Among the Sick—Mr. Tom Tolar Will Go to Chicago For An Operation.

Mr. Tom Tolar, who was seriously injured in a fall from a street car in Richmond some months ago and who has been suffering with his left leg ever since he returned recently from Richmond, where he was under treatment for these injuries for some weeks, learned Tuesday in Fayetteville, where an X-Ray examination was made, that his left thigh bone is broken and that his best hope for a successful operation is with Dr. Murphy, a specialist of Chicago. Mr. Tolar left for Chicago last night.

He has suspected that his leg was broken for some time but the doctors at the hospital in Richmond did not think so, though they did not make an X-Ray examination, and assured him that they thought his leg would get all right. Mr. Tolar was accompanied to Fayetteville Tuesday by Dr. T. C. Johnson.

The condition of Mrs. Lina McLean, who has been sick at the home of her son, Mr. A. W. McLean, Chestnut street, for several weeks, is thought to be slightly improved today.

Mr. O. W. Williamson of route 4 from Lumberton underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Cumberland General hospital, Fayetteville, this morning. A message received by his physician, Dr. W. A. McPhaul, this morning says that he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Superior Court.

Civil court has been grinding away slowly since Monday. The following cases have been disposed of: Arthur Hunt vs. Peyrie Hunt, a divorce case, judgment for plaintiff. Judgment has been granted in the following cases: Mary J. McNeill et al vs. Anna J. Buie et al, Ludden & Bates vs. J. J. Barrows, W. B. Brice vs. A. C. L. R. R. Co., M. M. Leggett vs. S. A. L. R. R. Co., Isaac Wilkins vs. Beaufort County Lumber Co., C. A. Oats vs. A. C. L. R. R. Co., A. J. McKinnon Company vs. M. A. Monroe, Currie-Patterson Co. vs. R. C. Townsend, J. W. Carter vs. E. L. Austin. The case of Katie Ann Locklear vs. W. A. Savage et al seems to be taking up considerable time. The case was taken up yesterday morning and had not been finished up to noon today.

Not Disturbed About Late Spring.

Mr. J. L. Monroe, who lives near Elrod, was a Lumberton visitor yesterday. He was here in connection with a long-drawn-out land suit, A. E. Monroe and B. F. McLean vs. J. L. and T. P. Monoe. The case was settled outside of court. Mr. Monroe says he is not disturbed about the late spring. He thinks that, generally speaking, farmers are prone to get in too big a hurry and that nothing is ever lost by spending plenty of time in preparation, in getting good and ready before planting. No use fretting and trying to get ahead of the seasons, Mr. Monroe thinks.

No Move For Union Station Yet.

The Corporation Commission ordered some time ago that Lumberton have a union passenger station after April 1, the Virginia & Carolina Southern to extend its track to the Seaboard station, but up to this time nothing has been done. Mr. J. P. Russell, general superintendent of the V. & C. S., says he is waiting on the Corporation Commission to open the way so they can extend the track.

FELL DEAD IN FURY.

John P. McLendon, A Robeson County Veteran, Struck a Comrade at Soldiers' Home at Raleigh Sunday Then Fell On the Floor and Died in Two Hours.

Raleigh News and Observer, March 31.

John P. McLendon, Robeson county veteran, struck his comrade, James Ray, Sunday evening with a cane, then fell on the floor dying within two hours.

The story leaked out yesterday morning when Coroner Charles Separk went out to investigate the death, which was not known until yesterday. The coroner found nothing that could be charged against the management of the home and all the witnesses gave abundant proof that the old soldier died in a fit of temper.

Mr. McLendon was a crippled man and had to be rolled in a chair. Sunday evening the dead man rolled himself up behind his mate and rapped the infirm old gentleman over the head with a stick. Mr. Ray says he had no idea what moved the Robesonian to strike him; that the same cane was twice used. Mr. Ray then caught it, pulled the wielder of the stick and Mr. McLendon fell over on his face.

"I did not strike him at all," the comrade said yesterday. "I did not try to hit him. I wasn't mad even when the stick hit me and hurt me." Other soldiers say the dead man had an ungovernable temper and that his injuries had worked to greater childishness. He was regarded harmless all the same.

The coroner examined several witnesses who told the same story and there was nothing to do. The cause of the dead man's death came from a ruptured blood vessel and this came from the temper.

He was one of the most enthusiastic of the Confederate rooters at the ball game and is remembered well by many of the fans.

G. C. Fisher to the Soldiers Home. Maxton Scottish Chief.

Hon. G. C. Fisher, a prominent citizen who has represented Robeson in the General Assembly, and was a brave Confederate soldier, left Wednesday morning for Raleigh to enter the Soldiers Home. He is about seventy years of age, and though his general health is good, he does not have the control over his locomotion that has heretofore permitted him to lead an active life. We trust that he may find his surroundings at the home such as may contribute to his happiness and that we may have the pleasure of meeting him often yet.

Circus Pictures Coming Back.

The Hagenbach and Wallace circus pictures which were shown here several weeks ago have been secured for a return engagement and will be run Saturday afternoon and night. These pictures are in 4 reels and in addition to them two other reels will be run, making a six-reel show two hours long, the prices for which will be 10 and 20 cents.
