes his memorable visit to Wilmington Tuesday, November ninth.

There also will be numerous bands, including the following crack musical organizations: United States Coast Artillery Band, thirty pieces, from Fort Caswell; First South Carolina Regiment Band, twenty-five pieces, from Spartanburg, S. C.; Third North Carolina Band, twenty-five pieces, from Raleigh, N. C.; the Delgado Band, of Wilmington, sixteen pieces, and others.

The inspiring military pageant, with its pomp, its bands, its drum corps, and its colors flying, the ensemble of 2,000 school children dressed in red, white and blue to form a human United States flag, the spectacular marine parade, an exhibition drill by United States troops, profuse decorations, magnificent illuminations, and other features will indeed make the Taft visit a red letter day for North Carolina. Wilmington will be the beauty spot of North Carolina—the municipal gem of Dixie—the thrilling sphere of enjoyment—the Mecca of countless throngs.

The military and musical features, in charge of Col. J. Van B. Metts, as chairman of the Parade and Escort Committee, are being arranged on a scale that will prove a source of great attraction to Wilmington's thousands of visitors. Already he has received definite acceptances from twenty or more military companies, and others on the eve of making up their decision to come and take a part in the parade. The following military organizations have been booked and will be here:

United States Coast Artillery Corps, from Fort Caswell, three hundred men, under command of Captain Hancock, U. S. A.
Twenty companies North Carolina

Academy Cadet Corps, of Fayetteville.

Colonel H. C. Bragaw, of Washington, N. C., Second North Carolina Infantry, will be here with his staff and will command the State troops. Other State military officers who will also be in Wilmington are: Major J. J. Bernard, of Raleigh, Third North Carolina Infantry, and staff; Major T. S. Pace, of Wilson, Second North Carolina Infantry, and staff; Captain T. C. Daniels, of Newbern, commanding North Carolina Naval Battalion, and staff.

Military organizations will be met at the trains by the Parade and Escort Committee, which will distribute printed orders, giving the details for the day and informing of arrangements for their entertainment. They will be the guests of the city and mess hall near Front and Market streets will be open, free for all military men. All who remain in the city for the night will be given comfortable accommodations in a nice, steam-heated hall.

In the parade, the State troops will be divided into battalions of four companies each, and besides the organizations named there probably will be a company of marines from the United States Revenue Cutter, and the Greensboro and Washington Companies of the North Carolina National Guard.

A battalion of Confederate veterans in uniform will be given the place of honor in the parade, under command of Gen. James I. Metts. Durham Camp, U. C. V., will come as a body, and veterans will be here from many portions of the State.

The parade will form at the steamer landing, foot of Market street, and will be under the direction of Col. J. Van B. Metts, chairman of the Parade and Escort Committee, acting as chief marshal, with members of the committee as aides.

About 2:30 p. m., when the Revenue Cutter Seminole, with President Taft aboard, arrives from her trip down Cape Fear, with her escort of several steamers, the parade will move. The United States troops will lead, and following them will come the battalions of the North Carolina National Guard, and other military organizations.

The Confederate veteran battalion will precede two carriages in which will be the President, his physician and entourage. A mounted detachment will be just in front of the President's carriage, and another will follow the rear carriage, both detachments extending across the street from sidewalk to sidewalk. Thus the route of the parade will be kept clear for the President's party, which will be followed by automobiles and carriages to the end of the parade at the City Hall, on Princess and Third streets.

The route of the parade will be from Market street dock, on Market street, to Fourth street, up Fourth to Chestnut street, on Chestnut to Front street, down Front to Orange street, on Orange to Sixth street, up Sixth to Dock street, on Dock to Eighth street, up Eighth to Market street, on Market to Third street, up Third street to the City Hall. At Third and Market streets, the President will be greeted by two thousand school children who will form a United States flag, the boys and girls dressed in red, white and blue forming the stripes while the young lady teachers, wearing large white hats, will add the stars to the blue field.

About 11 a. m., while the President is absent on his steamer trip, the regular United States troops from Fort Caswell will give an exhibition drill on the Postoffice Plaza, including calisthenics to music, bayonet exercises and wall scaling contest. This feature will be wonderfully interesting.

T. W. Clawson.
