Negroes Bound to Court for Shooting Scrape

James Gordon and Archie Gardner, the two negroes arrested in connection with the shooting of John McNeill and Wesley Moody, also colored, at Fairmont about a month ago, an account of which was published in The Robesonian at the time, were bound over to Superior Court yesterday by Recorder A. E. Floyd of Fairmont. Neither of the two men shot died, but McNeill was dangerously wounded. Mr. R. C. Lawrence appeared against the defendants and Mr. E. M. Johnson appeared for them. The defendants did not offer any evidence in the hearing yesterday. The negroes are in jail here.

Southern cotton mills consumed 298,186 bales during April, an increase over last year of 21,268 bales, or 7.68 per cent, while mills in other sections show a decrease of 1.5 per cent as compared with last year.

Orlando, Fla., May 25.—The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church in the United States today decided not to grant women full privileges as deaconesses, but showed in a long statement of the situation that it was not the desire to restrict the activities of women in the home and foreign mission fields. On last Saturday the assembly decided that women should not appear in the pulpit.

$10,000 FOR FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE

Dr. Jas. A. Macdonald Gives Contribution to Endow Chair of History—College at Red Springs Red-dicated as Flora Macdonald College—Last Day of Commencement
"Ten thousand dollars will be available at once for endowment of the chair of history at Flora Macdonald College."

And the audience which filled the large auditorium at Red Springs yesterday when, about 1 p. m., Dr. James A. Macdonald, distinguished editor of the Toronto (Canada) Globe, thus concluded a few remarks following his splendid address, rose en masse and applauded long and loud. It was the second time within a space of a few minutes that Dr. Macdonald had brought the audience to its feet. The first time was when, concluding a splendid literary address before the graduating class, he said, "I pronounce thee Flora Macdonald College."

Then the audience came to its feet and gave vent to its feelings in long and loud applause. Three years ago from the same platform, delivering the commencement address for the college then known by another name, Dr. Macdonald suggested that the Scottish people ought to unite to endow at that place a great institution for the training of girls into noble womanhood. Two years ago at Fayetteville, in his address as the then president of the Scottish Society of America, Dr. Macdonald declared that efforts should be begun at once to raise an endowment of $200,000 for this college situated in the heart of the Flora Macdonald settlement; that when $100,000 had been raised in the South he personally would contribute the first $10,000 of the second $100,000 and would see what could be done toward raising the balance in other sections.

After the audience had finished cheering his address yesterday Dr. Macdonald referred to that promise and electrified the audience when he said that though the first $100,000 had not been raised, expectations having been disappointed on account of the war, his contribution of $10,000 would be available at once, for endowment of a chair of history. This was accepted with appreciation by the board of trustees of the college, assembled on the platform, and then and there they voted that it should be known as "Jas. A. Macdonald Chair of History."

These were supremely happy moments in an altogether happy occasion, dedication of Flora Macdonald College and graduation day. The invocation was by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure of Wilmington and the prayer of dedication was made by Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill of Maxton. Dr. McClure, in a happy speech presented to the college for the Scottish Society of America a splendid portrait of Flora Macdonald. Rev. Dr. Hill by request recited a poem on Flora Macdonald written recently by himself, this being followed by a toast recited in concert by young ladies of the college. A steel engraving, representing a thrilling scene in the life of Flora Macdonald, was unveiled by the president of the college, Rev. Dr. C. G. Vardell. It is the gift of Rev. Robt. Christie, D. D., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and was by the artist Thomas Duncan, R. S. A., A. R. A., in 1846.

Splendid music by the college orchestra, graduation of the senior class, an exquisite song composed and sung by former students, concluded the greatest commencement in the great history of what was formerly the Southern Presbyterian College and Conservatory of Music but which shall be known hereafter as Flora Macdonald College.

Banquet Given by Local Masons—15 Lodges Represented

The annual meeting of St. Albans Lodge No. 114, A. F. and A. M., is always a most enjoyable occasion for the members and visitors, but never has one been more of a success and more highly enjoyed than the one held here Tuesday evening. There were 120 present, representing 15 lodges and three States. The lodges represented besides the local were Fairmont, St. Paul, Hope Mills, Smithfield, Morven, Parkton, Boardman, Red Springs, Whiteville, Fair Bluff, Bennettsville, S. C., Georgetown, S. C., Pages Mill, S. C., and Riverview, Va.

There was work in the third degree by Lumberton's crack team and a royal banquet. Many visiting Masons were heard to remark that they had never been more royally entertained. It was a great time.

These meetings are held annually and at each meeting all Masons in the county are invited. They are always looked forward to with interest, not only by local Masons, but by others in all parts of the county.

Parson Shot at Chicken Thief

It is said that a certain preacher who lives about town took three shots at somebody who was pranking about his hen house Monday night. It has not been learned whether or not any of the shots took effect. It has not been many months since every chicken the preacher had—21 hens and a rooster—were stolen. Perhaps folks will be more careful how they play about that certain preacher's chicken coop in the future.

PARKTON PARAGRAPHS

Death of Mrs. Ida Chason and Mr. G. W. Bennett, the Latter a Non-agerian—Cotton Warehouse Blown Down—Personal

Correspondence of The Robesonian.
Parkton, May 23.—Mrs. Ida Chason, widow of the late J. R. Chason, died at her home here last Thursday morning at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Chason was only sick one day. The cause of her death was congestion of the brain. Soon after she was taken sick Dr. R. S. Currie was summoned and everything was done by him and the family and friends for her recovery but of no avail. Deceased is survived by six children—four boys and two girls—the two smallest children being near four and six years old. The funeral was held at Green Springs church on Friday morning at 11, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dunnigan. Mrs. Chason was a consistent member of the Baptist church, was a good Christian woman and will be greatly missed by her family and friends, to whom we extend our sympathy.

Mr. G. W. Bennett, 96 years old, died Sunday morning, May 21, 8:30 at the home of his son Mr. D. M. Bennett, near town, where he had made his home for a number of years. Mr. Bennett was the father of 16 children, of whom 7 survive, and was one of the oldest men of our community. His wife preceded him to the grave only a few months ago and she was 95 years old at the time of her death. Deceased was a member of the Baptist church and was a good man and died a triumphant death. One remarkable thing about him was that he never became unconscious at any time, and even up till a minute of his death recognized his son. The funeral and burial took place at Lumber Bridge Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

On last Thursday evening about 5 o'clock during a heavy wind and rain storm, the large cotton warehouse owned by the Parkton Mercantile Co. was blown down and completely wrecked. It had about 75 bales of cotton in it.

The Parkton concert band has closed an engagement with the Greensboro Auction Co. for a big town lots sale at Mt. Taber on next Saturday. The boys anticipate a good time on this trip.

Mr. B. T. Ritter and his interesting family are moving this week to Fayetteville. We regret to lose them.

Fly Traps Thinning Out the Pests

Only a short time ago The Robesonian called attention to the fact that Lumberton was made practically flyless last summer by the use of home-made traps, and made an appeal that the same kind of traps be put on the job again. Since that time many individuals have made traps and put them to work and the town has had 50 or more made and placed at the various business houses about town. The traps don't cost much. Any one who would like to have a trap to use about his residence can get same from the town for 45 cents, actual cost of material and making. With all these traps in use Lumberton will no doubt be made near flyless in a short time.

Lawson Goes Back to Chain Gang

Mr. J. W. Glover, superintendent of chain gang No. 2, located near Marietta, came to Lumberton Tuesday afternoon and yesterday morning to complete his road sentence for larceny. As was mentioned in Monday's Robesonian-Lawson was arrested Friday of last week near Mt. Eliam by Constable B. W. Lovett after evading the officers for some eight months after he escaped from chain gang No. 1. He had served about three months of a six-months' sentence when he escaped.

Not Asleep When Handcuffed

Mr. B. W. Lovett of Mt. Eliam was among the visitors in town yesterday. Mr. Lovett says it was a mistake about Fred Lawson being asleep when he arrested him last Friday. He says Lawson waked just before he got to where he was lying in the woods and started to crawl into some bushes when he saw him coming.

White Buzzard is Wise Bird—Adopted White for Sake of Economy To the Editor of The Robesonian:

The white buzzard referred to (in a recent issue of The Robesonian) wisely adopted white costume from an economical standpoint. German dyes have advanced far beyond the reach of a buzzard, even in his aerial flight. White unbleached overalls have advanced $2 per dozen—so a young salesman of only a few weeks told me recently—on account of the scarcity of German dyes. Now you know.
