DEVELOP GREAT INDUSTRY

What State-Wide Fish Commission Means to People of North Carolina According to Chairman of Senate Fish Committee.

News and Observer.
"Virginia's income from her oyster industries is now three million dollars," says Senator McNider, referring to the fish bill which has just passed the Senate.

"And Virginia used to buy oysters by the ship load," he continued, "from this State. Now we buy 'em from Virginia. The changed conditions in Virginia are due entirely to the beneficial effects of a law like the one we have just passed in the Senate. The law has been in operation there 15 years. It brings in an average revenue to the State of $38,540 in excess of all expenses."

"Rhode Island has also found this law highly profitable—as every State has done where it has been put into effect, and as North Carolina will find also.

"In the opinion of men competent to judge the fish and oyster industries of North Carolina can be developed to a point superior to that of Virginia's. And Virginia last year sold $3,700,000 worth of oysters alone—don't forget that important fact.

"North Carolina enjoys what is known as 'closed waters'—that is, water, entirely under the control of the State, which is a vital advantage.

"These closed waters and State control will assure us of the Federal government's most active co-operation. The national government has a larger interest in the food supply of the country than that of the individual States, and to those States exercising control of its fish and oyster industries it extends most valuable assistance indeed.

"The people of North Carolina now recognize the fact that its fishing industry is no longer a local matter. It is both a revenue producing and a vital food question. Shad that used to cost 25 cents now cost $1.25 to $1.50. Shad used to be found as far west as Wilkes, 451 miles from the sea, in Chatham and in Moore. They are about as rare there now as teeth in a hen's mouth.

"The fish commission will not cost the State over $10,000 annually and will soon result in producing larger quantities of a valuable food and much lower prices than now prevail.

"This has been Virginia's experience and it will be ours. Therefore the man living in Murphy has as much interest in conserving the sea

100 PER CENT FERTILITY

Mr. Mike Caldwell's Eggs Were Hatched Out On Yards of Mr. J. A. Carlyle at Buie.

To the Editor of the Robesonian:
If you are so kind as to spare the space in your valuable columns of the Old Reliable, The Robesonian, I want to suggest a correction in one paragraph of an article published in the issue of last Monday and headed "Chicken Fanciers."

The paragraph referred to is the one in which you give the record of 15 White Leghorn eggs set by Mr. Mike Caldwell that hatched 15 chickens. I am sure that Mr. Caldwell would be proud of such record and any man has a right to be proud of 100 per cent fertility in eggs produced by his hens, because this shows that the breeding stock is in the healthiest condition possible and that they are being cared for with an eye to this point and it is indeed seldom that any poultryman can boast of such a record for fertile eggs. However, I am sure that Mr. Caldwell would render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, hence this correction. The 15 White Leghorn eggs referred to were laid on my yards and were set on my yards and hatched on my yards and sold to Mr. Caldwell when about 48 hours old. I have since then tested 100 eggs that I have setting in incubators and only find 7 infertile eggs in the lot of 100—another high record for fertility.

If you wish this statement verified, please call on Mr. Caldwell for verification. Many thanks for your kindness.

food of the State as the man living at Manteo.

"Years ago this bill passed the House, but was defeated in the Senate. I believe it will become a law at this session," concluded the chairman of the Senate fish committee, who has made a hard and consistent fight for the bill.

MRS. EMILY McD. McALLISTER.

Step-Mother of Mr. J. A. McAllister of Lumberton Passes Away in Texas—Nearly 100 Years Old.

Payetteville Special, Feb. 26, to Wilmington Star.

At an age which lacked not many days of the century mark, Mrs. Emily McDougald McAllister, formerly of Cumberland county, died at the home of her nephew, Dougald McDougald, in Bryan, Texas, on the 18th of this month, according to news just received here. Mrs. McAllister was the last of her immediate family, but had numerous relatives and still more friends in the Cape Fear country, and the tidings of her death, even though at such an advanced age, will be heard with sorrow by many people. She was Miss Emily McDougald and was born in Bladen county on March 27, 1815, and therefore would have become a centenarian had she lived 37 days longer. She had been a widow over half a century.

In the 40's she married the third Alexander McAllister, grandson of Col. Alexander McAllister, the Scotch pioneer and Revolutionary soldier, he being the third of the four generations of Alexander McAllisters who for a century and a half served as ruling elders of the old Bluff church at Wade in this county. In 1857 her husband was killed by lightning. Though her own two children died young she raised three step-children: the late David S. McAllister, D. D., the late Mrs. H. A. McSwain of Wade, and Mr. John A. McAllister of Lumberton.

Activities of L. & N. Scored.

Washington Dispatch, Feb. 25.
The Inter-State Commerce Commission's report on its investigation of the finances, rates, and practices of the Louisville & Nashville and allied railroads, sent to the Senate today, charges the Louisville & Nashville with acquiring competing lines and with carrying on for years at a cost of millions of dollars, elaborate political and publicity campaigns, to eliminate competition and influence public opinion.

Further inquiry, and if possible, inspection of the railroad's correspondence was said to be necessary. The report was written before the Supreme Court handed down its opinion yesterday holding that the commission was without power to force the company to submit its correspondence as well as its records and books to scrutiny.

Wilmington dispatch, Feb. 28: Property owners of Wrightsville Beach are now engaged in the rather novel method of balloting by mail for town officials, who were nominated recently at a mass meeting of the resort residents in the Chamber of Commerce here. Thos. H. Wright was re-nominated for mayor, which office he has filled for several years, and Messrs. J. Allen Taylor and L. Stein were nominated for aldermen. When the ballots have been returned the result will be made known to Governor Craig, who will make the appointment.

Hawaii Invites Three Tar Heels to Visit Country.

Washington Cor., Feb. 26, Raleigh News and Observer.

Senator Overman and Representatives Kitchin and Pou have been invited by the Hawaiian government to join a congressional party to visit Hawaii the latter part of April. Senator Overman is seriously considering taking the trip with his wife and daughters, as the Hawaiians will pay all expenses, and it is likely that the representatives will go also. This trip is one of several which the Hawaiians have tendered members of Congress. The purpose of the trip is to acquaint legislators with Hawaii, which is dependent on the United States government for appropriations. Hawaii has found it difficult to secure appropriations for Federal buildings, for one thing, and is anxious to create a favorable sentiment toward the islands.

LONG BRANCH LOCALS

More "Hog and Hominy" and Less Cotton—School O. K.—Personal Mention.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Long Branch (Lumberton, R. 4), Feb. 26—Farmers in this section are preparing for another crop, and are going to try to make more "hog and hominy" and less cotton.

Rev. I. P. Hedgepeth preached two excellent sermons here Saturday and Sunday, which the writer enjoyed very much.

Those who attended the Baraca and Philathea convention from here, which was held at Maxton February 21, were Messrs. A. L. Stone, Herman Britt, and J. H. Sutton, Misses Henrietta Ammons, and Mae Branch. They report a nice time.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of Mr. N. C. Long, principal, Miss Euphemia Tyson, assistant.

Mr. J. E. Britt and son, Master Hildebreth and little daughter, Etta Mae, spent the latter part of the week with her mother, Mrs. L. A. Edward.

Those who visited in this section Sunday were Messrs. June, Melton, Furman Ivey, Parker Nye and Troy Lawson of Orrum.

Misses Lizzie Ivey and Appie Atkinson spent Sunday afternoon with Misses Lou and Clara Britt.

Mrs. J. W. Branch and little son, Master Stinson spent Wednesday of this week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Stone of Mt. Elham.

Mrs. Neil Collins and son, Mr. D. Y., of Smyrna spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Collins' brother Mr. Willis Barnes.

Listen out for the wedding bells. They will ring in spite of hard times.

Mr. Eli Britt killed a pig one day last week that tipped the scale at 200 lbs. It would pay us all to raise more hogs.

Miss Sallie Stone, who has been very sick for several weeks, is improving, we are glad to note.

Mr. John Lamb and family, who recently moved to Back Swamp, decided that Long Branch was the best place after all, so they moved back. They leave but are glad to return.

Let everybody remember our Sunday night prayer meeting, and come.

Jailed at Whiteville on Charge of Abetting Theft of Stamps.

Whiteville Special, Feb. 25, to Charlotte Observer.

Charged with aiding and abetting the theft of 82 10-cent postage stamps from the postoffice at Mill Branch in Brunswick county in February, 1912, John Summersett was lodged in jail here yesterday afternoon in default of a $200 bond required by Commissioner H. C. Moffett, before whom the young man was tried. He was arrested in Brunswick county yesterday morning by Deputy Marshal H. L. Fennell of Wilmington, and bound over by Commissioner Moffett to the May term of Federal court to be held in Wilmington.

Summersett is about 21 years old, and, according to the evidence, received the stamps from a young man named Mintz, now enlisted in the army, and sent them to a Chicago mail-order house for a watch. According to Summersett's story, he thought it an entirely legitimate transaction and traded the Mintz boy a bicycle for the stamps, and had no doubt forgotten he was ever a party to any such transaction until arrested by Marshal Fennell.
