

ADVERTISED EXTENSIVELY.

Marion Butler and His Crowd
Advertised in Three New York Papers For Repudiated Bonds.

(BY THOMAS J. FENCE)
Washington, Cor., Oct. 31st., Raleigh News and Observer.

The New York Evening Post - only one of a number of powerful mediums in the financial centre of the country employed by Marion Butler when he hatched his scheme to induce the holders of carpet-bag and scalawag bonds to put their claims in his hands for collection. A search of newspaper files at the congressional library today disclosed the fact that Butler used the advertising columns of both The New York Sun and The New York Times when he decided to become the broker for the collection of these dishonorable and disreputable class of bonds.

The advertisement from The New York Evening Post, which The News and Observer sprung on the people of the State last week appeared in identical language in both The Sun and The Times of New York, in the issues of April 28th, 1905. Both advertisements were in double-column display on the financial page. The words "The collection of State bonds repudiated in whole or in part," were in very large advertising display type. Butler's signature to the advertisement was in black type. The advertisement was placed up so as to attract the attention of readers.

The reason that Butler and Pettigrew and their associates advertised so extensively and at so great a cost for the collection of these carpet-bag bonds was due to the fact that there was a rival syndicate in the field endeavoring to get possession of these worthless securities. They wanted to corner the market, hence their activity. The opposition syndicate was headed by Edwin L. Andrews and John G. Carlisle. It also resorted to advertisement in the New York papers for the collection of these scalawag bonds.

The Andrews-Carlisle syndicate beat the Butler-Pettigrew gang in the field several days. On the twenty-fifth of March the opposition syndicate was at work in the New York papers. Then it was that Butler and his crowd used printers ink so extensively to get possession of the carpet-bag bonds wherever held. That Butler and Pettigrew resented the intrusion of the opposition syndicate is disclosed in their advertisement published in The Evening Post, The Sun and The Times. They gave expression to their resentment in this language: "This committee has no connection with any other committee, and it knows that it is alone in a position to avail itself on the benefits of the above mentioned decision." This was the reply of the Butler crowd to the advertisement of the Andrews-Carlisle syndicate that appeared in the New York papers.

Marion Butler has been caught with the goods on him, and the defense that he is endeavoring to prepare after taking time to communicate with his conspirators will not save his face. If he had a defense to make he would have put it before the people the day the evidence was presented. In the meantime he could interest the people of North Carolina by telling them what he has done with the carpet-bag bonds that he solicited and collected. These infamous papers would be safer in South Dakota than in North Carolina, and perhaps Pettigrew is the custodian of them. He has been the main prop of Butler since he embarked upon the bond brokerage business.

A New Departure.

A new departure in the line of newspaper business for North Carolina has just been made by The Times of Raleigh. This big daily has reduced its price by mail to $2.50 per year, payable in advance. Some weeks ago this paper ran a special bargain price and the results were so flattering that the management decided to give the people of the State a daily newspaper for the price of $2.50 per year. J. V. Simms, editor and publisher of the paper, announces at the same time that many more improvements are to be made in the future. The Times will do no more credit business but will be strictly cash in advance.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Catarrh of the Stomach
a Prevalent Disease Difficult to Relieve.

A PROMPT AND EFFICIENT REMEDY.

Mr. S. W. Jackson, 315 Weaver Block, Greenville, Ohio, says: "While I was superintendent of construction of J. F. Bender and Bros. Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, I became entirely unfit for business with catarrh of the stomach.

"A friend called my attention to a remedy for this condition. I began to improve at once. I was soon able to return to my former profession.

"It would require many pages to describe the condition I was in and the relief I have obtained."

Here is another case. Officer George Y. Stout, 724 North Broadway, Baltimore, Md., says: "I suffered very much with catarrh of the stomach and nervous indigestion. I lost fifty pounds in four months.

"A friend called my attention to a remedy, which I used, and gradually got well. I have gained half my lost weight back again."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

Mr. Robert J. Gillespie, 633 South Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., secretary of Lather's International Union, was also suffering from catarrh of the stomach a long time. He grew thinner and paler, lost all ambition and appetite, sick at the stomach, indigestion continually.

A friend also called his attention to a remedy, which brought about a decided improvement. After continuing the use of the remedy for a month, he considers himself permanently relieved.

Now, once more. Mr. Christian Hoffman, Slatington, Pa., says he suffered for many years with catarrh of the stomach. It produced a miserable cough, day and night. He tried doctors and many remedies. At last his attention was called to a remedy, the same remedy that relieved the others which have been referred to above. He claims that he was entirely rid of his stomach difficulty.

Per-una Brought Back Health.

What was the remedy that has wrought this remarkable relief? So far, the remedy has not been mentioned.

If any one doubts the correctness of these statements it is very easy to verify them by writing to the people whose names have been given, enclosing a stamp for reply.

The remedy is within the reach of every one. It is simply the good, old standard reliable remedy known as Per-una.

If the truth were known, the probabilities are that Peruna has relieved as many cases of catarrh of the stomach as any other popular remedy in existence. We have a great many unsolicited testimonials from all parts of the United States, declaring in strong and enthusiastic terms that Peruna has entirely relieved them of catarrh of the stomach, that they were wretched and miserable beyond words, but Peruna has restored them to health, vigor and happiness.

These are the facts. Now, if you have stomach difficulty, it is up to you to act upon them or ignore them, as you please.

Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh.

"The affection may result from errors in diet, or the use of alcohol. The excessive use of tobacco, especially when the juice or the leaves are swallowed, is likely to cause it.

"Highly seasoned or coarse, irritating foods, sometimes induce the disease.

"As chronic gastritis (catarrh of the stomach) is essentially a secondary affection, one of the primary causes is an unhealthy state of the mouth, nose or throat, such as bad teeth or catarrh of the nose (ozena).

"The patients are usually poorly nourished, pale, sallow, thin, fatigue easily induced, muscles flabby. Loss of appetite or capricious appetite.

"The tongue is usually coated brownish gray. Cankered mouth is a common occurrence.

"Pain is not common. When present it is usually dull, and is aggravated by food, especially when this is of an irritating character.

"Vomiting may occur in the morning. Also after meals. Sickness to the stomach frequent and persistent.

"Food produces dull headache, and a feeling of general nervous distress. Constipation usually quite marked."

These symptoms, given by Gould and Pyle, coincide exactly with the frequent descriptions Dr. Hartman is receiving from patients all over the United States.

If you have any of these symptoms get a bottle of Peruna. Take a dose before each meal. See if your stomach does not immediately feel better, your appetite improve, your digestion at once resume business.

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.
