COUNTY SCHOOL WORK.

School Betterment Associations Being Organized—Monthly Report Card.

Prof. J. R. Poole, county superintendent of Public Instruction, laid special emphasis on betterment work at the teachers' institute in Lumberton some weeks ago and he is getting encouraging reports from the schools as they are opening over the county. The following taken from a letter of the 26th ult, from Prof. M. K. Meadors, principal of the Fairmont graded school, to Supt. Poole is encouraging: "We had a very good opening this session and had several patrons present and some of these gave earnest talks for the good of the school. We organized a Betterment Association on the opening day and the association has already raised by entertainment $26 for school improvement purposes. We have more than 100 pupils on roll now for the beginning of the term and others will come in until the public school begins and then we are crowded to the capacity of the class rooms."

Betterment associations will no doubt be organized in practically all the schools in the county this year and they will do a great work. Supt. Poole has purchased monthly report cards for the schools of the county. These cards will be sent to the teachers and examinations will be held in all the grades at the end of each month. The teachers will fill out the cards, send the same to the parents to be looked over, signed and returned to the teacher.

All teachers will be glad to confer with parents in regard to the interest of the children as pupils of the school and especially in cases where the reports show poor progress. Parents should examine these reports carefully each month as they will show clearly the grade of work each pupil is doing.

Son of Rev. A. J. Groves Married at Henderson.

The following from the Henderson Gold Leaf of the 22d ult. will be of interest to many Robesonian readers: "Mr. Lacy B. Groves, formerly of this city, but who now holds a responsible position with Al Fairbrother's Everything at Greensboro, and Miss Clara Amos, the youngest daughter of Mr. James Amos, of Henderson, were married Saturday afternoon at the Presbyterian manse on Charlotte street. Rev. R. A. White officiated. A number of relatives and friends of the couple were present to witness the ceremony. Immediately after the marriage the bride and groom left on train No. 3 for Greensboro, where they will make their future home. "They have the best wishes and congratulations of a large number of friends in this city. Mrs. Groves comes of a most excellent family, and has lived in Henderson all her life. She is very popular with a large circle of the younger people. "Mr. Groves is the son of Rev. A. J. Groves of the North Carolina Methodist Episcopal Conference, who is pastor on St. Paul circuit." He came to Henderson a little more than three years ago. He has been working at Greensboro since last spring."

"THE DINGBAT FAMILY."

(By the Press Agent.)
The jester's tinkling staff and merry jingle, with the sinuous dancing girls has since the days of prehistoric times that even antedate the theatre, been the favorite amusement of mankind. Musical comedy is the one standard attraction that always pleases. The only question is which musical comedy is the one to see. If one might judge by reports that reach us of the wonderful reception everywhere given "The Dingbat Family," and the record-breaking business that it is doing all along its route; there would seem but one answer to this question. This latest of laugh-provokers, adapted from Herriman's famous newspaper series, will make its local bow here at the Lumberton opera house Monday, October 5, with an exceptionally large and capable company and a large chorus. Seats on sale at McMillan's tomorrow.
