Negro Woman Shoots Another Negro Woman Dead at Boardman.

Whiteville Cor., 26th, Wilmington Star.

There was another killing in our county on Thursday night, one negro woman at Boardman shooting another dead. The woman who did the shooting is now in jail, Cora Smith, a woman about 25 years of age, and wife of Thomas Smith, of Boardman, shot and killed Maggie Nichols. The Smith woman is half witted. It seems from the testimony that the Nichols woman had before tried to separate Cora from her husband, and there was bad blood between the two. On the night of the killing Maggie Nichols came to Cora Smith's house and proceeded to curse and abuse her, calling the woman every vile name. Cora asked Maggie to leave her house and stop her abuse, but she (Maggie) refused to go. Cora then procured a pistol and shot the Nichols woman three times. Cora says she shot only to frighten Maggie and not to kill her.

Raleigh & Charleston Railroad Sold to Seaboard Air Line.

It has been expected for some time that the Seaboard would take over the Raleigh & Charleston railroad. In regard to the sale the Dillon Herald has the following:

"Rumors of the sale of the Raleigh & Charleston railroad to the Seaboard have been floating around for sometime. For sufficient reason we have said nothing about it but it seems useless to keep the matter quiet longer since it seems to have become public property. From what we can hear the Coast Line and Seaboard were both bidding for the road. At one time possibly the Coast Line bid 40 per cent of book value of stock but the Seaboard appears to have won out. After a visit to Baltimore of those interested the men at the shop were taken off their jobs, except one mechanic and carpenter. It is understood that the work will be done at Hamlet in the future. Officers were engaged in stock taking last week. Some time ago it was said at Andrews that the Seaboard had bought the Atlantic Coast Lumber Co's. road and would extend it to Charleston. Nobody can tell what a railroad is going to do, but it looks as though the road will be extended from here through Brittons Neck community with the old Atlantic Coast Lumber road and go on to Charleston, making, we understand, the shortest route between Washington, D. C., and Charleston, S. C., by about 60 miles. Possibly the Mullins road will be built to Conway as was rumored when the bill was in the Legislature to allow Mullins to vote bonds. There is a large territory without railroad facilities between Conway and Sumpter by way of Lake City which would have a road."
