MILLINERY OPENING

Display of Spring Millinery at R. D. Caldwell & Son's Well Attended

The display shown on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week by R. D. Caldwell & Son in their millinery and coat-suit department was well attended. This being their annual spring opening, ladies were seen in abundance selecting their new spring apparel. This store reports that their opening was very successful, as the demand for spring hats was much larger than last year. A great many hats were sold while others placed their orders for special hats to be made in the store's own work room.

Hats of the unusual sort were shown—some with quantities of ribbon, others with fruits, flowers, etc. Among the hats shown were the new Gault, Castle, Corday, sailors and sport hats. One of the most popular is a little close-fitting hat with aeroplane bow.

Greensboro Man Kills Four Children and Himself

D. G. Patterson, at his home in Greensboro early Tuesday morning, murdered his four children in their beds and then reloaded his pistol and shot and killed himself. He had been a yard foreman for the Southern Railway, had lost job, went to Hopewell, where he lost his savings in running a restaurant, and had gone back home out of a job. The man is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

In Honor of Mrs. B. W. Page
Whiteville Dispatch, March 20.

Mrs. L. V. Grady was at home to friends in honor of her sister, Mrs. B. W. Page, of Lumberton, Saturday afternoon. The guests were received at the door and presented to the honoree by the hostess.

They were conducted by Mrs. Elmo Powell to the library, where dainty refreshments were served by Misses Annie and Mamie Memory, assisted by Misses Ada McRacken, Bess Lewis and Rachel Grady. Mrs. D. J. Lewis presided at the table.

The music room was decorated in a profusion of jonquills and ferns, while pink carnations and shaded candles added to the attractiveness of the tea room.

During the afternoon Mrs. Page delighted those present with charming vocal selections. Quite a number of ladies called to enjoy Mrs. Grady's hospitality.

"Walk This Way" Pleases Full House
A crowd which filled the opera house was immensely pleased last evening with Billy "Single" Clifford and his company in the musical farce "Walk This Way". It was one of the best shows ever given in the local opera house and the company is way above the average of the companies that visit Lumberton.

The three Misses Weston captivated the audience with their music and their good looks; Miss Mae Collins in "Canna Scotch Days" and in other parts also captivated the audience; and Billy Clifford and Nick Glynn kept the audience laughing. The band composed of women performers made a decided hit also. The show was more than two hours of good clean fun and was all to the good.

New Spring Fashions in Suits and Millinery

Our display of the advance Fashions is not extremely large but for that very reason it especially recommends itself to women of taste and discernment who prefer to make their selections from limited assortments of exclusive styles.

The new styles we will show you are unmistakably the Fashion-Trend for Spring. The Correctness is undisputed. We believe that you will find this display highly interesting.
