Mrs. Jas. D. Proctor Entertains the Wednesday Afternoon Club.

Reported for the Robesonian.
 The Wednesday Afternoon Club was charmingly entertained by Mrs. Jas. D. Proctor Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. On the arrival of the guests they were met at the door by Mrs. E. K. Proctor. They were greeted in the hall and ushered into the sitting room by Mrs. J. D. Proctor and little Miss Sarah Elizabeth, where they were engaged in dainty needle work for a while. Mrs. Proctor then passed an interesting and appropriate contest. Mrs. R. C. Lawrence won first prize, a pair of embroidery scissors, Mrs. A. F. Ward winning the grand prize, a paper of needles. Delicious refreshments were served in two courses, after which each guest was presented with a most attractive little scissors holder in the shape of a crocheted carnation. The club regrets so much losing a member and such a competent secretary in Mrs. S. E. Clary, but is fortunate in having Mrs. J. D. Proctor fill out the unexpired term, as secretary. Those present other than members of the club were Mesdames. E. K. Proctor, S. McIntyre, L. R. Varser, Richard Normont and Misses Lillian and Leslie Proctor. Mrs. R. C. Lawrence will entertain the club June 26.

Taft Stakes all on the Steam Roller.

Taft organs which have some regard for their reputation as newspapers have stopped bluffing. The New York Tribune's Sunday table gives Roosevelt 458½ delegates certain Taft only 439½, with 110 seriously contested or unassigned. According to the Tribune's own showing, Taft must get practically all the doubtful and contested delegates to win, as 540 is the number required. The New York Herald gave Roosevelt 452 and Taft 488, including all regarded as "favorable" to the President. The New York Sun persists in recording 526 for Taft but agrees with the Tribune that Roosevelt has 458. The Sun puts down as "unclassified" 8 from Massachusetts and 18 from Texas, which are by right Roosevelt's. Only 22 delegates are to be elected. "T. R." is certain to get the 10 from South Dakota, and if the local politicians attempt to trick him out of the 6 delegates-at-large from Ohio he will raise a row that can be heard from Maine to Texas. Adding 16 of the delegates to be elected this week to the 458 conceded him, Roosevelt will have 474 sure.

Conflicting claims make rival campaign managers' assertions so unreliable that the Brooklyn Eagle has made an independent canvass of each State with the following result:

Total uncontested for Taft	371
Total uncontested for Roosevelt	429
Contested by Taft	33
Contested by Roosevelt	175
Scattering and to be elected	70

Total delegates to convention 1,078
 The National Committee will have to settle contests affecting more than 200 seats. If the committee decide every contest in favor of Taft, they might scrape up 540 for the President. But they would split the Republican party wide open and justify Roosevelt in bolting. When a President has to depend entirely on the steam roller, he may as well throw up his hands and quit.

Last Call for Listing Taxes.

Mr. Wade Wishart, listtaker for Lumberton township, says that the notice he had in a recent issue of The Robesonian about listing taxes was the most effective bit of advertising he ever saw and that this township is pretty well listed; but there are some who have not listed yet and though everybody is supposed to list by June 1 Mr. Wishart will be in the auditor's office at the court house for a few days. And this is a gentle hint for those who have put it off to come up at once. This is the last call.
