CAPTURED WHISKEY STILL.

Found in Home of Nasby Hardin—

Nasby, His Wife and Richard Hardin to be Tried Saturday—Woman Hid the Worm Under Her Skirt.

Sheriff R. E. Lewis, Rural Policeman A. H. Prevatt and Mr. F. A. Wishart captured parts of a whiskey still, 2 gallons of "monkey run" and around 60 gallons of beer Friday night. The goods were found in the kitchen at the home of Nasby Hardin, Indian, about 5 miles north of Lumberton. Nasby Hardin, his wife, and Richard Hardin were all arrested and placed under bond for their appearance before Recorder E. M. Britt Saturday of this week. Nasby made bond in the sum of $500, his wife $200, and Richard $300, all justified. The officers had some difficulty in securing the worm of the still. When they entered the house Nasby's wife placed the worm under her skirt and proceeded to get away. Mr. Wishart made chase and captured her, however. Her efforts to conceal the worm caused her arrest in connection with the affair.

WILKINS-BRANCH TRIAL.

Ira J. Wilkins Bound to Court on Charge of Aiding and Abetting in Manufacture and Sale of Liquor—J. J. Branch Released.

Ira J. Wilkins was bound over to the Superior court Saturday by Recorder E. M. Britt on the charge of aiding and abetting in the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors. Jetter J. Branch was found not guilty of the same charge. Wilkins made bond in the sum of $200.

Wilkins and Branch were arrested at 2 o'clock on the night of May 15 near Pembroke when a whiskey still was found loaded upon an automobile in which they were riding. According to the evidence, the still belonged to Bethel Chavis, Indian, who ran into the woods and made his escape at the time the above-named defendants were arrested.

Rural Policeman A. H. Prevatt was the first witness examined by the State. He testified that he passed through Pembroke on the night of May 15th and that Herbert Lowrey, Indian, told him the still was in the loft of Bear Swamp Indian church, near Pembroke. He phoned Sheriff Lewis to get a warrant for Chavis, who also was charged with stealing a gun from another Indian, and to assist him in the raid. Sheriff Lewis was soon on the scene and he and Mr. Prevatt, in company with Lowrey, started for the church. When near the church they saw an automobile coming. When they were nearing the auto the lights were cut off and the auto was driven to one side of the road and stopped. The officers stopped and threw a flash light on the men in the car. Wilkins and Branch were in the car. The officers told them that they were looking for Bethel Chavis. Wilkins and Branch advised them that Chavis was back of their auto. When they went to look for him he was gone. Branch advised the officers not to follow Chavis, telling them he had a gun and would kill them. Upon searching the auto driven by Wilkins the still was found on the back seat wrapped up in a robe. Two breech-loading guns and some bed quilts were also on the back of the auto. Wilkins and Branch declared they did not know the still was on the car, that Chavis loaded the things on the car in the dark and they could not tell what he put on. Branch told the officers that he only went along with Wilkins at his request for company. Wilkins told the officers that Chavis had paid him $5 to go with him after his wife and some clothes and take them to the Bellamy section. Prevatt also said that he found a 38 Smith & Wesson revolver in the front of Wilkins' auto.

Sheriff Lewis corroborated Mr. Prevatt's testimony. Mr. J. P. Townsend testified that he sold Wilkins some gasoline and oil about 11 o'clock on the night of the arrest. He also testified that when he asked Wilkins what he was doing out so late at night he intimidated that he was going to Cumberland county to get some whiskey. The defense first put on a number of character witnesses, all of whom said the character of Branch was good, while most of them testified that that of Wilkins was not so good. Wilkins testified that Chavis first tried to hire him to go to Pembroke and get his wife and some clothes early in the afternoon of May 15. He refused to go with him and Chavis went to his home just before night and again tried to get him to go with him after his wife and the "things." He told Chavis that he would not make the trip for anything less than $5. Chavis pulled out $5 and handed it to him. After that Branch came up and he asked him to go along for company. Branch said he could not go, but decided to go after he told him they would get back by bedtime. They went as directed by Chavis and when they reached some point Chavis told him to stop the auto and he would get his things. Chavis stepped off and made two or three trips getting his "things" to the car, while he and Branch sat in the car and waited. After he loaded his things on the car Chavis told him to drive down the road a short distance to where his wife was. Before reaching that point and just before they met the officers Chavis told him to stop the car and Chavis got out of the car. He went into the woods when the officers stopped.

Branch testified that Wilkins asked him to make the trip and he told him that he could not go. He asked Wilkins after he insisted that he go when he would get back. He said they would get back by bedtime and he agreed to go. He corroborated the testimony of Wilkins in regard to Chavis loading the things on the car and said he did not know the still was on the car until the officers found it.

Mr. W. Lennon, solicitor of the recorder's court, represented the State in the prosecution and Mr. S. McIntyre appeared for Wilkins and Branch.

There was much interest in the trial and many people from the Bellamy section, where Wilkins and Branch live, attended.

Wade M'White was given a hearing Saturday on the charge of securing goods under false pretense. The case was dismissed.

Maston Britt, aged around 8 years, was tried on the charge of stealing merchandise from a buggy in a back lot in town. He owned to getting the goods. Recorder Britt is trying to get some family to take the boy and look after him. He has been up on the charge of stealing before. The boy's mother is dead and his father

War Fund Goes Past Hundred Million Mark—Lumberton Chapter Will More Than Double Allotment.

Subscriptions to the American Red Cross second mercy fund was estimated last night, according to a dispatch from Washington, at more than the minimum quota of $100,000,000, and campaign workers are making strenuous efforts in the closing day today.

Mr. R. C. Lawrence, chairman of the War Fund drive for the Lumberton chapter, had in hand this morning contributions from Lumberton of $2,235. This does not include contributions from any of the several auxiliaries, some of which have not been heard from. Contributions from the chapter and its auxiliaries no doubt will go over $3,000.

A list of contributors will be published in Thursday's Robesonian and a permanent record will be made for the chapter. It is not too late to make a contribution to this noble cause or to increase your subscription. All the employees of the local post-office, including postmaster, assistant postmaster, 3 clerks, 2 town carriers and 7 R. F. D. carriers, each gave one day's wages to the Red Cross War Fund; also all employees of Mr. L. H. Caldwell's store, the store of White & Gough, and The Robesonian, and many employees in other business houses in town.

Mr. J. M. Wilson of R. 7 from Lumberton brought in a home-raised ham that weighed 11 1-2 pounds and also a chicken and donated it to the Red Cross. The ham and chicken brought $5.50. Mr. Wilson said he would bring a pig in and donate that to the Red Cross one day this week.

All the employees in Mr. L. H. Caldwell's department store gave a day's work to the Red Cross.

Mexico Severs Diplomatic Relations With Cuba.

Mexico has severed diplomatic relations with Cuba. In this is seen at Washington an indirect action against the United States, possibly the forerunner of interruption of intercourse between the United States and Mexico. The action is explained officially as due to the fact that because of the war in which Cuba is involved that government has been obliged to dictate measures that affect the interests of the Mexican government.

ARRESTED AS DESERTER.

Troy Maynor Came Home From Camp Jackson Without Leave—Sheriff Wants Assistance in Rounding Up Deserters.

Troy Maynor, Indian, was arrested last week by Sheriff R. E. Lewis on the charge of deserting the army. Maynor was found at the home of his father-in-law, Turner Lowrey, near Philadelphia. After he was arrested Maynor told where his uniform could be found in an old outhouse some 4 miles away, and it was found there.

Maynor said he came home to see his wife, who was sick, several weeks ago without leave of absence and never returned to camp. He will be sent to Camp Jackson at an early date.

GIVING AND BLESSING

"Abraham, the Altar-Builder," Subject of Powerful Sermon By Dr. Beaman to Graduating Class of High School.

SCHOOL FINALS FRIDAY.

With "Abraham, the Altar-Builder," as his subject, Genesis 12, verses 2, 3, 7 and 8 as his text, Rev. Dr. R. C. Beaman, pastor of Chestnut Street Methodist church, in a special sermon to the graduating class of the Lumberton high school at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, charted out a sure and safe way to the highest and best in life. Giving and blessing is the universal law of life, he declared. He showed how God pours out blessings with a lavish hand but that in order to really keep these blessings one must pour them out on others, and that no matter what one may accomplish in life, at the last it is only the altars one has built and the altar fires left by the way that really count.

It was a message most fitting for the occasion and had behind it the driving power of eloquence and eloquence. The morning services at other churches in town were omitted and the congregation filled the large auditorium of this new church. Dr. Beaman said in part:

When God sent Abraham forth on his world-wide mission it was on a giving and blessing basis. All created things give out of themselves to others. We glibly quote—"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen And waste its fragrance on the desert air."

but it is not true. There is not a solitary flower that blooms for itself alone; no flower was ever born to blush unseen and waste its fragrance on the desert air. Every bird that sings is a part of God's orchestra and its song mingles with the music of the spheres. God is continually giving lavishly. He is the great builder, the great sculptor, the great musician, the great painter. He paints incomparable sunsets for the loneliest wanderer. He is the infinite giver, and He was never satisfied until He gave His Son.

A life based on giving is the only life worth a thought of a being created in the image of God.

Life consists not in the abundance of the things one has. To use wealth and social position as some people use them is treason against God and humanity. God pity the man who has nothing but gold. Life does not consist in getting, but in giving.

It takes time for God to make a man. It is no off-hand proposition. If Abraham had failed and had tried to shut up within himself the blessings God showered upon him, he would have lost them, and God would have had to find another man through whom to bless the world. The secret of his life was that he was God's altar-builder. No matter how commanding his personality, how transcendent his genius, the man who is not an altar-builder is a failure. The Kaiser is no small man. He is a tremendous force, but he must go down in infamy because he uses his power to damn, and not to bless.

The soul cannot live in fire and feed on slugs.

The nation that repudiates God's altar must go down. Germany has repudiated God and must go down, and out of this war will come a grander civilization, a greater conception of God.

You never know what life means until you find God everywhere; you do not really live until you stand uncovered beneath the stars and feel that you are on holy ground.

Don't lose your reverence. One of the saddest things in modern life is that we are hiding the face of God in the smoke of the factory. Only the spiritual abides. Rome has been dead 600 years and the stench of its corpse stretched across three continents, but a sore-eyed man who planted the altar of Christ beside the throne of the Caesars lives on.

You start out in life with an alluring field before you, but when you come to sum up you'll find that the only thing that counts is some quiet altar. You may accomplish much and win wealth and honors, but at the last the only things worth while are the altars you've built, the altar fires you've left by the way.

Preceding the sermon, Rev. Dr. C. L. Greaves, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the Scripture lesson, John 12: 23-31, and led in prayer. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. G. E. Moorehouse, had charge of the service and offered the closing prayer.

As has been stated in The Robesonian, the literary address and graduation exercises of the high school will be held at the school auditorium Friday of this week. Further notice will be given in Thursday's Robesonian.

Miss Cora Bullock Instead of Miss Cattie Bullock.

In the report in The Robesonian of the 20th inst. of the special meeting of the county board of education held on May 17, it was stated that the "claim of Miss Cattie Bullock as teacher of Smyrna school was compromised for the sum of $50 and charged to the general fund as teachers' salary."

Miss Cattie Bullock writes The Robesonian that this was an error, that it was Miss Cora Bullock instead of Miss Cattie Bullock.
