Break Between President and Bryan. Will practice in all courts. Business Washington Cor., 5th, Greensboro

The long anticipated break between President Wilson and former Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan came today when the latter gave out a statement here denouncing the President's proposed defense plans as "false philosophy" and as aiming at a "complete reversal of the national policy."

With the issues now squarely drawn between the two foremost men in the Democratic party, it may be expected that the fights in Congress over the defense program will be bitter. And while the Administration has every confidence that the sentiment in favor of better defense will prevail, there is equally good reasons to believe that Mr. Bryan's course will cause more than ordinary dissentions in the Democratic party and give the Republicans a chance to make political capital out of their unfortunate position.

How to Prevent Croup It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her ex-perience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses o it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cought medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable every-where.

North Carolina Leads in Demonstration Work.

Washington Cor. Charlotte Observer. For the fiscal year 1915-16 North Carolina will have more money expended in its borders for home demonstration work than any other State of the Union. This information is shown in the allotments of funds, by projects for co-operative provisions of the Smith-Lever act. Only five other States will expend more than North Carolina for boys club work. Only three States will expend more on county agents. Only one will exnend more on livestock work. North Carolina will exepend more on dairying demonstrations than any other State and is one of the five States that will pay attention to marketing. The total amount to North Carolina from allsources, State, Federal and local, under the Smith-Lever plan, as published in a final report of the budget as arranged by directors of extension work, is $192,154. This is the fourth largest sum to any, one State in the Union. The detailed plan follows. Administration, $3,200; pub. lications, $2,795; county agents, $98 .-300; home demonstration work, $43,-265; boy's club work, $10,525; livestock, $9,180; dairying, $13,280; agronomy, $3,300; horticulture, $2,-500; plant diseases, insects, $400; agricultural engineering, $2,400, mar-keting $3,000.

The Pembroke Crossing

Crarlotte Observer. The Observer has secured some inside information in regard to the situation at the Pembroke crossing, about which the traveling men have been raising such a row, and it be-lieves that within a short time re-lief will be forthcoming. We have at no time held an idea that the Corporation Commission was not "on the job" and when the facts are given the public it will be found that the Commission has been close behind the situation all the time. The matter was supposedly near the point of a satisfactory adjustment several weeks ago when both the Coast Line and the Seaboard promised new schedules. The new schedules came on all right, but still no connection. Meantime, each railroad party to the perpetuation of this irritating situaion for the traveling public is storing up for itself more or less future trouble in both jury box and legislative hall. It is only one of the many ways some railroads have of doing
