AGAIN"-J. E. HODGES

Employe of Forsythe Chair Company Tells How He Will Never Again Be Without Dreco. Interesting Story.

J. E. Hodges who resides at 119 Center Street, Winston-Salem, is per-haps one of the most popular employees of the Forsythe Chair Com-pany. He is a member of the Junior Order and a member of other fraternal and social organizations.

Recently Mr. Hodges was troubled with a severe form of kidney trouble combined with indigestion, loss of sleep and rheumatic pains in the back and limbs. A friend told him about the wonderful new herbal medicine called Dreco which is now being introduced in this section and prevailed upon him to give it a trial. This is what he says after one bottle of what he says after one bottle of Dreco: .
