

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

That is the nature of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the one remedy for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots. Dr. Pierce tells its every ingredient on the bottle-wraper. Prominent physicians and some of the best medical authorities endorse these ingredients as being the very best known remedies for ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women.

MRS. COFFEY.

This is what Mrs. GENEVIEVE COFFEY, of Longstreet, Ky., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what your medicine has done for me. I was a great sufferer for six years from a trouble peculiar to women, but I am thankful to say, after taking four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am not bothered with that dreadful disease any more. I feel like a new woman. When I first wrote you for advice I only weighed 115 pounds—now I weigh 135. I thank you very much for your kindness. You have been as a father to me in advising me what to do, so may God bless you in every effort you put forth for good. I hope this testimonial will be the means of some poor suffering woman seeking health."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

WILBUR WRIGHT.

Inventor, With his Brother Orville, of Heavier-Than-Air Flying Machine—Followed Light of Dreams.

The death on May 30 of Wilbur Wright has been mentioned. A narrative of Wilbur Wright's career is the story of a man who followed the light of his dreams and contrived a machine for aerial navigation that stands out spectacularly among the wonders of a century of inventions.

Wilbur Wright, with his brother Orville, dreamed of building a craft that would dart through the air with the speed of a hawk, that would defy the storm, that would transform the art of warfare and revolutionize methods of transportation. In the nine years that followed their first successful test at Kitty Hawk, N. C., they have seen their aeroplane driven more than two miles up in space, have heard the purr of their machines as they whirled on their way across the continent and have watched great crowds stand aghast in anticipation as a graceful biplane soared threateningly over the fighting mast of a giant warship, which might have been sent careening to destruction by a bomb from the tiny machine hovering about it.

When death smote Wilbur Wright, he and his brother still were dreaming of further achievements, their chief interest being centered in the making of a machine that would possess greater stability and increased carrying power.

It was while Wilbur was in high school at Richmond, Ind., and Dayton, O., that the brothers began making definite plans for an aeroplane. A few years later they embarked in the bicycle selling and repairing business at Dayton. In their shops they found plenty of opportunity for experiments, and when a gasoline engine was perfected in the automobile's rapid strides, they saw a dawning light. In 1902 the brothers had built their first air machine and in 1903 they went to a remote section, near Kitty Hawk, N. C., where they could try out their invention. With Orville Wright in the biplane, Wilbur and his mechanic witnessed the first successful flight of a heavier-than-air machine.

The story reached the world, but the brothers, characteristically silent, kept mum until two years later, when at Dayton, O., Orville Wright made the first long distance flight.

This was the beginning of the end of their struggles. The machine was patented throughout Europe and both brothers were forced to tour the continent, hobnobbing with kings. Then the United States government bought a machine, and in the few years since then the industry has grown to such large proportions that the Federal government maintains a special bureau to gather statistics on manufactures and exports.

Mr. Wright was born in Millville, Ind., in 1867. He was educated in high schools in that section, but declined to attend college. He said he preferred to hurry to "real work." He never married.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man in Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a God-send to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption to-day, if I had not used this great remedy." Its guaranteed to satisfy, and you can get a free trial bottle or 50-cent or $1.00 size at all druggists.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST FLIES.

The Public Should Know the Worst About Flies That They May Govern Themselves Accordingly.

Raleigh, June 3.—(Special.)—In discussing the "real facts about flies" the State Board of Health, in a bulletin now in press, says: "Flies are the vilest creatures afflicting mankind." After taking this stand the Board proceeds to explain that the only objections to flies used to be because they were pests and torments. "Later," says this authority, "we learned about the fly's breeding places, his habits of life, and the possibility of his carrying nauseating filth on his body from stables, garbage cans and privies to our houses, our persons, and our food. Then it was that flies became extremely disgusting, to say the least. By far the greatest objection to flies, however, now comes from the fact that we know conclusively that, besides being a discomfort and carrying filth, they spread tremendous amounts of disease. Besides actually dropping bacteria and filth from their feet and legs, flies may transmit disease by discharging their vile, disease laden excreta either directly or indirectly upon our food."

In summing up the remedy the article states that "for immediate protection and probably for many years to come we shall have to resort to screening all doors and windows. But the time will come when our municipal authorities will waken up to the gravity of the situation and abolish flies by abolishing their breeding places. Then we shall pass and enforce ordinances requiring the screening of all manure and the general use of sanitary privies. Until then, however, the individual householder may do much with wire swatters and sticky fly paper in the house and fly traps on his garbage can outside."

The sundry civil appropriation bills for 1913 reported to the House of Congress Monday carried, among other items for North Carolina, $200,000 for improving the Cape Fear river above Wilmington and $5,000 for the Cape Fear.
