IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Mrs. H. T. Pope Entertains in Honor of Mrs. Keyfauer of Fayetteville.

Reported for the Robesonian. One of the most delightful social events of the season was given Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock by Mrs. H. T. Pope, when she was at home to her friends in honor of her house guest Mrs. Keyfauer of Fayetteville.

The home was artistically decorated in pink, yellow, green and white softly-shaded candles and lights throughout the house.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. L. T. Townsend, cards being received by little Miss Amanda Allen and they were then ushered into the parlor, which was lovely in pink and green. Mrs. Irvin Jenkins presented the ladies to the receiving line. In this were Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Keyfauer and Mrs. E. K. Proctor. They were then shown into the tea room. The color scheme here was yellow, decorations in pink and yellow chrysanthemums. Mesdames J. A. Sharpe, P. P. Gray and R. E. Carlisle served tea and sandwiches, assisted by Misses Myrtle and Margaret Pope.

At the door leading into the hall, Mrs. D. D. French directed the guests to the dining room, where Mrs. A. E. White received at the door. The decorations here were lovely in green and white. The centerpiece was a large basket of white, carnations and ferns that was most beautiful. Mesdames N. A. Thompson and J. D. McAllister receiving, delightful refreshments were served by Misses Sadie Thompson, Emma Higley, Lee Pope, and Sadie Ray Pope. Misses Ethel Williams and Mayce Glasgow furnished music for the afternoon with violin, piano and vocal selections.

During the afternoon one hundred guests called.

The Philatheas of the First Baptist Sunday school will entertain the Baracas tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the ladies' parlor at the First Baptist church. This social was to have been given last Friday night but was postponed on account of the weather.

Mesdames M. F. Caldwell and C. V. Brown will entertain at the home of Mrs. Caldwell, Caldwell street, this evening in honor of their guests Misses Annie Bailey Jones and Lucile Marshall of Raleigh.

A Horrible Threat.

Dillon Herald. It is bad enough for Editor Sharpe, of the Lumberton Robesonian, to persist in writing it "Dillon, S. C." and for the sake of peace in the family we are willing to overlook the insinuation, but when he writes it "Dillon county South Carolina," forbearance ceases to be a virtue, and if we ever catch him across "the line" what we'll do for him will be a plenty. Two years in the South Carolina Legislature is mild punishment for such an offense.

Church Services.

At Chestnut Street Methodist church yesterday the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. B. North, preached two excellent sermons, his text at the morning service being "We shall know as we are known" and at the evening hour "Feed my Lambs." There has been a marked increase in attendance at services at this church during the short time Dr. North has been pastor. At the morning service yesterday Miss Lulie Marshall of Raleigh, who is a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Page, sang a solo which was greatly enjoyed by the congregation.

At the First Baptist church yesterday the pastor, Rev. C. H. Durham, preached two excellent sermons, his subject at the morning hour being "The keepers of the base" and at the evening service "Some lessons from the life of Martin Luther." At the morning service Mr. J. P. Snead of Rappahannock county, Va., who is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Varner, sang a solo and at the evening service Miss Julia Culbreth, director of voice at Carolina College, Maxton, sister of Mrs. B. W. Page of Lumberton, also sang a solo, both these special features being greatly enjoyed.

Paint or Not

Is a horse worth more or less after feed?

Hay and oats are high today; shall I wait today and feed him tomorrow?

That's how men do about painting their houses and barns and fences. Paint has been high for several years and so they have waited. Some are still waiting.

Their property drops a trifle a year and the next job of paint creeps up, creeps up, creeps up; it'll take more paint by a gallon a year; they don't save a cent, and the property goes on suffering.

ORRUM OCCURRENCES.

Debate at School House February 27 —Lyceum Course Entertainments —Personal Mention.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Orrum, Feb. 20—The Alkahest Lyceum Bureau presented the Boston Lyrics at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, this being the second number of the series for this year. The Alkahest always presents artists and the entertainment was up to its usual high standards. Mr. Jordan's solos were highly appreciated and Miss Wells pleased immensely in her monologs, musical reading and pastel readings. The last was decidedly good, the readings being illustrated by pastel drawings done by Mr. Jordan, both reader and artist reaching the climax together. The Maybaphone played by Mr. Jordan and Miss Wells in duets was a decidedly new instrument for this place.

On Friday, the 27th, there will be another entertainment at the high school building. The principal feature will be a debate, "Resolved, That the Constitution should be so amended as to have the initiative and referendum form of directing legislation." Messrs. Gualtney McDowell and Luther Britt will uphold the affirmative side of the argument, while Messrs. George Nye and W. Y. Floyd will do battle for the negative. The debate promises to be interesting and the entertainment good. The judges have been selected from the Lumberton bar.

On March 2nd, the Alkahest Lyceum Bureau will present Mr. Denton C. Crowl in the famous Sam Jones lecturer. Mr. Crowl is not an imitator, but what is called a "portrayalist," and reproduces Sam Jones lecturers as Sam Jones delivered them and is the only person who does.

The Misses Johnson from Bloomington, Miss Maur from Barnesville and Messrs. Roger Pitman and Pitman Barnes from Barnesville attended the Lyceum entertainment.

Dr. W. A. McPhaul of Lumberton was a welcome visitor in our midst Tuesday evening.

Misses Ashcraft and Edwards visited Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Haynes at Bloomington Thursday evening.

Misses Edwards, Huntley and Prevatte will attend the teachers meeting at Lumberton tomorrow.

Mr. K. Y. Prevatte, who had been spending some time here with home folks returned today to Florence, S. C., where he has a position.

Mr. B. L. Floyd was a business visitor in Fairmont Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinson Powell spent yesterday at Lumberton with friends and relatives.

Misses Leon and Myrtle Leggett of Nye's were pleasant visitors in town Tuesday evening.

Local Counsel and Witnesses in Newton-McArthur Case.

Messrs. A. W. McLean and L. R. Varner, of counsel for the defense in the Newton-McArthur case on trial in the Federal Court at Raleigh, which is attracting wide attention, being perhaps the biggest case ever tried in the State, came home Saturday night and returned to Raleigh this morning. Mr. C. V. Brown, cashier of the Bank of Lumberton, summoned in this case as a hand-writing expert, was detained in Raleigh all last week without being placed on the stand. He came home Saturday morning and returned to Raleigh this morning, expecting to be able to return home tomorrow. Mr. Frank Gough, also summoned as a handwriting expert, testified Friday and returned home Saturday.

Mr. Gough is confident that the signatures on the note of $25,000 in question are forgeries, and so testified. The famous handwriting expert Carvalho, whose testimony is reported elsewhere in this issue, also is of the opinion that the signatures are forgeries. Mr. Gough was one of the very few men besides bank cashiers that were able to qualify as experts, others being turned down. Mr. Gough's extensive experience as a railroad man and general merchant enabled him to qualify, also the fact that he had qualified and testified as an expert in other court cases.

Mr. Gough when on the stand asked to be excused from giving names in other cases in which he testified, in order not to bring up old matters, and the court excused him from giving names. It is probable that this important case will last through this week.

Among the Sick.

Mr. H. McE. McMillan has been sick at his home for a week, but his condition is reported improved today.

The condition of Mrs Rowland Dees, who underwent a serious operation in Highsmith's hospital, Fayetteville, Friday is as favorable as could be expected.

According to police, Mrs. Anschott confessed at Pittsburg the other day that she had taken part in many burglaries for which her husband, who is 19 years old, was arrested. Dressed as a boy, the hair cut short, the police say, she stood guard outside the houses with a revolver hidden under her coat, while her husband robbed them.
