SUGAR TRUST MUST GET "IT'S."

This is about the size of it, as summed up by Tavenner, Washington newspaper correspondent:

For years and years the sugar trust is known to have stolen from the government. By means of false weights and tricky springs to cheat the scales, and by bribery of government officials, this rapacious trust diverted into its own coffers millions of dollars that should have gone to the government in revenue. The trust was caught red handed in its thievery, yet nobody was punished; nobody went to jail.

The government finally put a stop to the revenue stealing. The doctored springs were taken away, and the corrupt custom collectors were discharged. This forced the trust to adopt new methods in order to maintain its inflated dividends, so recently it sent out a wail about a "short crop" and now sugar prices are almost as high as they were during the Civil War. The sugar trust is determined to get "it's."

Major H. A. London, editor of the Chatham Record and a Confederate veteran, has for some time been publishing in his paper an interesting series of articles by himself about the Civil War. In The Record of the 13th inst. Major London wrote about the battle of Sharpsburg—or Antietam, as the Federals called it—fought on the 17th of September, 1862, when less than 40,000 Confederates, who had suffered great privations of rest and food and had made long marches without shoes over mountain roads, "successfully battled all day long with McClellan's magnificently equipped army of 90,000 well-fed and well-clothed soldiers," and he relates the following incident which, as he says, "should be forever remembered with pride by all North Carolinians:"

"It was at this battle that the 27th North Carolina regiment so greatly distinguished itself by remaining in line with empty guns after their ammunition had been exhausted and defiantly waved their colors in the face of the enemy. This remarkable incident is mentioned by both Gen. Lee and Longstreet in their official reports, and should be forever remembered with pride by all North Carolinians. In this battle our State suffered most grievously. Two of our best generals, George B. Anderson and L. O. B. Branch, were killed and among other of our officers killed was Col. C. C. Tew, who had charge of the military school at Hillsboro before the war. The third North Carolina regiment lost more men killed and wounded in this battle than any other regiment and its gallant colonel (W. L. DeRossett) was so severely wounded as to be incapacitated for duty for the remainder of the war. It was in this bloody battle that Company C of the 14 North Carolina regiment lost in killed and wounded every man of the 45 present for duty."

Oakdale Leaflets.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Page's Mill, S. C., Sept. 17.—Mr. Wallace filled his appointment at Oakdale yesterday and today. The right hand of fellowship was extended to the converts who joined the church when Mr. Wallace and Mr. Moody conducted a meeting there not many weeks ago. The text he preached from today is found in the 16th chapter and 25th verse of Matthew.

Am glad to report also that last night we had a nice time. Our concert was fine. We were about three hours going through with the programme. It was a great pleasure for us to meet with so many friends. There was more people on the yard of old Oakdale than I ever saw there at one time. Hope the services were enjoyed by all. We were glad to meet with one whom we have heard about so much and I guess every reader of The Robesonian is acquainted with his name, and that is "Happy Jack." It was a great pleasure for us to have him with us while reciting our Sunday school lesson. Hope he will visit us again soon. Pat.

Lumber Bridge Presbyterian Church Extends Call to Rev. J. B. Cochran of Parkton.

Parkton, C., Presbyterian Standard.

The Lumber Bridge church, of Fayetteville Presbytery, has extended a call to Rev. J. B. Cochran, of Parkton, for part of his time as pastor. Parkton and Dundarrach churches, who now have all his services, upon being informed of Lumber Bridge's action, voted heartily and unanimously to admit her into the family, and will request Presbytery, at its approaching meeting, to change time for this end. Rev. J. B. Cochran agrees, with Presbytery's approval, to accept the field as changed. As Lumber Bridge lies between Parkton and Dundarrach, four miles from one and six miles from the other, the grouping is a natural and compact one. The united membership of churches is only 295—standing fourteenth numerically in Presbytery's thirty-one settled pastorates. But united, instead of separated, they will weigh heavier than ever before. It will be one of the stronger pastorates of Fayetteville in the future. The country occupied by this group in North Robeson and South Hoke is a very fine farming section, and settled up principally by the genuine old Scotch Highlanders. An ideal home—it could be.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

"MY BLOOD IN FINE CONDITION"

Every sufferer from Blood Poison should read what Mrs. G. F. Medina, of Wehdon, N. C., says of her experience: "I was a terrible sufferer from Blood Poison. If the skin would be broken, the flesh would become inflamed, itch and burn, and develop into sores. Before the birth of one of my children, my whole body became fearfully swollen, and I was in a serious condition generally. I used Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and it cured me. My blood is in fine condition. I believe if it had not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy I would have died. Its value is priceless." "Away back in the days of Moses it was said, 'In the blood thereof is the life,' and never were truer words spoken. This vital fluid is the essence of life and health, and when it becomes impure, impoverished or poisoned the result is debility, weakness, loss of vitality, energy and life itself. Without good blood, good health is impossible. MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY, is a sure specific for all troubles due to impure, impoverished and poisoned blood such as Eczema, Old Sores, Scrofula, and the long train of attendant ailments, including Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Stomach Troubles, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Female Troubles, and general "rundown" conditions in both men and women. It feeds the blood, drives out every vestige of poison, tones up the nervous system, induces sound and refreshing sleep, and brings the entire body back to its natural healthy condition. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is scientifically prepared from purely vegetable ingredients.
