Crops Looking Better—Protracted Meetings—Mr. Andrews Ivey Injured—Personal.

Correspondence of The Robesonian. Raynham, Aug. 3.—The crop looks a great deal better this morning as we had a very nice little rain here last night. The corn crop will be somewhat short this time on account of no rain. Tobacco is bringing a good price.

The protracted meeting will start at Raynham next Sunday afternoon, August 9, at 4 o'clock. Have not heard yet who will help Rev. Mr. Bridgers carry on the meeting.

Sorry to report Mr. Andrew Ivey hurt Saturday while hitching his mule up. She jerked the shafts down on him and began to paw him before his wife and a colored man could get him out of the way. He can't walk any yet. Hope he will soon be all right again.

The protracted meeting will start at Pleasant Grove Tuesday night after the third Sunday in this month.

COVER CROP CAMPAIGN.

Plans for Winter Cover Crops in North Carolina.

The Farmers' Co-operative Work, conducted jointly by the U. S. and State Departments of Agriculture and the A. & M. College, is now starting plans for winter cover crops in this State. Efforts put forth in this matter the past season resulted in the adding directly of 42,300 acres of such crops. The management will make a strenuous effort to double the acreage this season. County Demonstration agents are already at work on the matter. Every farmer, merchant, banker, and all who are interested in promoting better farming are asked to join in the movement.

The crops advocated for this State are: rye, for very poor soils; crimson, bur and red clover; vetch, with a support crop; and grasses of various mixtures. Last year a hundred acres of grasses, scattered well over the State, produced an average of 5,600 pounds of cured hay per acre, at a net profit of $31.00 per acre. This shows that we have splendid conditions for growing all the hay and grazing crops needed in the State and some to sell.

The legumes mentioned are usually more profitable than grasses because they gather—free—expensive nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil. Farmers can get it this way much cheaper than by purchasing it.

These winter growing crops are very valuable. For grazing, cutting for forage or turning under to increase soil fertility, they are easily worth $10 per acre and often several times this amount. Often the crop that follow them is doubled in yield. Furthermore, they reduce washing and leaching and add organic matter—something that practically all soils are deficient in. Every acre of cultivated land should grow at least two crops per year, one in the winter and one in the summer. One may be a food crop or a money crop and the other a soil improvement crop. Lands that lie bare during the winter months often lose more plant food through leaching and washing than is used by the crop that grows there during the summer.

It behooves every farmer to give this matter his attention. The important thing to do right now is to decide which crop or crops he will grow, procure good seed, and then break his land at once to a depth of from 5 to 12 inches. Profitable crops are rarely grown on shallowly plowed soils. Harrow the land the same day it is broken to prevent loss of moisture, and so have it ready to plant when the time arrives.

There is no reason why every farmer in the State should not plant some clover on his farm late in August or from then till the middle of October. Those who are not acquainted with clover growing should not plant more than an acre or two the first season. Information concerning the matter may be had by requesting it of our State and National Departments of Agriculture, our A. & M. College, or Mr. C. R. Hudson, Raleigh, N. C., who inaugurated and is pushing the matter. Where there are demonstration agents, farmers enjoy the advantage of a personal interview by calling on them.

Mrs. A. B. McPhaul.

In a moultrie, Ga., paper of recent date is a beautiful tribute to Mrs. A. B. McPhaul of Moultrie, whose recent death was mentioned in The Robesonian. She was the wife of a brother of Dr. W. A. McPhaul of Lumberton. From this tribute the following is taken:

"Mrs. McPhaul joined the Methodist church when she was a child and was always consistent and faithful in her Christian relations of life. In addition to these noble virtues, she possessed features of beauty and a gentle, musical voice that graciously expressed the sweet and holy light of her loving soul. Through her kindness of life and the sincerity of her friendship, she made her neighbors her friends and they loved her in the likeness of her own spirit. In her home life her soul found its real pleasure and its crown. Everything about her took on the likeness of her white and beautiful life. Her deft and industrious fingers filled her home with the objects both useful and beautiful, beyond that, many of her friends shared graciously in the loving fruits of her skilled handiwork. She has vanished from us in her bodily form, but she has left us in the radiance of her imperishable and unfading goodness. May the hundreds who knew and loved her feel the lifting power of her noble love and be inspired to imitate her goodness as we believed she followed the Lord."

Candidate Wound and Just Had to Speak When the Time Came.

Mr. Arch Prevatt, who presides over the county jail deposes and says: The other day when the candidates were due at a certain place at 11 of the clock State Senator G. B. McLeod, who is a candidate for re-election, was detained on account of a breakdown and when the hour came at which he was down to hold forth to the voters on the momentous issues of the day he just had to speak, so he cornered an Indian, the only man in sight, and lit into him with a red-hot campaign speech, and said his piece before the bewildered and helpless audience of one knew what was being done to him. Mr. Prevatt vows that the candidate was wound up like a clock and had to strike when the hour came—had to strike or bust. So he struck.
