MALARIAL SEASON

3 Methods of Preventing Malaria—Quinine the Best Preventive

Dr. B. W. Page, county health officer, is distributing circulars where they are most needed warning the people that the malarial season is beginning and telling them how to prevent the disease. He gives 3 methods of preventing malaria, as follows: "1st. The removal of all standing water from tin cans, ditches and ponds near the home in order to prevent the breeding of mosquitoes which carry the germs of malaria from the sick to other people.

"2nd. Screens to keep mosquitoes out of the home. "3rd. And most important, where malaria is very prevalent, each adult should take 10 grains of quinine divided into 2 or 3 doses one day in each week during the mosquito season. Smaller doses according to age.

"If a person has malarial fever (chills) he should take from 20 to 30 grains of quinine a day for three days and then continue one day in each week as above mentioned.

"Recent rains have caused numerous mosquitoes in every section of Robeson county. All people who are exposed to mosquitoes should resort to quinine as a safe preventive of malaria."
