MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1913.

There is much virtue in music. It hath long been considered that it hath charms to soothe the savage breast, and now it is thought possible to lure mosquitoes to their death by musical vibrations.

The Robesonian learns from the Gastonia Gazette that Mr. G. G. Page, formerly principal of Harmony Heights Academy, near Maxton, has recently become editor of The Progress, a weekly newspaper published in Gastonia.

It will not do to tempt too far the special Providence which is supposed to protect drunkards, fools and babies. A drunken man who was doing reckless stunts on an excursion train the other day was knocked off the train by a bridge as he was hanging off the coach steps at arms length and instantly killed.

The Robesonian is genuinely glad that Rev. C. H. Durham is to remain in Lumberton. Members of other denominations feel, as every member of his own congregation feel, that his work here is by no means done and that he could not be spared. A touching proof of the esteem and love in which he is held was given at the church last evening when he announced his decision, the congregation rising en masse and singing joyfully "Praise God From Whom All Blessing Flow." No wonder it brought the tears to Mr. Durham's eyes. It was a tribute to make any man of real worth feel both proud and humble.

The Wilmington Star carried the following advertisement in its "want" columns the other day:

"Adventure—Am college man; speak Spanish; a good mechanic and engineer (steam and gasoline); understand modern arms and ammunition (Colt's 41); experienced in the handling of men; expert ocean navigator. Am willing to tackle anything in the way of adventure which promises zest and excitement, but would prefer something having to do with the sea and pirates. Twenty years, more or less, in age and know how to take orders."

That young man is evidently tired of a quiet life. If he is really in earnest and is not afraid, he might get action by running over into South Carolina and trying to start something with Governor Blease; or, better still, he might join that dear Cip. Castro in Venezuela land.

The Robesonian is indebted to Representative Godwin for a few copies of a very valuable bulletin recently gotten out by the United States Department of Agriculture entitled "Fifty Common Birds of Farm and Orchard." This bulletin is intended to serve the very practical purpose of enabling farmers and their boys and girls to identify the birds that frequent the farm and orchard. "Entomologists," quoting from the introduction to the bulletin, "have estimated that insects yearly cause a loss of upwards of $700,000,000 to the agricultural interests of the United States. Were it not for our birds the loss would be very much greater, and indeed it is believed that without the aid of our feathered friends successful agriculture would be impossible. A knowledge of the birds that protect his crops is, therefore, as important to the farmer as a knowledge of the insect pests that destroy them." This bulletin is beautifully illustrated and contains much interesting and useful information. The Robesonian has four copies that it will be glad to give to the first of its friends who may call for it, and any others who want it may obtain a copy by writing a card to Mr. Godwin, who advises The Robesonian that he will no doubt be able to supply all demands for it.

$1,000,000 FOR ROADS.

Robeson county ought to be especially interested in the proposition upon which the people of Wake county will vote on the 12th of this month—a bond issue of $1,000,000 for roads. Robeson some day in the not-distant future will, it is to be hoped, tackle a similar proposition. In regard to this proposed bond issue the Charlotte Chronicle says:

"Down in Wake county on August 12 they are going to vote on a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the construction of a complete and modern system of highways in that county. Such a sum would give Wake county a completer and more thoroughly adequate system of good roads than any county in the Carolinas can now boast of probably, although Mecklenburg has spent more than twice that sum in the construction of roads. They have worked out a most attractive proposition in Wake. The bonds are to mature in 40 years and it is estimated that the present road tax of $85,000 will pay the interest and create a sinking fund sufficient to retire the issue and leave $28,000 a year for the repair and maintenance of the roads. This latter sum will naturally increase, and very rapidly too, after these roads are down, so that no trouble is anticipated in keeping the roads in good shape. The majority of the votes cast in the election will determine the issue, there being no vote against the registration. Both The Raleigh News and Observer and The Raleigh Times are strongly advocating this progressive move and from this distance it appears that the issue will carry. We sincerely trust that it will, both for Wake county and the rest of the State."

THE ADVERTISER.

It is always safer to trade with the man who advertises. The merchant who does not advertise has to pay, in the long run, for the advertising that his more progressive competitor does. The Yorkville Enquirer hits off the man who advertises about right in the following:

"The man who advertises is fearless. He courts the light. He dares all and sundry to put him to the test. 'This is what I offer,' he says in effect. 'Can you beat it? Can you do better elsewhere? Make comparisons and then do business with me only if you find it is to your advantage.' There is nothing hidden about the advertiser. He stands up for himself, for his goods, for his reputation, for his town. He wants everybody to know him. To know his methods of business and his manner of treating customers. This makes it safe to do business with him. Having spent much money making his name known, he cannot afford to have it tarnished, and he will go much more than halfway in an effort to correct a misunderstanding that is not of his making. He wants to tell more than the bare truth, to do more than what is really square. Deal with advertisers for a square deal."

ADD ROBESON.

The sweeping campaign against all the fees of good health in North Carolina in recent years have sprouted forth in a variety of forms. Among the newly developed agencies is the individual county employing the undivided services of a physician to guard the health and welfare of its people, and seven counties in the State have thus far been classified. They are Guilford, Durham, Richmond, New Hanover, Sampson, Rockingham and Johnson.—News and Observer.

Add Robeson to the list. This county was one of the first three counties in the State to employ a superintendent of health to devote his entire time to the work. For more than two years Dr. B. W. Page has been on the job, and no county in the State can boast of a more efficient superintendent of health.

Representative Godwin introduced the other day a bill providing for a $75,000 postoffice for Dunn with the provision that $10,000 additional be appropriated for a site. Which reminds us that Lumberton's progressive citizens might do well to put up to Mr. Godwin the need of this town for a decent postoffice building. Ten thousand dollars have been made available for a site but no appropriation has been made for a building.

It is estimated that the monetary damage done by the terrible storm which swept Washington last Wednesday will exceed $1,000,000. It will be years before the beautiful parks of the city will be restored to their original beauty.

PANIC-MAKERS HOBBLLED.

Secretary of Treasury Relieves Financial Stringency—Administration on Side of People.

Raleigh News and Observer.
On yesterday the Republic of the United States gave emphatic assurance that it is on the side of the people and against the men of Wall street who like beasts of prey pounce upon the means of falling upon their fellows and devouring their honest earnings.

Mr. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, relieved the financial stringency with a word in the announcement that he would deposit from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 of money in the banks of the South and West to move the crops. This breaks down the corner in money that the powers of Wall Street had created. There will be no panic now. "The jig is up," the scheme has fallen down.

For six months now the menace of a money panic has been held over the heads of the people of the United States. Certain "interests" were greatly offended when Woodrow Wilson was elected to the Presidency. They had enjoyed the protection of a graft-ridden tariff and the favors of an interest-bound political party so long that they conceived that the Republic of the United States existed for them. They determined to ruin Wilson's administration; and they proceeded to tie up the money of the country. How effectually they have paralyzed circulation is known only to those who have applied for loans since March. The banks have practically ceased to lend money; and recently the inability to obtain money brought about a grave condition. How to move the crops now about to be harvested was the uppermost question of the hour.

All the while New York bank balances showed that there was plenty of money in the country—most of them showed cash on hand equal to from thirty to forty per cent of deposits. Call money (money used largely in stock-gambling) was easy; but commercial loans were practically prohibited. The plot to make a squeeze; depress prices of stocks and of crops and of stocks; to buy low and later to sell high, meanwhile injuring the Wilson administration in the eyes of the people, was complete. But "the jig is up," Secretary McAdoo has turned the flood-gates of the United States Treasury loose—he is sending it not to New York, where it would be promptly locked in vaults, but to the South and West, where the farmers of our country will get the benefit of it.

This is the first fruits of an Administration pledged to serve the people of America rather than the interests; not only so, it is the first token that in the battle of those interests with the Administration the Administration has the courage and the resource to win.

Secretary McAdoo has his eyes wide open and he has them upon Wall street, for he knows where to look for the trouble-makers. For the third time he has shown that he has matters well in hand, and that he knows how to meet conditions as they arise. At the first whisper of a manufacturing panic he gave notice of $500,000,000 of United States reserve money ready to meet it; when the influences and the interests attacked the Government's two's and forced them down he called their hand; and now as the greatest of all his practical handling of these matters he places ready from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 to provide for the moving of the crop. Indeed "the jig is up" for the panic-makers, for they have met their match—in Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and the Wilson Administration.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

OLD PROVERBS.

From Bailey's Dictionary, 1766.
Jack Will Never Make a Gentleman.
This Proverb teaches, that every one will not make a Gentleman, that is vulgarly called so, now-a-days. There is more than the bare Name required to the making him what he ought to be by Birth, Honour, and Merit: For, let a Man get never so much Money to buy an Estate, he cannot purchase one grain of Gentility with it; but will remain Jack in the Proverb still, without Learning, Virtue and Wisdom, to enrich Faculties of his Mind, to enhance the Clory of his Wealth, to ennoble his Blood; for, put him into what Circumstance you please, he will discover himself one time or other, in Point of Behaviour, to be of a mean Extract, awkward, ungentle and ungenerous, a Gentleman at Second hand only, or a vain-glorious Upstart.

Oh! never wear a brow of care, or frown with rueful gravity,
For wit's the child of wisdom, and good humor is the twin;
No need to play the Pharisee, or groan at man's depravity,
Let one man be a good man, and let all be fair within.
Speak sober truths with smiling lips; the bitter wrap in sweetness—
Sound sense in seeming nonsense, as the grain is hid in chaff;
And fear not that the lesson e'er may seem to lack completeness—
A man may say a wise thing, though he say it with a laugh.

The coward never on himself relies,
But to an equal for assistance flies.
—Craabe.

Charged That Trust Caused Downfall of Robt. Harris & Bro. Greensboro Daily News, 2d.

In effect charging the American Tobacco Company with the responsibility of their downfall Wm. C. Harris, of the firm of Robt. Harris and Brother, tobacco manufacturers of Reidsville, filed a statement yesterday before Referee G. S. Ferguson. The paper was submitted at a hearing of the creditors of the company yesterday morning.

It states "that Robert Harris and Brother have lost the accumulations of a life in their effort during the past years to sustain and keep alive the only remaining independent brand of tobacco of importance which was manufactured and sold in competition with the great tobacco trust. That in this death grapple with the trust, contending with its policy against the independent manufacturers to 'buy those that they could not butcher,' and to 'butcher those that they could not buy,' the firm of Robert Harris and Brother fell as a last victim to its rapacious methods."
