

AN INTERESTING TRIP.

A Visit to Brunswick County and Some Interesting Things Observed—The "Live at Home Plan"—Children's Day Soon.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Mt. Eliam (Orrum, R. 1.), May 26
 —Without a doubt that was an interesting trip we made last week. It was Friday a. m. that we in company with Rev. Paul T. Pritt and Mr. D. F. Parker boarded the A. C. L. train at Orrum and went via Chadbourne and Bolton to Makatoka, in Brunswick county. Then we went by the power of nature till we were on the coast of the briny deep. Eighteen miles of the trip was made in an "old field pullman" drawn by a tram engine, and while going the eighteen miles we never saw a single house or an acre of cleared land; but knowing that there was something to be seen further on we continued our journey in good faith, seeing many curiosities to us. The way many of the residences were built, being weatherboarded, as well as covered with shingles, was the first thing to draw our attention. Then the way they farm. The principal crops are potatoes and peanuts. They plant the potatoes and don't bed them and transplant as we do, and the way they raise them is a caution. Believe "Jack," they have got Robeson on the peanut question, for I am sure we cannot raise them ready parched. Different from what we expected, we found the people the most hospitable, kind and genial of any we have yet struck. It was while here we had the eat of our lives—clams, oysters, sheep, goat, beef, ham (and it cooked so it fits), and—well, just what one could wish for in the eat line was there. Did we say we found the people the most kind of any we have yet run across? Yes, and we mean it. The thing that impressed us most was the way they go to church. In a place where you can go four and five miles and not see a house they have a Sunday school with an average attendance of over one hundred. If our folks, as thick settled as we are, would take pride in the church and Sunday school work as those people do we would have to tear away all the old and build new churches. We never heard an oath while down there, and never saw a cigarette, which speaks well for a community. We attended preaching Friday night and Saturday and were in five services Sunday. Sunday night we helped to organize a young man's prayer meeting at Mt. Pisgah, and when a chance was given for all that had not been in the habit of reading and praying in public and would do so in the future, sixteen young men stood up and said they would, which was a beautiful, touching scene. Don't think we are going to forget to mention fact that there's more girls than boys down there, and that alone would make us like the place mighty well. Monday night found us back on the "Mount" realizing that though it was the best place in the world we like to be

Down on the coast,
 Where pride don't reign,
 But all's looked on
 As being the same.

Miss Mittie Clemmons of Whiteville is spending some time on the "Mount," the guest of Mrs. P. T. Britt.

Mrs. Mary R. Anderson, who has been very ill for some time past, is expected to leave tomorrow for Charlotte, where she will enter a hospital for treatment.

Isn't it nice to be able to sell meat, corn, fodder and other things to pay for what a man has to buy? That's what a good many of our farmers do.

Arrangements are being made for children's day. The exact date has not been determined, but will be at an early date, in due time for us to make it known.

Since the rains have been coming thick and plentiful "general green" is making it hard for the opposing army.

Mr. Julius Stephens of Saddle Tree spent Sunday on the "Mount."

Did you know that all the large sea fish such as sharks, saw fish and others have at all times on their nose a small fish for a pilot?

We have a few of The Robesonian Bibles on hand at 98 cents each where you pay $1.50 on your paper, in front or behind.

If you could use a husband, let us know. We have got another one who wants a loving wife.

—HAPPY JACK.

DAVIS TAXED $10.

Supt. of Anti-Saloon League On Charge of Assault With Bottle in Defending Blind Tiger Detective.

Raleigh News and Observer, May 31. Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, was fined $10 and costs upon the charge of assaulting Wiley P. Straughan May 10, and Mr. Straughan was fined $20 and costs for assaulting Bertram Green, a blind tiger detective. Mr. Davis appealed.

This was the result of the trial of Messrs. Davis and Straughan yesterday before a big crowd in the police court, Justice W. C. Harris presiding. Mr. Harris believed that the evidence of seven or eight witnesses against Mr. Davis, all of whom swore that Mr. Davis attacked Mr. Straughan with a whiskey bottle or that he struck him with some kind of glittering instrument.

Mr. Davis appeared for himself before the court and made the argument to the court before the decision was rendered. While it lacked the legal tactics it was a splendid argument and would have been a credit to the literary ability of any lawyer.

The testimony of several witnesses against the minister was in the main that on May 10 Wiley Straughan and Bertram Green were in an affray and that the minister struck Straughan over the head badly lacerating the scalp.

This affray between Green and Straughan came as the result of the trial of James Chappell. Young Chappell was charged with retailing and Green was the witness against him. Chappell was discharged and at the conclusion of the evidence, Justice Rotter dismissed the case. Green and Mr. Davis walked down the stairs and Straughan sailed into Green. It was in that fight that Mr. Davis is alleged to have used the whiskey bottle on Straughan. The warrant was sworn out three days later.

Steamer Goes on Rocks—Efficiency of Wireless Again Demonstrated.

Queenstown Dispatch, May 29. The American Line steamer Haverford, which sailed yesterday from Liverpool for Philadelphia with 134 cabin and 850 steerage passengers aboard, went on the rocks westward of Corks Head this afternoon while feeling her way cautiously in a dense fog. A big hole was torn in her forward compartment.

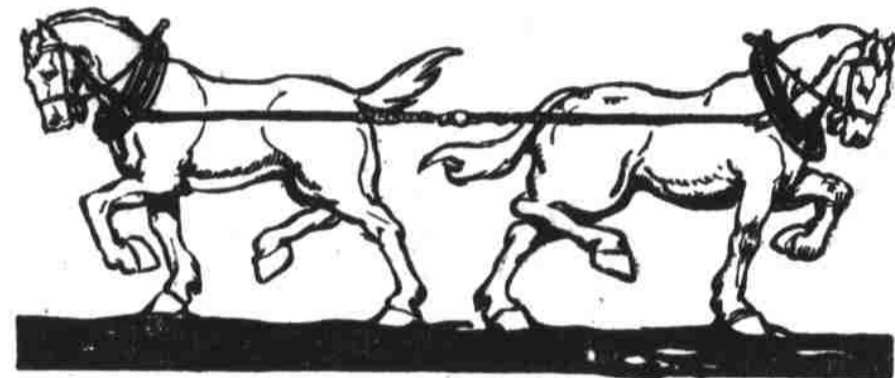

The wireless again demonstrated its efficiency. Within a few minutes the ship was in communication with Queenstown. First aid in the form of tugs which ply between the port and passing liners were sent to the rescue. Before dusk all the passengers, with light luggage, had been safely brought ashore. When the last passenger was taken off there were 15 feet of water in the fore-hold.

National Maine Monument Dedicated.

New York Dispatch, May 30. In memory of the 267 officers and men who were lost with the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, fifteen years ago, the National Maine monument was dedicated here today. From a dozen American warships, units of the Atlantic fleet at anchor in the Hudson river, a salute of 252 guns echoed from the Palisades, as the veil was swept aside and revealed the country's tribute—a pylon 40 feet high, that stands in Central Park overlooking Columbus Circle.

Noted citizens spoke words of praise for the dead heroes of the war with Spain and for those who live; former President Taft, the Secretary of the Navy, the Governors of Maine and New York, representatives of the Cuban republic, and others took part in the exercises.

What Team Work Will Do

These horses don't get anywhere because they are PULLING AGAINST EACH OTHER.

Hitched together as a team they could pull a load bigger than themselves.

It is the same way with men. Pulling against each other they get nowhere.

Pulling together they accomplish wonders. The only way to make a town advance is BY TEAM WORK.

The last census shows that many American cities and villages advanced marvelously, others almost stood still, while others actually went backward.

It is a 16 to 1 bet that in the growing towns you will find a UNITED CIVIC SPIRIT. They support a board of trade, a commercial club or some other form of organized boosting.

It is just as certain that in the towns standing still or going backward will be found factionalism and bickering—the citizens pulling in different directions.

Even horse sense ought to teach men the advantage of pulling together.

TEAM WORK—that's the secret of TOWN BOOMING—team work!
