LEGISLATORS WANT ADVICE

Robeson Members of Legislature Will Meet With Magistrates Saturday
—All Citizens Who Have Suggestions to Offer Their Representatives Urged to Be Present or Send in Their Ideas.
Senator Geo. B. McLeod and Representatives M. Shepherd and G. B. Sellers have agreed to meet in Lumberton Saturday when the magistrates of the county hold their meeting and they want all citizens of the county who have any suggestions to offer as to legislation needed for Robeson county to meet here with them. The meeting will be held at the court house at 11 a. m., at the same time the justices of the peace of the county are to meet, as has been stated in The Robesonian.

The General Assembly will meet Wednesday of next week, January 6th, and the men elected to represent Robeson county in that body will welcome any suggestion any citizen of the county feels like making as to what should be done. For instance, repeal of the lien law is being agitated. Some citizens of Robeson county are in favor of its repeal; others are not in favor of its repeal. Senator McLeod says he and Messrs. Shepherd and Sellers would like to hear from citizens of the county as to what position they want their representatives to take on that matter. Then there is the question of segregation, which is coming up, and a State-wide legalized primary, the road law, etc. The $2 tax in the road law is to be repealed, but is anything else to be done to the law as it stands now?

Senator McLeod says for one thing he wants the county attorney made assistant solicitor, so that he may investigate cases beforehand and summon only necessary witnesses. In this way he believes enough money would be saved the county to pay the county attorney's salary many times over. All who have suggestions to offer are requested to put them in writing and file them with their representatives. And of course any who receive this notice too late to bring or send their suggestions in time for the meeting Saturday need not consider that they are thereby debarred from expressing their opinions, for they may write their representatives at any time privately, or The Robesonian will be glad to publish at any time any suggestions any citizen of the county feels like making through the press.

A WISER PROGRAM

Cotton Acreage Will be Greatly Reduced in Robeson. Also Amount of Commercial Fertilizer.
Judging from the way farmers generally talk about the matter, the cotton acreage in Robeson county will be greatly reduced next year, and the amount of commercial fertilizers used as well. As a rule the farmers use about twice as much fertilizer under cotton as they do under corn anyway. The slogan of the Robeson farmers seems to be "We'll reduce our cotton acreage and fertilizer bills, raise more cattle and food stuffs and by so doing live at home."

More Acres in Small Grain; Cotton Acreage Reduced.
Mr. J. W. Smith of route 5 from Lumberton was in town yesterday. Mr. Smith says the farmers in his section have planted a great many more acres in small grain than usual, and he thinks the cotton acreage will be greatly reduced next year.

Food Crops in Place of Cotton.
Mr. W. T. Tedder of route 2 from Fairmont was among the visitors in town yesterday. Mr. Tedder says the farmers down about Fairmont and vicinity will plant quite a bit of tobacco next year. He also thinks that food crops will grow on many acres that have been growing cotton heretofore.

Wilmington Cargo of Cotton For Germany First to Go Through Dutch Port.
The Hague, Via London, Dispatch, 30th.
The American steamer A. A. Raven, which arrived at Rotterdam December 24th, from Wilmington, N. C., with 6,600 bales of cotton was the first vessel to reach a Dutch port since the outbreak of the war, with a cotton consignment for Germany.

The steamer was held up 24 hours in the English channel by British warships for examination of her papers. The freight charges for the Raven's cargo were $10 per bale, which is five times the normal rate. This increase was due to the great war risks attending imports destined for Germany.

It was stated here today by an American agent that the alarming reports concerning the dangers of navigation in the North Sea might have a tendency to drive the rates still higher. Since the war started, the German imports of cotton are said to have amounted to 50,000 bales, most of it going by way of Gothenburg, Sweden, to which port sixteen vessels now are steaming. They are due to reach Gothenburg inside of two weeks. Their cargoes aggregate about 75,000 bales.

MT. ELIAM MATTERS.

A Quiet Christmas—Movements of the People.
Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Mt. Eliam, (Lumberton, R. 4), Dec. 29.—Christmas passed off very quietly around here. On account of the bad rain we failed to have our Christmas service Friday at the church, but we had some service Saturday and took our collection for the aged ministers.

On account of the cold and rainy weather there was no preaching here Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tead Hilburn and Mr. Fred Hilburn of Fayetteville spent Saturday night and Sunday with their sister, Mrs. P. T. Britt. Mr. Grover Britt of Lumberton, one of The Robesonian's boys, spent Saturday on the Mount visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Orion Martin have moved to Columbus county. They were good neighbors and good church and Sunday school workers and they will be greatly missed. We hate to lose them. Mr. I. V. Britt, who moved off last year, will move back to the same place he left in a few days. We are glad to say Rev. P. T. Britt who has been in Brunswick county for nearly 2 weeks will return home tonight.

Mr. Austin Phelps, who held position with Preacher Britt last year on his farm, is back on the job again for another year.

There is not much news on the Mount. I will close wishing The Robesonian and all its readers, a happy and prosperous New Year.

Raft Swamp News Notes and Personal.
Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Raft Swamp, (Lumberton, R. 6), Dec. 28.—Everybody had a nice time during Christmas and enjoyed themselves fine. There were some folks that went hollying Christmas Eve and took an enjoyable ride with Mr. Odum's buggy, but after a distance of about half a mile the ride changed to a very rugged ride, for the animal that was pulling the buggy left the road and took across Mr. W. C. Townsend's field. Mr. Odum found his buggy about the middle of the field. There was no damage done to the buggy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bullock, who had been spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bullock for their home at Laurinburg. ## WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Items of Interest From the Nation's Capital—Congress Reassembles—Political Talk—Attack On the President—The Philippine Incident—Other Items of Interest.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Washington, Dec. 30.—Congress reassembled Tuesday after one of the shortest holiday recesses in history. It is not likely that much will be accomplished until after the beginning of the new year, but the leaders are anxious to take advantage of every working day in order to complete the strenuous program. The immigration bill is the unfinished business before the Senate, but it is very probable it will be sidetracked by the appropriation bills, some of which are now ready for consideration in the upper House. Senator Lewis of Illinois is leading the fight against the bill in its present form and has announced that he will introduce an amendment at the proper time to eliminate the literary test. If he is successful it will probably result in the defeat of the entire bill. As was generally predicted, the prohibition resolution was defeated in the House. Supporters of that measure, however, are well pleased with the showing made. Though they failed to command the necessary two-third vote demanded by the Constitution the vote showed a majority of eight in favor of the resolution. Representative Hobson announced that he would immediately offer another amendment, slightly different from the one just defeated. It will be impossible to bring it up for action in the present session but it gives him an opportunity to continue the fight.

They failed to reach the woman suffrage amendment before the holidays and it is likely its consideration at an early date will see a re-enactment of the lively scenes during the discussion of the prohibition amendment. When the appropriation bills for the army and navy are taken up in the House they will undoubtedly provoke a great deal of discussion. Proposals for substantial increases in both branches and the strengthening of the national defenses have been exploited throughout the present session and will give rise to spirited debate when they reach the floor. The Government ship purchase bill is before the Senate and its friends will endeavor to bring it up for action at the first opportunity.

Although it is rather early to make predictions as to candidates in 1916, many seem to think that two members of the present Cabinet will be contestants for seats in the Senate. Postmaster General Burleson is regarded as a likely candidate for the seat of Senator Culberson of Texas. New Jersey Democrats are favoring Secretary Garrison to succeed Senator Martine. His record in the present Administration would make him a valuable man in the Senate. The attack against the President and the effects of his policies, launched by Governor Colquitt of Texas, has created an unusual amount of interest. Coming as it does from a leading Democratic Governor it is likely to foreshadow the growth of serious opposition. Several Democrats are somewhat displeased because of the President's attitude on certain measures and his failure to always meet them in "common counsel", but the majority are of the opinion that the President's position will be greatly strengthened when normal business conditions prevail.

The Senate Committee on the Philippines will make an investigation into the reported uprisings in the Islands. Action on the Jones bill, already passed by the House and pending in the Senate, granting a greater degree of liberty and looking to the ultimate independence of the Islands, will probably be influenced by these reports and it is the desire of the committee to discover the real facts. Some have advanced the opinion that the revolt was a staged affair by the opponents of greater freedom for the Islands. When the new Federal Trade Commission is organized it will find that the Bureau of Corporations, whose work it will take over, has much valuable data which will be of great service. The Bureau has made an exhaustive study of the industrial field and classified the various corporations, coming under its jurisdiction. They are now engaged in making a complete summary of their eleven years' work. These reports will list the principle corporations, private and public, and give data as to the process of manufacture, organization and financial control.

President Wilson celebrated his fifty-eighth birthday on Monday, the 28th. No special observance was held at the White House but he spent the day quietly with his family. Congratulatory messages from all over the country poured into the Executive office, throughout the day. Washington enjoyed the full lights of a white Christmas. The great community Christmas tree, illuminated by hundreds of lights, was placed in front of the Capitol and thousands enjoyed the exercises held and the program rendered by the Marine Band on Christmas Eve.

Stockholders Meeting.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Lumberton will be held at its banking rooms at 11 o'clock Tuesday, January 12, 1915.

LAND-OWNERS WANT RELIEF

Taxpayers of Back and Jacob Swamp Drainage District May Ask Legislature for Privilege of Issuing Refunding Bonds to Meet First Bonds That Fall Due—Meeting Held Yesterday.

At a meeting of land-owners of the Back and Jacob Swamps drainage district held here yesterday a committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility of issuing bonds to pay the first several bonds as they fall due. The following were appointed on the committee: W. P. Barker, chairman; J. B. Sellers, D. B. McNeil, D. H. Britt, Rory McNair. This committee is to investigate the matter thoroughly and make such recommendations as they think best to a meeting of all the land-owners of the district to be held at an early date.

Mayor A. E. White was elected chairman and presided at the meeting, which was held, as stated in the last issue of The Robesonian, for the purpose of discussing plans for relief of the taxpayers of this drainage district, work on which was only recently completed. The first of the bonds, sold some two years ago, fall due next year, and it was supposed when they were sold that owners of lands which will be benefitted by the canals which have been dug would realize benefit from the work before any bonds fell due.

Mr. T. L. Johnson, attorney for the district, was called on at the meeting yesterday and advised that the only relief in sight would be to issue refunding bonds to take care of the bonds as they fall due, which would require an act of the Legislature. Mayor White stated that the refunding bonds should be issued for 5 years at least.

The only action taken was the appointment of the committee named above.

BROAD RIDGE BREEZES

Store Burned—Roads in Bad Shape—Less Guano and More Food Crops—New Residence—Personal.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Broad Ridge, (Orrom, R. 1), Dec. 28.—Christmas passed off quietly in these parts. We saw but little drinking going on. Most everybody stayed at home on account of so much rain.

On Christmas night the store here formerly owned by the late J. I. Stone, then being run by Mr. John Bullock, was burned down. The cause has not yet been learned. We understand it was covered by insurance.

Miss Mary Surles and Miss Clide Howard, our teachers, left last Thursday for their respective homes to spend the holidays.

Mr. Vester Britt of McDonald's visited these parts last week. Some of our roads here are getting in awful bad shape. Guess they will get O. K. when summer comes. Oh, you road law!

Lots of our farms are cutting stalks, etc., and will soon begin plowing. All say more plowing, more hog and hominy and less guano.

Mr. J. R. Lawson is building a new residence on his farm near here. Mrs. E. H. Surles of Lumberton is spending some time here with her mother, Mrs. Jane Britt.

BULLET HOLE THROUGH BODY

Body of Pat McEachern of Wakulla Section Found in Ditch—No Clue to Murderer.

Mr. Pat McEachern, aged about 50 years, a well-to-do farmer of the Wakulla section, was found dead with a bullet hole through his body in a ditch four feet deep near his home in the afternoon of Christmas Day. Mr. McEachern had been hunted by his family and neighbors for several hours, as he had not been seen by them since Thursday evening about 8 o'clock. There is no clue as to who the murderer was.

The following account of the murder is given in yesterday's Fayetteville Observer:
"Mr. Patrick McEachern of Robeson county was ambushed and shot to death on Christmas eve about 7 o'clock by some unknown person, robbed and thrown into a ditch where his body remained until about 9 o'clock Christmas morning, when it was discovered by passers-by."

"Mr. McEachern was returning in his buggy from Maxton to his home near Harmony with a good many Christmas and Santa Claus articles, and when near a big branch, not far from his residence he was shot from ambush. All of the goods in his buggy were stolen and his person robbed of his pocketbook, containing a good sum."

"Mr. McEachern was one of the largest and most prominent farmers in Robeson, was a good man, a highly esteemed neighbor and citizen, and his death is greatly lamented. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father. He leaves a wife and eight children."

—Mr. Thos. N. Surles of Orrom passed through town Tuesday evening en route to Raleigh, where he goes to apply for enlistment in Uncle Sam's Navy.

—Mr. C. H. Odum of route 1 from Elrod was among the visitors in town this morning. Mr. Odum was looking for a stray mule, and decided the surest way to find him was to place an ad in The Robesonian, which he did.

—Morrow Brothers Quartet will be the attraction at the opera house this evening. This is said to be a high-class attraction which is sure to delight anybody who likes good music.

—Miss Viola Jenkins, daughter of Mrs. D. W. Jenkins, will undergo a throat operation this afternoon. Dr. R. S. Beam will perform the operation, which is not thought to be serious.

—Sheriff R. E. Lewis is turning the tax books over to the collectors in the various townships, which means that all who have not "come across" will be waiting on with the cost added.

—Mr. N. O. Covington, the young man who was hurt by his auto the day before Christmas, mention of which was made in the last issue of The Robesonian, was able to leave yesterday for his home at Winston-Salem.

—In the report of the county meeting of the Farmers' Union it was stated that Mr. J. D. Gibson of Red Springs was appointed cotton grader. The name should have been David D. Gibson instead. J. in the place of a D, an dit's right.

—Mr. S. L. Martin, for more than a year a popular salesman in the McDonald drug store, left Thursday last week for Leaksville, where he will spend some time visiting relatives before entering Page's School of Pharmacy, Raleigh. —Mr. W. C. Brown, formerly of Lumberton, now of Fairmont, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Brown owns near Fairmont a 15-horse farm which he has been renting to tenants for a stated rent, but he decided that during times like these, when merchants are sailing closer to the wind, so to speak, furnishing tenants, he would better move closer to town and look after things himself.

—Mr. F. A. Crabtree, an experienced photographer of Atlanta, Ga., has bought an interest in the Ferguson Studio, and will be associated with Miss Lillian A. Ferguson in the picture business here. When it comes to making high-class pictures, Miss Ferguson is in the front row, and perhaps no town in the State has a more up-to-date picture gallery than Lumberton.

—Mr. F. Grover Britt of Lumberton, secretary-treasurer of the Robeson County Division of the Farmers' Union, has been appointed by State President H. Q. Alexander a member of the State educational committee. She is about 75 years old.
