SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET.

Quarterly Meeting of Mt. Eilam Sunday School Institute Held at East Lumberton Yesterday—Large Crowds Attended—Address by Mr. Stephen McIntyre—Singing Contest.

No clouds, nor rain nor anything kept large crowds from attending the quarterly meeting of the Mt. Eilam Sunday School Institute held at East Lumberton yesterday. The folks were there from all ways. They began to arrive early in the morning and by 10:30 the church and country round about were filled with South Robeson Sunday school workers. An excursion train from Pages Mill, S. C., brought great crowds of people, every car, even the express car, being filled to its capacity.

The exercises were opened about 10:30 with devotional service, followed by a beautiful address that made all feel welcome, delivered by Rev. W. R. Davis, pastor of the East Lumberton Baptist church. The response was made by Rev. Paul T. Britt of Mt. Eilam, who assured Mr. Davis that everybody felt at home in East Lumberton.

The roll of the schools was then called and all the schools that compose the Institute—eleven in number—were represented. A short report made by some member of each school showed that there is more interest being taken in Sunday school work in South Robeson now than at any time in the past.

At this time Mr. Stephen McIntyre of Lumberton, the principal speaker of the occasion, addressed the Institute on "Duties and Qualifications of the Teacher." Being, as he is, one of the best Sunday school teachers in North Carolina, Mr. McIntyre was ready to deliver the goods. He held his audience spell-bound for about one hour. He said in part, that teaching a Sunday school class was the greatest work on earth except preaching the Gospel, that a teacher should be interested and work for the salvation of his class just as a preacher works for the salvation of his hearers; that a teacher should have a love for his class, and be interested in the future welfare and happiness of his or her students and ever live a clean, pure, model life before his or her pupils. His address was timely, to the point and greatly enjoyed. After his address the meeting was adjourned for dinner, which was spread in great quantities in the grove near the church. There was plenty to eat and plenty left.

At 2:30 the crowd reassembled for the singing contest, which was grand. All the schools which compose the Institute except Big Branch entered the contest, and it seemed that everybody was in the right tune. Better music was never heard in these coasts, than was made on this great occasion. The schools all made the best average ever made in the history of the Institute, according to the report of the judges. It was real live music.

Besides the contest music, there were some very beautiful quartettes and music by some of the small children. This institute is old enough to be free—twenty-one years old—and is still growing as though it was in its infancy. It is doing a great work, a work that will be felt in the far distant future.

The next meeting will be held at Barnesville the fifth Sunday in May.

CITY MAIL DELIVERY.

This is another step cityward for Lumberton, and when the $75,000 postoffice building is erected on the Townsend lot on Elm street, the town will not be lacking in mail facilities.

Repeal Measure Excites Congress—Rumor of Effort to Delay.

A dispatch of the 29th from Washington states that "no legislative issue of recent years has excited Congress as has the controversy over repeal of the exemption clause of the Panama Canal Act." Administration leaders were aroused Saturday over reports that an organized effort would be made in the Senate to delay the passage of the bill. The House was scheduled to resume general debate on the Sims' bill today, leading up to a final vote in that branch late tomorrow night or Wednesday. In the Senate discussion is expected to revolve around one of the many side issues that have arisen.

UNION MEETING ROBESON ASSO.

One of the Best and Most Profitable Sessions in History of Robeson Baptist Association—Union in Favor of Establishing Denominational High School—$50,000 Would Be Needed to Equip—"Russellism" Denounced—Other Subjects Discussed. Reported for the Robesonian.

The Union meeting of the Robeson Baptist Association convened with East Lumberton Baptist church Friday, March 27, at 10:30 a. m.

The meeting was opened with a praise service led by W. S. Johnson of St. Paul's, after which Rev. J. F. Jenkins of Lumber Bridge preached the introductory sermon from Judges 5:23; subject, the "Sin of inactivity." The sermon was clear-cut, and made fine impression on the audience.

At the afternoon service after the enrollment of churches, the following subjects were discussed: "The Doctrines of Our Faith," ably discussed by R. N. Cashwell, and J. J. Scott. "Does everlasting mean everlasting in Matt. 25:46?" provoked an entertaining hour in which speeches were made by M. A. Stephens, D. B. Humphrey, C. H. Durham, W. R. Davis and others. Special emphasis was laid upon the fallacies and errors of Russellism, and the people were warned against reading the literature sent out by the propagandist of "millennial dawnism."

At the night service an interesting and helpful sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Durham and "My Covenant Relationship to my church" was discussed and impressively emphasized by Rev. I. P. Hedgpeth.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the praise service was conducted by Rev. R. A. Hedgpeth, after which the Union entered into the discussion of the following subject: "Shall we have a denominational high school located in Robeson county?" This was discussed by I. P. Hedgpeth, C. H. Durham and R. E. Sentelle. In years no more important enterprise has been considered by the churches composing the Robeson Association than the establishment of a school in the bounds of our association, which would in equipment and curriculum be equal to the best. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that such a school was an imperative need now. It was stated that $50,000 would be necessary to equip such a plant.

In the afternoon the meeting reached high tide in the discussion of "Enlistment work," and "Stewardship," by W. R. Davis, C. H. Durham and others.

At night R. A. Hedgpeth preached and considerable interest was manifested among the unsaved. His subject was "What shall we do." Acts 2:37.

This closed one of the best and most profitable sessions ever held by the Robeson Union.

Villa Captures Gomez Palacio—No Definite News From Torreon.

After four days of fighting, including three desperate assaults by the Rebels, Gen. Villa moved into Gomez Palacio, Mexico, Friday, within three miles of Torreon, the goal of the campaign. There was great loss of life and much suffering among the wounded. Dispatches from Juarez and Mexico City indicate that nothing definite was known last night as to the result of Villa's efforts to capture Torreon. A dispatch of the 29th from Chihuahua states: News that reached here today from the front was unfavorable to the rebels. Several hundred wounded were being provided for at Jimenez, and batches of wounded were distributed at Parral and Santa Rosalia. There are 558 wounded rebels here." Gen Carranza, first chief of the revolution, was welcomed at Juarez yesterday.

Bethesda School Closes Spring Term.

Reported for the Robesonian. Bethesda school ended its spring term with a concert by the pupils on Friday night. Mr. Woodberry Lennon, introduced by Prof. J. R. Poole, the county superintendent, with some helpful remarks, spoke upon the subject of "The Call of the State to the Young." The pupils of the school then gave an excellent concert which lasted until a late hour in the night. The patrons of the school and the county superintendent are especially pleased with the progress of this school. Miss Bessie Johnson and Miss Dora King are the teachers.

May be in Race for Treasurer.

It begins now to look like the water's fine for aspirants for the office of county treasurer. Mr. Floyd F. Townsend of Back Swamp was in town Saturday and told a Robesonian reporter that it looked like his friends were going to run him for treasurer. He didn't say for certain that he would enter the field, but left the impression that he wouldn't run the other way.

Civil Court Begins.

A two-weeks' term of civil court convened this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Geo. Rountree of Wilmington presiding. Nothing of interest was done at the morning session.

PARKTON PARAGRAPHS.

Marriage of Miss Willie Hodges and Mr. A. D. Thames—Visit to Southern Pines and Pinehurst—Robeson Badly Behind That Section on Roads—Plowing Into Roads Should Be Stopped—A Circus and Home-Talent Plays—Painting and Building—New Corn Crusher and Grist Mill. Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Parkton, March 27.—Mr. A. D. Thames and Miss Willie Hodges were united in marriage on last Sunday night at half past seven o'clock at the home of the bride, Rev. H. B. Porter pastor of the M. E. Church officiating, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The groom is one of the best young men of the town, smart and energetic, with a promising future, and at present holds a position with Mr. M. L. Marsley of Lumber Bridge, while the bride is one of Parkton's most lovely and cultured young ladies. We extend most hearty congratulations and wish for them a long and happy life. In this particular Parkton's loss is Lumber Bridge's gain.

The Parkton cornet band filled an important engagement at Southern Pines on Monday, making the trip in two automobiles. Left at 8 a. m. and reached Southern Pines at 11 o'clock, and by one o'clock was at liberty, so immediately after dinner left for sight-seeing, and by 2:30 was on the hills of Pinehurst. As the writer was among the number can say that no one that has never visited this place ever imagined the grandeur of this resort, built and occupied principally by Northern people. You never saw so many hotels in one place in your life, and everybody in a stir playing games of some sort, but mostly golf. In our earlier school days we would pronounce it "shimmy." Hundreds of acres of land are cleared and prepared for the various games, parks, &c. You would find yourself amazed and just to realize, we were only 50 miles from home. The farming section is unlike this of Robeson, as there is no cotton and but little corn raised up there; but peaches, pears, apples, dewberries and raspberries. Some fields of more than a hundred acres growing peaches.

I must mention the roads in that section. The prettiest and fastest roads to be found anywhere. They do not wait until the road is all full of holes and torn up, but they are kept hard by the constant use of road drags. After leaving the hustling town of Rafterd and coming near home the road gets worse and worse.

Robeson is so far in the rear! When will it ever catch up? Never until we get a move on. If we fix up a respectable public road the people will allow the plows to spoil it. Where are the rural police that they don't fix the farmers that plow up the public roads in old Robeson? As for Parkton township, it will be a grey old day before we will have any better roads as the three trustees that have been appointed seem to be very well contented, and if the road is one cent better today than the day they were appointed we fail to see it. Why not see that the road boundary is kept clear of the plows? Somebody should be reported, as there is a road law governing the bounds of a public road; but people ignore it and scarcely find a place out of town that automobiles can pass each other, and there are plenty of places that it is impossible to pass. One fellow has to drive in the field and let the other pass. A $50 fine should be drawn from some of these road plowers and maybe the rest would stop.

Tuesday and Tuesday night were lively sure enough, as there was a real circus in town. Almost any kind of wild animal could be seen. Tuesday night at the auditorium of the graded school there a grand play given by the young ladies of the St. Paul's graded school, entitled "Not a Man in the House." This play was greatly enjoyed by a good-sized house. Time and space will not permit of all the important details. Suffice it to say Miss Livingstone and Miss Maud Poole were stars, and when "The College Boy" by the girls was exhibited the cheers were sufficient to have them repeat the dose. It was time and money well spent to witness such an entertainment. Miss Poole at the piano was a treat. The Parkton school, or a small portion of them are at St. Paul's tonight to exhibit their play, "The Colonel's Maid." Every automobile in town and all that could be here from Lumber Bridge and St. Paul's are pressed in service and have gone to St. Paul's for a jolly time with the young folks.

Mrs. N. A. Council and Mrs. J. A. Singleton of Red Springs are visiting relatives and friends in town today. Little Glen and Thornton Cobb are quite sick with pneumonia.

The following parents placed on the honor roll—Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Candy, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Culbreth, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McIntyre—all three fine little boys.

Mr. J. P. Watts is having his residence painted, Mr. D. C. Culbreth new barn and stables.

Mr. A. J. Garris has added a brand new corn crusher to his grist mill. This is one of the best things for the community that he could do. Mr. J. C. D. McNatt is also installing a new grist mill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Williamson and baby, Master Donovan, will spend Sunday in Lumberton with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Justin McNeill.

Mr. S. A. Willis of Saddle Tree was among the visitors in town Saturday.

AN APPEAL TO PARENTS.

Children's Parties Seriously Interfering With Graded School Work—An Epidemic of "Puppy Love"—Girls That Ought to Be in Short Dresses And in School are Wearing the Apparel of Grown-Ups and Playing the Part of Young Ladies at Parties and in Their Parlors—Several Have Dropped Out of School.

To the Editor of The Robesonian:

Alexander Pope, in his Essay on Criticism, said: "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." I may be a living exemplification of the truth of his statement. I will leave that to the people of the town to pass judgment on. I want to register an earnest appeal with the people of our community not to have any more children's parties until the graded school closes the last week in May.

We have heavier work before us for the remaining two months than in any two previous months in the history of the school, and it now looks like we will be confronted at the close of school with more failures of promotion than in any former year.

Parties and school work will mix no more than will oil and water, and if parties are not eliminated here during school months, it looks like we had better close the high school grades. These parties have a demoralizing effect on the pupils—as far as their studies are concerned—and we have failed this year more than ever before to get pupils to rivet their attention on their text books. There is the worst epidemic of "puppy love" among the boys and girls I ever saw in any student body, and every party that is held spreads the contagion. Several have neglected their studies until they have had to drop out on account of weak eyes. Others have stopped because of indigestion, press of home duties, and so on. A few have dropped out of the ranks because they do not like their teachers. Thus goes forward the demoralization caused by parties and frolics.

Now why should children have parties when school is in session? They are in session every day. They talk, mix and mingle together, and play. And they are happy. Then why have parties, and cause them to lose sleep and neglect home life around the fire-side, and the lessons that should be studied there? Again, why let children "couple off" and parade to and from parties when they are not old enough to understand the meaning of such things? Do we wish to make "little men" and "little women" of our boys and girls? There are some girls now playing the role of housewives who ought to be students in the graded school—robbed of childhood's pleasures. There are other girls in town—mere children—wearing grown people's apparel and playing the part of young ladies at parties and in their parlors. I love the boys and girls of Lumberton and it grieves me to see their young lives turned into the wrong channels.

I appeal to the fathers and mothers of town to co-operate with us in helping the children to keep their minds on their studies. In order to pass their grades there must be less of parties and other distracting practices and more of genuine study.

Supt. Graded School.

FIRE AT OIL MILL.

Fertilizer Plant Sustains Heavy Loss—No More Orders Can Be Filled This Season and Loss to Business Will Be Great.

The fertilizer plant of the Robeson Manufacturing Company in West Lumberton was badly damaged by fire Friday morning about 10 o'clock. Damage to machinery, buildings and stock was estimated at from $7,000 to $8,000, practically covered by insurance, but the loss to business will reach into the thousands, as no more orders can be filled this season. The fire started from a gasoline engine which was used in the mixing room. Several freight cars which were standing near the building were burned before they could be moved.

Recorder's Court—Assault Case Thrown Out.

A rather peculiar case was tried in the recorder's court Thursday afternoon. Gertrude Evans, Indian, as stated in Thursday's Robesonian, entered suit against Libby Ammons, Indian, charging that he assaulted her with a deadly weapon. She claimed that Ammons, who is a married man, passed the school house, where she was in school, about recess time, riding on a wagon, and when he passed her he asked her what she was telling about him, saying his wife had said she (Gertrude) had backed him up in a corner somewhere and given him a good hugging and kissing, which he denied; and when she (Gertrude) said Ammons' wife was a liar, that he jumped out of that wagon with his knife open and cut things up all 'round the school house. Recorder Rowland threw the case out of court.

Jack Scott was tried before the recorder Saturday on charge of trespass, and judgment was suspended on payment of cost.

MALARIAL SEASON BEGINNING; QUININE THE PREVENTIVE

There are three methods of preventing malaria:

1st. The removal of all standing water from tin cans, ditches and ponds near the home in order to prevent the breeding of mosquitoes which carry the germs of malaria from the sick to other people.

Second. Screen to keep mosquitoes out of the home.

Third. And most important, where malaria is very prevalent, each adult should take 10 grains of quinine divided into two or three doses one day in each week during the mosquito season. Smaller doses according to age.

If a person has a mild chronic case of malaria as shown by weakness, pallor and muscular pains, the above amount of quinine should be doubled one day in each week for three or four weeks and then continue during the mosquito season as above mentioned.

If a person has malarial fever (chills) he should take from 20 to 30 grains of quinine a day for three days and then continue one day in each week as above mentioned.

Malaria is too severe and is costing some sections of Robeson county too much energy to neglect these important rules of prevention.
