

The Fourteenth Annual Convention of the North Carolina Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

[Report to the Robeson Chapter of Delegates to the Convention.]

The fourteenth annual U. D. C. convention of the North Carolina Division was called to order in Rocky Mount October 12, 1910, at 10.30 o'clock by the State president, Mrs. F. M. Williams of Newton. The session was opened with prayer by the chaplain of the State division, Miss Hettie James of Wilmington. This was followed by a song, "The Old North State", by the well-chosen choir for the occasion. Mayor Thorne, introduced by the chapter president, Mrs. W. O. Winstead, made an appropriate address welcoming the U. D. C.'s in behalf of the city. The Elks and Pythians were represented by Mr. Joseph B. Ransay, who made a most pleasing address welcoming the U. D. C.'s. We were next welcomed by Captain J. O. W. Gravelly in behalf of the tobacco board of trade and the business men of the city. Mrs. Winstead, president of the local chapter, in a sweet and splendid talk welcomed the U. D. C.'s to the homes and firesides and hearts. Mrs. Williams, State president, responded for the Daughters, expressing their pleasure and gratification at such a cordial reception. Thomas Dixon's speech was the feature of the session, expressing real pleasure at the opportunity to address the U. D. C.'s, spoke of himself as being a son of the Confederacy. Messrs. R. H. Ricks and J. H. Thorpe, surviving members of the immortal Bethel Regiment and comrades of Wyatt when he fell, were brought to the platform, the Daughters rising and standing in their honor. Mr. Spruill then presented to the State president a gavel made from a dogwood tree that grew on Bethel battle field near where Henry Wyatt was killed, the first man that fell in the war between the States. This gavel was carved by Mr. J. B. Christian, a veteran of Rocky Mount. Gen. W. R. Cox, the man who led the last charge at Appomattox, being on the platform was commanded to make a speech. He obeyed orders and received an ovation that must have cheered his heroic heart. The State president was called to the chair, and after the roll was called by the secretary the meeting adjourned to the Cambridge hotel, where luncheon was served by the city aldermen. The reports made in the afternoon by the officers showed good work for the past year and were accepted with thanks. The meeting was opened Thursday with prayer by Miss Hettie James, after which the choir sang the song "United." Gen. C. Irvin Walker, chairman of the executive committee of the Confederate Women's Monument committee, then appeared before the convention in that cause. In a fitting address the president then presented Mrs. W. M. Parsely of Wilmington, the woman who enjoys the distinction of having been first to organize a N. C. chapter of the U. D. C., a handsomely-jeweled pin as a token of the respect and esteem with which the "Mother" of the N. C. Division of the U. D. C.'s is held by many hundreds of Daughters. The pin is a costly gift set in pearls and rubies. After a short discussion of the memorial arch the convention adjourned for luncheon at the Cambridge hotel, given by the tobacco board of trade. In the afternoon we had reports from the several committees. The report from the educational committee showed 14 scholarships over the State. We were urged that we have in applications for scholarships by May 15th.

Following this was the election of officers. All the officers except the treasurer and recorder of crosses were re-elected. Mrs. Robert Kornegay was made treasurer, and Mrs. William Creasy recorder of crosses. Friday morning reports from outstanding committees were given. The question of endorsing a card date for president general was harmoniously settled by the withdrawal of both Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Faison, after a personal conference between them. There was then a report from the Wyatt monument committee and the full amount was pledged to complete the monument. A motion was passed that the State Legislature be asked to provide a vault for the safe keeping of the papers and records of the N. C. D. of the U.

D. C. Adjournment was taken at 1:30 to Oakland park, where a barbecue dinner was given by Mr. R. H. Ricks. In the afternoon the reports from the chapters were read. At the night session the unfinished business was completed. Resolutions of thanks to the local chapter for their splendid hospitality were read. Invitations were given for the next meeting of the convention from Salisbury, Concord and Winston-Salem. Winston-Salem getting the majority of votes, the convention adjourned to meet at that place the fourth week in October, 1911.

McDonald, Nov. 21.—Mr. Robert McMillan, who had been spending some time at Jackson Springs for his health, returned home Friday much improved.

Mr. Haddon McLean visited friends at Elrod Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sion Alford moved to their new home at Rowland last Thursday. They made many friends during their stay here, who regret very much to see them leave.

Miss Leola Faulk is visiting friends at Rowland this week.

Miss Mabel Townsend, a student in the Rowland graded school, spent Sunday with home folks.

Messrs. J. A. McMillan and D. A. McCormick were visitors at Kaysnham Sunday.

Miss Pattie Inman, of Inman, was the guest of Miss Donnie Greyard Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Faulk is spending the week with relatives at Centenary.

Mr. Albert McCormick, another of the Rowland students, was at home Sunday.

The boys around here are looking forward to Thanksgiving, intending to spend the day hunting. "Rufus."

Paris, Nov. 20.—Imposing national ceremonies in the Tuileries Garden today in connection with the dedication of a statue erected to the memory of Jules Ferry, the French statesman, were marred by an assault upon Premier Briand, who while walking with President Fallieres was struck twice on the face by a Royalist. The Premier was not seriously hurt. The vast crowd which had gathered in the garden set upon the Premier's assailant and only determined intervention by the Republican guards saved him from being beaten to death.

MAKES MILK AND WEIGHT

BOVETA Cattle Feed is a scientific mixture of cotton seed meal and hulls. In the ordinary mixture the rich, nutritious parts dust off and are lost. In Boveta the mixture is made by specially designed machinery in such a way that the rich meal clings to the hulls so that cattle cannot separate them, eating the meal and leaving the hulls.

For those wanting a less expensive brand we recommend our machine mixed PIEDMONT Feed running 16% protein and correspondingly cheaper. Full information, prices and BULLETIN ON "CATTLE FEEDING" sent for a postal. Write to-day.
