MARIETTA NEWS MATTERS

Mr and Mrs. W. M. Oliver Entertain in Honor of First Wedding Anniversary—Another Delightful Social Event—Personal.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.

Marietta, Oct. 5.—On October 1st at 8 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Oliver entertained at a stag dinner, the occasion being the first anniversary of their wedding. The dining room was beautiful in its decorations of yellow and white. The centerpiece on the table was a long mirror, the edge being outlined with a tiny border of goldenrod. In the center of this mirror was a handsome cut-glass vase, while a bowl was used at each end. These were very artistic, filled with goldenrod, which carried out the color scheme used in their beautiful wedding, which took place in the First Baptist church of Hickory. Place cards with small white rose buds were used. The guests were shown into the dining room by Mrs. Oliver, who was handsomely gowned in yellow satin. They were received by Mrs. W. T. Jenrette, who was charming in white, and Miss Rachel Oliver, who looked lovely in yellow. Dinner, in five courses was served by Mrs. Oliver, assisted by Mrs. Jenrette and Miss Oliver.

As the guests left the dining room, Mrs. S. M. Oliver, presiding at her player-piano across the street, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. From her home the G. W. Club, of which Mrs. Oliver is president, marched in the front door led by Mrs. T. C. Parham. While dinner was in progress these ladies had slipped in the front door and arranged a surprise for Mrs. Oliver, who was shown to a beautifully decorated chair over which was suspended a wedding bell.

The men were given seats while the club members stood by a lovely table. Miss Rachel Oliver, in a graceful and charming manner, presided as toastmistress, while the following toasts were given: To Mr. and Mrs. Oliver—Mellie Hill; To the Bachelors—Mae Oliver; To the Bachelorettes—Mrs. Jenrette; response by Ada Henley; To Our Club President—Mrs. T. C. Parham. This merriment was closed with a toast by Miss Oliver. At this time an express wagon, beautifully decorated, was drawn down the hall by little Miss Willie Dell Parham, daintily attired in white lace. Stopping in front of Mrs. Oliver, she in her sweet childish way handed her a package, saying, "Mrs. Pansy, here's a 'spress package for you.'" Upon opening the package, many pretty and useful cotton articles were displayed. The guests were then invited to the table, where each one drew a fortune from underneath a basket of roses. Dr. J. M. Wells drew a cupid which had around its neck a telegram which read: "Last October I successfully captured Pansy V. Bowles and William McD. Oliver. This is a warning to the maids and bachelors that I will be after them soon." (Signed) Dan Cupid.

The girls then went to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. A social event which was much anticipated and greatly enjoyed was that extended to the G. W. Club by one of the embroidery clubs of Dillon county, at the home of Mrs. Essie Renfrow, near Pages Mill. On last Friday afternoon their club entertained the clubs from Nichols and Marietta. On the beautiful lawn was a table loaded with fruits, around which the guests were circled and for a short while busily engaged in fancy work. Each guest was presented with drawing material and requested to draw an original embroidery design. Mrs. Moody of Nichols, Miss Elsie Baker of Pages Mill and Miss Rachel Oliver of Marietta were the judges. The prize was won by Mrs. T. C. Parham of Marietta, whose shirtwaist design was beautiful. The prize was gracefully presented by Miss Baker. A salad course followed by cream and Nabisco wafers were served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Elsie Baker, Louise Hurgins and Rebecca Ayers. During the afternoon ideas in club work were discussed.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse". Graham Sticks to Estimate of 60,000,000 Bushels Corn. Raleigh Cor., Oct. 4, Wilmington Star.

In spite of Federal government reports that indicate only 59,639,000 bushels of corn for North Carolina this season, Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham is striking out that the crop will pan out not less than the round 60,000,000 that he predicted some weeks ago. He says that the fall weather conditions now are ideal for harvesting the grain and provender crops and that yields are sure to be the biggest on record.

SUPER-BATTLE CRUISERS

Bigger, Faster and More Heavily Armed Than Any Other Warcraft Afloat Will be on Navy Building Program.

Washington Dispatch, Dec. 4. Super-battle cruisers, bigger, faster and more heavily armed than any war craft afloat or building, and which will cost $18,000,000, will be recommended to Congress as a part of the navy building programme for next year. Decision on this step was reached today at a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Daniels and Representative Padgett, chairman of the House naval affairs committee.

Plans for such a vessel as is contemplated already have been prepared under the direction of Rear Admiral Taylor, chief constructor of the navy, and are being considered by the Secretary and members of the general board. Just how many of the new type ships will be asked for this winter has not been determined, Secretary Daniels said after the conference.

Cost of construction of navy craft has risen since the outbreak of the European war with the consequent enormous demand upon American resources, some recent steel contracts for the navy showing an increase of 30 per cent. Dreadnoughts, which also will be recommended for construction this winter, will cost $18,000,000 each, it is estimated, as against $15,000,000 for ships now building. Part of this increase, however, is due to new hull construction to provide greater protection against torpedo attack.

The number of ships of each class to be urged probably will be agreed upon within a few days. The estimates, by law, must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury by October 15.

Plans for the battle cruisers, Mr. Daniels said, contemplated a speed of 35 knots an hour. They will be faster than any but the swiftest destroyer. In land terms, they will equal the speed of railway trains making forty miles an hour. In size they will equal the largest American dreadnoughts building and far exceed any afloat.

The armament has not been decided upon but it probably will be equal or greater than that of present day dreadnoughts. It is understood that some officers believe each ship should carry twelve 14-inch rifles, but it is possible that a lesser number of guns may be mounted, or that the new 16-inch rifle, the largest naval gun yet developed, may be used. In that case probably only 6 or 8 big guns would be mounted.

All the items of the forthcoming navy estimates were considered at today's conference. Secretary Daniels declined to disclose other details of plans. He intimated, however, that a building programme for the submarine flotilla would be urged that would make possible an inner line of defense along both coasts to be maintained by submarines operating from bases established at necessary intervals. The Secretary said that the value of submarines for the defense of the wide reaches of coast line on both shores could hardly be over-estimated.

U. S. Bids Turkey End Armenian Atrocities.

Washington Dispatch, Oct. 4. Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople was instructed by cable today to inform the Turkish minister of foreign affairs that public sentiment in the United States was so stirred by the reports of the Armenian atrocities that unless the massacre ceased friendly relations between the American people and the people of Turkey would be threatened.

Officials made it clear that this message, though its importance was by no means minimized, did not threaten a break in diplomatic relations. Turkey already has let it be known that she will not permit interference by any foreign power with her so-called "Armenian policy." As American life or property has not been affected the United States government without submitting an official protest, merely informs Turkey of the effect continued Armenian atrocities would have upon the American people.

H. B. Ellis, An Old Typo of The Robesonian Passes. The following dispatch of Sept. 30 from Shelby to the Charlotte Observer escaped the notice of The Robesonian until the Maxton Scottish Chief of the 1st inst. came to hand this week: "Mr. H. B. Ellis, a job printer for 40 years, died yesterday at his home here and was buried today at Sunset cemetery, Rev. W. E. Abernethy conducting the funeral. Mr. Ellis was 62 years old, a native of Robeson county. Three weeks ago he was taken ill and had to give up his work at The Cleveland Star office, where he had been employed for 10 years or longer. He was a faithful and conscientious worker and was held in high esteem. His wife, who was Miss Amanda Beatty, one son, Hudson Ellis, survive, together with one brother, Dr. R. C. Ellis, and one sister, Mrs. Lora Grimsley, of Fairmont." The Scottish Chief copies with the following comment: "The following special to the Charlotte Observer brings up old memories. Mr. Ellis was a typo on The Robesonian in the seventies when we had a repertorial connection with that paper. He went from Lumberton to Shelby and has been engaged in the printing business for himself and others there ever since. We grieve at his passing."
