

IN "THE LAND OF THE SKY."

Largest Apple Orchard in North Carolina—Robesonians Homeward Bound.

Waynesville, Aug. 28—The beautiful land of the sky looks more beautiful than usual this morning, and as it is our last day here I am taking my fill of looking at Junaluska. Eagles Nest hotel looks white in the sunlight. Some of our boarders are gone up this morning. Hal, Carl, and Miss Hattie and Hector McPhaul went up yesterday and were delighted with the view but were tired enough to take hour naps when they returned.

We went out over Pigeon Gap last Saturday and saw the largest apple orchard in North Carolina, something like two hundred acres of trees, and each one laden almost to breaking with apples. Between the rows of large trees are small ones to take the place later on of the old ones. Beyond there in a lovely green valley. We rested and took pictures and drank more of the delightful horse apple cider. The doctor has decided that I am a "topper", but cider one day old doesn't seem to effect the head.

Another lovely drive is out west Waynesville to Mr. Gilmer's farm, where there is a picturesque log cabin and a spring, the water "whereof maketh the heart glad", but makes the teeth ache with coldness. Mr. Gilmer expects in the near future to have a handsome hotel with pleasure grounds and a lake second to none. The lot the doctor owns is near this and I scrambled and puffed up the hills to the site and built my bungalow (in my mind) at once.

When up there we overlook the town of Waynesville and I am hoping to build that bungalow in reality and enjoy the view and the breeze.

There are still large crowds here but more are leaving than are coming in now and these, with myself, will miss the loveliest time in the mountains, bracing and bright September days.

The doctor has met lots of old friends and has been here so often he knows most of Waynesville, but duty calls us home and we leave in the morning for Asheville and from there will go straight home, I expect.

Our trip has been about half long enough. Next time we will start sooner.

Movements of the People Out Back Swamp Way.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Back Swamp, Aug. 28—We are glad to have Rev. Mr. Kendrick with us. He is helping Rev. D. P. Bridgers in a meeting here this week.

We regret to lose from our community Mr. J. A. Thompson and family, who have moved to Lumberton.

Mrs. D. A. Prevatt of Rowland spent last week with Mrs. L. B. Barnes. Misses Vivian and Bettie Smith visited in Pembroke last week.

Mr. L. B. Barnes spent last week "sight-seeing" in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and other places. He reports a nice trip.

Mrs. Frances Prevatt and daughter Miss Emma and Miss Vivian Smith are expecting to leave this week for Mullins, S. C., to visit relatives.

Mrs. W. H. Bullard spent last week with relatives in Mullins, S. C.

Mr. Henry Howell returned last week from a visit to his sister Mrs. Maie Nance, of Marietta.

Miss Quessie Prevatt left Monday for Buie's Creek to enter school.

Couple, 108 and 73 Years Old, Respectively, Joined in Marriage.

Patterson, N. J., Dispatch, Aug. 28th.

All known marriage records so far as the age of the contracting parties is concerned were broken here today when Timothy Griffin, 108 years old, and Lucy Woody, 73, were wedded by a minister. Griffin and his bride nominally have been married for more than 50 years, having been slaves on the same plantation in North Carolina before the war, and according to the negro man's story, having entered into the connubial state by the old slave custom of jumping over a broomstick. Recently they decided upon a religious communion, however belated.

Howellsville Happenings.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Howellsville, Aug. 27—Fodder pulling is the order of the day. Messrs. H. C. Blackwell and Nash and H. F. Kinlaw left yesterday to enter school at Buie's Creek.

We are sorry to report the death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams.

Messrs. H. B. at P. B. Kinlaw spent last Friday in St. Paul's.

Mr. J. R. Kinlaw is spending a part of this week in Wilkes county on business. Mrs. P. B. Kinlaw is spending a few days with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cryssler, near Wilksboro.

Mr. J. F. Blackwell spent Monday in Lumberton on business.
