contraptions for corns. Here's some 'Gets-It', it's just wonderful how easy, 'clear and clean' it makes any corn come right off. Takes but a few seconds to apply. It dries at once. Put your sock on right over it—there's nothing to stick or roll up, form a bundle of your toe, or press on the corn. It's painless, simple as rolling off a log. Now put away those knives, razors and solers, use 'Gets-It' and you'll have a sweeter disposition and no more corns and calluses.

TOM PENCE IS DEAD

Secretary of Democratic National Committee and Well-Known Newspaper Man Passes Away in Washington—Remains Interred in Raleigh

Washington Dispatch, March 27.

Thomas J. Pence, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, who had been ill for several months with pneumonia, died at his home here early today. He was formerly Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer.

Mr. Pence probably had a more extensive acquaintance among Democratic politicians throughout the country than any man who ever occupied an official position with the national committee. He was one of the original Wilson men and after the last election was offered several important Government positions. He declined them all, however, and became assistant to the chairman of the National committee in charge of permanent headquarters here. At a meeting of the National committee here last December Mr. Pence was chosen its secretary. Mr. Pence was a friend of President Wilson's and was a daily companion of his secretary J. P. Tumulty, and of several prominent administration Senators.

For many years he was Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, which is owned by Secretary Daniels, of the Navy Department. Because of Mr. Pence's protracted illness, M. R. Hollister, secretary of Senator Stone, recently was appointed as assistant secretary of the National committee and was designated by Mr. Pence as acting secretary.

President Wilson was deeply shocked when told of Mr. Pence's death and expressed deep regret. With Postmaster Burleson and Secretary Tumulty, Mr. Pence has directed all of the details of the political work of the administration since the President took office. Mr. Pence was 43 years old and a native of Raleigh, N. C. He was a graduate of Wake Forest College and was unmarried. During the 1908 presidential campaign Mr. Pence took charge of the publicity bureau of the Democratic national committee and in the 1912 campaign he had charge the Woodrow Wilson publicity work. Before being made secretary of the national committee he was assistant to the chairman of the committee and later took charge of the permanent headquarters of the committee here.

Bladen is in the Lead With Communities for Community Service

Raleigh News and Observer. Nineteen communities in the State are now organized and registered under the plan of the North Carolina Bureau of Community Service, according to announcement of Executive Secretary W. C. Crosby, who returned yesterday after a trip to Bladen county where four new communities were this week added to the list of registrations. The four recently organized communities are Councils, Abbottsburg, Bladenboro and Clarkton. This places Bladen county in the lead, having six communities organized and registered to five of Sampson, four of Anson and one each of Perquimans, Granville, Wake and Pender.

Wilmington Star: Secretary William C. Redfield, of the Department of Commerce of the United States, and one of the most popular and able members of President Wilson's cabinet, has accepted the invitation extended him by the city of Wilmington and the Chamber of Commerce to make an address at the annual meeting of the National Association of Fisheries Commissioners, which will be held in this city, April 18, 19 and 20.

In Washington county, near Plymouth, one night last week, Mr. Geo. H. Bowen, aged 78, and his daughter, Miss Claudia, were fearfully beaten by two negroes and left for dead. John Savage, an employee of Mr. Bowen, was recognized as one of the negroes and he and his son were arrested and jailed.

The Standard of Value and Quality

Now is the Time to Buy Your "Six-46"

Let us again urge you to place your order for a Fairfield "Six-46" as soon as you possibly can.

Don't wait too long—don't be too sure that you can buy to just as good advantage thirty or sixty days from now.

For—remember—there were three purchasers for each "Six-46" that we could turn out last year. And, up to the present time, there is every indication that this "sold out" condition will be repeated.

Then, also remember that the cost of manufacturing materials and labor is still soaring.

Already, several manufacturers have found it necessary to increase the list price of their cars, and more announcements of this kind are undoubtedly coming.

By early buying, we have done everything that we possibly could to protect ourselves and you. But in the face of a constantly rising market, we may be forced to increase prices proportionately.

From the present outlook there is no other alternative for we flatly refuse to compromise on the quality of our cars. We shall continue to use only the best materials—no matter how far the commodity prices may advance.

Of one thing you can be certain—the Paige "Six-46" will never cost less than $1295 this year. We absolutely guarantee this, but we can't undertake to guarantee against an advance.

Above all, please understand that this advertisement is written in a sincerely helpful spirit. It is by no means our purpose to "stampede" motor car buyers into early or ill-advised purchases.

We are merely telling you the facts—facts that can be readily substantiated by your banker or any man who is well informed in regard to industrial conditions.

We want you to drive a Paige, of course, but we have never found it necessary to resort to "expedients" in order to sell a single car of our production.

The "Six-46" now costs $1295. At that price, we honestly believe that it represents more actual dollar-for-dollar value than any other motor car on the market.

Wait too long—and you run the risk of paying more.

Place your order now, and you can rest assured that you will never regret the decision.

Backache, headache, dragging pains. Nothing relieved me until I took Peruna.

Thousands of the best women in the world are bearing the burden of backache, headache, dragging pains, a miserable half-dead, half-alive condition, produced by chronic internal derangements. Mrs. Joseph Lacelle, 124 Glenora Ave., Ottawa East, Ontario, Canada, is one of the fair women of America who has had her experience with this sort of a burden. Her experience is similar to the multitude of other women whose letters are recorded in the "Ills of Life." A copy of this free booklet ought to be in the hands of every housewife in the United States. Read what Mrs. Lacelle says:

"I suffered with backache, headache and dragging pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition. I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

ROBESON BOY IN HONOLULU

Letter From Soldier at Fort Shafter, Hawaiian Islands—Farm Products of Islands—Too Warm for Comfort—A Trip to Hilo Island—Soldier Commits Suicide

Correspondence of The Robesonian. Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, March 10—I am asking you to put another small letter in your paper for me, for I do love to let my friends and readers of your paper hear from me. I am getting along in the army fine and have nothing to growl about, and I am learning more and seeing

A Specific Against Colds
"If there is such a thing as a specific against colds, it is to be found in the sleeping porch or the open bed room. Next to that comes the cold sponge bath in the morning," says the Youth's Companion. Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold and when you do you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a great help in enabling you to get rid of it. Try it. Obtainable everywhere.

more about the Hawaiian Islands every day; but I do not see any farming here. The farming products are rice, sugar cane, fine apples, coconuts and bananas. They grow here in great quantities and the most fault I find of the Hawaiian Islands is, it is most too warm for me. It is summer here all the time.

I went on a furlough last month, went to Hilo, another island 90 miles from Honolulu, and there I saw one of the second largest volcanic mountains in the world. And believe me, it was some sight to see the melted rock and cinders. Hilo is an island much larger than the Hawaiian and it gets awful cold there sometimes. They had a small snow there once this winter.

We had about five hundred soldiers to leave us today for the mainland on the transport Sheridan, but it will be a long time before I see the mainland. I have now got 29 months to do on the island and then I will go back to old North Carolina again.

We had a serious tang to happen over in F company last Monday, 6th. One of our best soldiers got dissatisfied with the army and shot his head off. He was sent to the mainland today.

Will write a long letter next time.
