

A Motor Car To Every 100 People.
More than 1,000,000 motor cars are at present in operation in the United States. The population of the United States, speaking in round numbers, is 100,000,000. That is to say, there is one car for every 100 people. When it is remembered that $500 has been, until this year, the minimum price of an automobile and that in "population" men, women, and children are included, it is evident that in no other field of industry has the American genius for distribution and merchandising been more signally displayed than in that of the automobile.—The World's Work.

"Worth More Than it Costs"

Lots of farmers declare their telephone service is worth more than it costs. J. W. Harris, a well-known farmer living near Choccolocco, Ala., writes:

"I had occasion to call our doctor not two hours after my telephone was connected with your exchange. My mother, who is very old, fell down the door steps and broke her arm, and I called the doctor. He was at my house before I could have gone to his residence, as he has an automobile.

"We would not be without our telephone for more than it costs and appreciate the assistance you rendered us."

Our free booklet tells how you may have telephone service on your farm at small cost. Write for it today. A postal will do.

Six Students Dismissed from Chapel Hill for Gambling.

An account of gambling by students at the State University at Chapel Hill was published in Sunday's papers. A party of 11, including students and citizens of the town, were bound over to court Saturday for playing "craps" and the correspondent of the News and Observer gave names. In Monday's News and Observer a sensational account was given of an alleged attack made upon the correspondent, in which account it was stated that the correspondent had been threatened by a large crowd of students. It was stated that J. D. Kernodle, backed by a party of student sympathizers, struck S. R. Winters, the newspaper correspondent who had given names, but that further threatened demonstrations had been stopped by students. A special of March 30 from Chapel Hill to the Charlotte Observer, signed by the presidents of the senior, junior and sophomore classes and the secretary of the Y. M. C. A., stated that the four freshmen and two law students involved in the game Saturday were immediately dismissed; that when the students were gathered at the postoffice Sunday afternoon one of the men who had been dismissed whose name had been published became very angry and put his hand on the newspaper correspondent's shoulder but that students pulled him away and that no blow was passed; that there was no mob waiting outside for the correspondent and that there was no mob spirit among the students, a majority of whom, with the faculty, were opposed to gambling. The names of those implicated in the gambling, were given as follows: Jack Sparrow, a citizen of the village; W. J. Patterson, a druggist; Nat J. Cartmell, trainer of Carolina's track team; Floyd Booker, who operates an automobile between Chapel Hill and Durham; J. D. Kernodle, of Graham, a member of the freshman class; Julius Johnston, Jr., of Yanceyville, a law student; F. C. Jones, of Plymouth, a law student; G. B. Crowell, a freshman of Charlotte; M. B. Warren, an automobile chauffeur, and Ralph Andrews, of Chapel Hill, a pharmacy student.

The Story of the Dollar That Stayed at Home.

Wilmington Star.
Did you ever hear the story of the dollar that was kept at home? Some time ago The Star contained an editorial on keeping money at home, and the paper containing the article fell into the hands of a man in Cincinnati. He so appreciated that article that he wrote us and commended it very highly. He assured us that Cincinnati appreciated the importance of keeping Cincinnati money at home, that the chamber of commerce of that city has for several years kept up a campaign for the purpose of impressing on everybody in Cincinnati the value of money kept at home and the consequent importance of making it a policy to buy everything that can be bought in Cincinnati instead of sending Cincinnati money away for it.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce in order to press the matter home, published an illustrated story of the dollar. We don't attempt to repeat the story, but it covered about this ground: This dollar (illustrated) was made in Cincinnati; this dollar was spent in Cincinnati; this dollar was kept in Cincinnati; this dollar was banked in Cincinnati; it helped to pay a check on a Cincinnati bank; it stayed in Cincinnati and went the rounds in Cincinnati; to the butcher, to the milk man, to the grocer, to the shoe dealer, to dry goods store, to the newspaper office, and in and out of every place of business in Cincinnati. Nobody in Cincinnati sent it away. It was put in the bank either every day or every week, and the bankers kept it going by sending it out on its rounds by paying it to those who called for money.

Probably as many as 500 people handled that dollar during the year, and everyone bought a dollar's worth of goods with it, so it was the medium through which $500 worth of goods were sold. The cash was paid and there were no collections to be made at considerable cost. Of course that dollar was joined by thousands of others, and altogether they went into the channels of trade and made the volume of business done in Cincinnati many times greater than the actual number of dollars going from one hand to another.

Put the dollar in a stocking, lock it up, or send it away, and what would be the result? It would lessen the circulation just that much and be worthless as a medium of exchange for doing a volume of business amounting to a dollar every time it would be handled. Fifty people handling it would do $50 worth of business with it, and 500 handling it would do $500 worth of business with it and it would do the business there and be lost in channels of trade where the dollar was made.

Nothing So Good For a Cough or Cold.

When you have a cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. There are many who consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy unsurpassed. Mrs. J. Boroff, Elida, Ohio, says, "Ever since my daughter Ruth was cured of a severe cold and cough by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy two years ago, have felt kindly disposed toward the manufacturers of that preparation. I know of nothing, so quick to relieve a cough or cure a cold." For sale by all dealers.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes anyone so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value should be a blessing to thousands of nervous over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive a sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Miss Sophia Lowery of Greenwood, S. C., was awarded $1,000 damages in a suit against the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railway by a jury at Spartanburg Thursday. She claimed that she had been humiliated by the conduct of drunken passengers on a Clinchfield train and sued for $3,000.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR TREASURER.

In announcing myself to the voters of Robeson county for the office of treasurer, I wish as earnestly and deeply as I can to extend my most sin-cerous support in the past. I am now on the sunset side of three score and ten in life's little race and will appreciate your votes more than ever before.

In the natural course of events of the human life I cannot ask your favors to fill this office but a few more fleeting years. All I can promise is to fill the office as heretofore, honestly and as courteously as I can.
