NO TRUE AMERICAN WANTS TO VISIT GERMANY.

President Declines to Consider Any Suggestion That He Visit That Country.

According to a wireless dispatch from the United States ship George Washington, says Marcel Hutin, in the Echo de Paris, President Wilson has been informed that Premier Ebert and Foreign Secretary Hasse, of the Berlin government, and Premier Eisner, of Bavaria, were about to make an effort to get him to visit Germany. The President is quoted as having made this reply:

"Only by long years of repentance can Germany atone for her crimes and show sincerity. No true American could think of visiting Germany unless forced to do so by strict official obligations. That is to say, I decline in advance to consider any suggestions of the kind."

CAUGHT AFTER 4 YEARS.

Negro Arrested in Wilmington for Murder in Hoke County 4 Years Ago.

Aaron Dupree, colored wanted in Hoke county for the murder of a white man named Brown 4 years ago, was arrested yesterday in Wilmington, where he had been living under the assumed name of Jas. McNeill since he fled from Hoke immediately after the killing.

According to information received by Wilmington officers from Sheriff Edgar Hall of Hoke, states the Wilmington Star, the negro committed the murder in cold blood and with very little provocation. The Star says that when arrested the negro denied his guilt but later confessed that he killed Brown, claiming, however, that it was accidental. A reward of $400 was offered for the arrest of the negro. It was expected that he would be taken to Hoke county today.

No School Saturdays—No Decision Yet in Regard to "Flu."

Supt. W. H. Cale advises The Robesonian that no effort will be made to make up time lost by requiring pupils of the graded and high school to attend school six days a week. If they do well 5 days a week that is all that will be required of them. This will be welcome news to all concerned—parents, pupils and teachers.

The "flu" has made its appearance again but no decision has yet been announced as to closing schools again on this account.

There are several cases of the "flu" in Lumberton—not many, but still a few—and Surgeon General Blue, in warning issued last night urged that all possible precautions against the disease should be taken, advised closing public schools on the first sign of reappearance of the epidemic. He said the disease apparently now tends to occur more frequently among school children.

Alexander Again Heads Farmers' Union.

Dr. H. Q. Alexander was re-elected president of the State Farmers' Union at Wilson yesterday in the State convention after a bitter fight. He won over his opponent, Gray King of Nash county, by a vote of 64 to 30. Dr. J. J. Tompkins, of Wake, was elected vice-president without opposition. E. C. Faires, of Aberdeen, secretary over J. C. Jones, of Franklin, and W. R. Dixon, of Wilson, State organizer, over J. R. Reeves, of Sanford.

Reports from officers indicate that there are now 17,000 members of the union in North Carolina and that there is $14,000 in the treasury.

Navy Lost Only 44 Ships During the War.

Only 44 vessels of the navy, including army and cargo transports manned by naval crews, were lost from the declaration of war April 6, 1917, until hostilities ceased Nov. 11, and only 12 of these were destroyed by enemy submarines.

Former Kaiser Tries to Commit Suicide.

U. S. Ships Carried 952,581 Soldiers Overseas.

Of the entire army of 2,079,880 men taken overseas, 46 1-4 per cent were carried in American ships, 48 1-2 in British, and the balance in French and Italian vessels. Of the total strength of the naval escort guarding all these convoys, the United States furnished 82 3-4 per cent, Great Britain 14 1-8 per cent, and France 3 1-3 per cent. In actual numbers of men transported, 912,083 were carried on American naval transports and 40,499 in other American ships; 1,996,987 were carried in British bottoms, and 68,246 in British leased Italian ships; and 82,066 by French and Italian ships. Not a single soldier of those carried in United States naval transports was lost.

Many Troops Will Return Home During Next Summer.

Eight of the 13 divisions comprising the American third army, now approaching the Rhine, either are national guard or national army troops, and there is every reason to believe that they will be on American soil again by midsummer.

General March, chief of staff, announced the other day he anticipated no difficulty in getting these units home within four months after peace has been established formally by proclamation. President Wilson, in his recent address to Congress said the sessions of the conference probably would be concluded by spring, and based on his estimate of the time, General March's statement was accepted to mean that these forces would return during the summer.

Says Austria Wanted to Withdraw From War in 1917.

Count Czernin, former Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Monday told the Associated Press correspondent at Vienna that Austria, in 1917, made desperate efforts to withdraw from the war, even to the extent of offering Germany the empire's richest coal and oil provinces, Galicia, if Germany would surrender Alsace-Lorraine.

Count Czernin added that Austria's efforts always were defeated by either General von Ludendorff, the German chief quartermaster-general, or other high German officials, who even went to the extent of asserting that they were willing to declare war on Austria if Austria made a separate peace.

Some Wounded Soldiers of 30th Arrive at New York.

The British transport Empress of Britain arrived at New York Tuesday with 2,450 American soldiers on board, of whom 405 were wounded.

The wounded included men of the 27th, 30th, 33rd, and 37th divisions. Some had lost arms or legs.

The other troops were from training camps in England and included men of the 307th, 361st, 140th, 337th, 254th and 834th aero squadrons and the 10th, 13th, 14th and 17th air service construction companies.

New York Welcomes Many Wounded Soldiers Home.

New York welcomed home Monday more than 2,200 wounded American soldiers, representing virtually every State in the Union. The men came on 3 ships. All the ships were warmly cheered by crowds that lined the waterfront and clustered on house tops. Water craft in the harbor tied down their whistles to augment the welcoming din.

Many Robeson Soldiers Returning Home.

FROM A ROBESON SAILOR.

A Robeson Sailor Writes of a Trip to South America.

Mrs. A. W. Harrington of Marietta sends The Robesonian a letter she has just received from her son Mr. Charlie D. Harrington, U. S. S. Pittsburgh. Excerpts from the letter follow:

U. S. S. Pittsburgh, Nov. 8, 1918.

Dearest Mother: "Well, Mama, I am getting along fine nowadays, eating everything they give me. Now if I was to tell you what I get to eat you'd know that I am fat. Well, we have Irish potatoes every day, and beans three times a week and other things such as meats, rice, fish and also fruits. Now we don't have all of that at one time.

"Well, mother, I have never come out and told you just where I am. It was against the rule. I left Norfolk on April 11th and sailed south. We were out 14 days before we saw land. The first place we stopped at was Bahia, Brazil, on April 25th. That was a 14-days' trip. We stayed there a day and night, then we started to Rio De Janeiro, which was a four days' trip. We spent 2 days there and some of our men were taken off the Orion and put on the Pittsburgh, but I was not taken off then. We went on the Orion to Montevideo. That was a 4-days' run. We unloaded our ship there of coal. It took us a week to do that. I went ashore there twice. That was the first place I stepped on S. A. soil.

I had been on water over a month. After we unloaded the ship we went back to Santos, Brazil. There's where we loaded our ship with coffee. I went ashore there once. I sure did enjoy climbing those mountains. We could buy fruit there cheap—eight bananas for 5 cents.

"We spent a week there, then came back to Rio De Janeiro. Then I was transferred to the Pittsburgh on May 22th. Then the Orion went back to the States. We stayed at Rio until the 4th of June. Then we went back to Montevideo again. We spent several weeks there. From there we went to Buenos Aires. It is 90 miles up the LaPlatte river. I did not get to go ashore there. I sure wanted to, though. We then came back to Santos, then we came back to Rio on the 4th of August. I received my first mail from home that day. It was the first I'd had since I left Norfolk. You may know how glad I was to get it.

"I can't talk to the people here; I don't know their language, then I would enjoy going to different places.

"How is everything coming on around home? I hope you all are getting along fine, and I suppose that you're through work and sitting around the fire-side. Now that is a very comfortable place during the rains and snows; that's the place my memory goes to now.

"I don't think that Joe will have to leave you yet, and if he does he won't have to go across.

"I like that I am the only one away from you now and I haven't been gone so very long.

"Write me as often as you can. "You're devoted sailor boy," "CHARLIE."

More Maxton Sacrifices to the God of War.

Scottish Chief. Andrew McCallum, colored, has lost another son in the war, yesterday's casualty list bearing the name of his son Lacy McCallum as having died of wounds.

The casualty list published in this morning's papers holds the name of "Gus Norton, of Maxton," as having been killed in action.

The Scottish Chief is not informed but supposes that he is a son of one of its esteemed subscribers, Mr. Zack Norton, of route No. 1.

The saddest part of the war for this section has been the casualty lists published since the war closed.

Senator Gough Sees a Tank Demonstration.

Ex-State Senator Frank Gough spent Monday in Raleigh on business. While in Raleigh Mr. Gough visited the tank camp and saw a tank demonstration. One of the larger type of tanks which he saw carries about 25 men and is equipped with 4 machine guns, which will shoot 6,400 times a minute. This tank passed a deep railroad cut and moved right on, according to Mr. Gough. He was very much impressed with the tank as a fighting machine.

Entrance to the store was made by breaking out a window in the back of the building. The defendants have been in court before on the charge of larceny.

REPLATE OF SODA.

Senator Simmons is Trying to Get it Distributed to Farmers at Cost.

The following letter explains itself: "My dear Mr. Townsend: I am in receipt of your letter of the 5th instant with regard to disposition to be made of nitrate of soda to be diverted from munitions manufacture to agricultural uses. I now have this matter up with the Department of Agriculture and the War Department and will advise you within a short time as to what plan of procedure will be adopted. ## Over the Top Last Day of War—The Boys All Did Fine.

The editor of The Robesonian has received the following letter, dated Nov. 13, from Mr. Oliver Nance, a former employe of this paper:

"On Nov. 11, the last day of the war, my company went over the top and for a few hours we had a warm time of it facing machine guns and under heavy artillery fire. The boys all did fine and did not appear to be scratched at all. I came out without a scratch.

"The Germans shot lots of rockets on the nights after the firing ceased, celebrating peace. The German Red Cross came over and helped to dress some of our wounded after the fighting ceased. The soldiers also came over and talked with our boys and seemed very friendly. They exchanged souvenirs.

"OLIVER NANCE," 321st Inf., Company M.

Sergeant Hal V. Brown passed through town Tuesday en route to his home at Fairmont, having been honorably discharged from the U. S. army. Sgt. Brown was stationed at Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C. ## Wants News of Home Folks.

To the Editor of The Robesonian: I was raised in Robeson county but I have been away 25 years and I am taking your paper and I can't see nothing of my people in it.

My father was named Silas Curry. Twenty-five years ago he was staying with W. K. Culbreth, near Moss Neck. So if any one knew of that set I would like to know.

I am glad to know that my old county is in the lead in all their undertakings. I am glad to hear of the prospects in my old county. So you have my good will and I hope you all succeed.

So I would be glad if you would put this piece in the paper if you have space.

HENRY CURRY, Limana, Fla., Dec. 4, 1918.

BRITT-FOUNTAIN WEDDING.

Miss Annie Ruth Britt Becomes Bride of Mr. Vinton E. Fountain of Leggett—Brilliant Church Wedding.

The First Baptist church was the scene of a most lovely wedding Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock when Miss Annie Ruth Britt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Britt of E. I. Lumberton, became the bride of Mr. Vinton E. Fountain of Leggett, Edgecombe county. The church was tastefully decorated with palms, pink roses, long leaf pine and lighted candles.

Miss Lina Gough presided at the organ and before the bridal party entered Miss Irma Fountain, sister of the groom, sang "Sunshine and Smiles" and Mrs. R. R. Carlyle sang "At Dawning."

The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The ushers—Messrs. E. M. and O. M. and Dr. J. N. Britt, brothers of the bride, and Mr. J. Pope Stephens, came first, followed by the bridesmaids—Miss Ruth Clyburn of Kershaw, S. C., Miss Irma Fountain, sister of the groom, of Leggett, and Miss Agnes Massey of Smithfield. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Dovie Britt, sister of the bride, followed down the right aisle by the bridesmaid-in-law of the bride. All these wore hats to match. Each carried a shepheress crook tied with pink. Following these came the ring-bearer, little Miss Janie Malloy Britt. She was dressed in white and white, she wore the flower girls, Christine Johnson and Mary Ada Jenkins, dressed in white, Shirley McPhaul and Mary Lawrence, dressed in pink. The two last-named scattered roses along the aisle as they marched before the bride, who entered leaning upon the arm of her brother, Mr. W. S. Britt, who gave her away.

The groom entered at the same time from the rear with his best man, Mr. Rurick Gough of Tarboro. The bride's dress was of white Duchess satin, trimmed with Princess Louise lace, pearls and hand-made embroidery. The bridal veil was caught with orange blossoms.

Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Durham, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated in a most impressive manner, using the ring ceremony. Lohengren's march was played as a recessional.

Mr. and Mrs. Fountain left on the 6:17 Seaboard train for Washington, D. C., and other points North, where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will be at home to their friends at Leggett. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown velour, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. Quite a crowd accompanied them to the station and showered them with rice as they departed.

The many beautiful and useful presents received from their friends show in a small way the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. The gifts made a most attractive showing.

The bride is a cultured young woman who is known for her sweet and kind disposition, while the groom is a progressive young merchant of Leggett.

Among the out-of-town attendants at the marriage were: Mrs. L. H. Fountain and Miss Irma Fountain, mother and sister of the groom, of Leggett; Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Fountain of Leggett; Mrs. J. C. King, sister of the bride, of Wilmington; and Dr. J. N. Britt, brother of the bride, of Rochelle, Ga.

Misses Vista Thompson and Drina Hedgepeth presided at the victrola during the evening.

Reception in Honor of the Bride.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Britt gave a reception at their home, North Elm street, Monday evening in honor of the bride. The home was decorated with pink Killarney roses and lighted pink globes, the color scheme being pink and white.

Cream, heart-shaped cakes and mints were served, the color scheme being carried out in each. The dining room was beautifully decorated. The table was attractive with pink and white tulle streaming from the chandeliers to the table, where large bows of tulle and orange blossoms were tied. The bride's cake, bearing the monogram of both bride and groom, was the center piece. Candles and pink roses were used in profusion.

The following were in the receiving line: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Britt, Miss Ruth Britt, Mr. Vinton Fountain, Mrs. S. E. Britt, Mrs. L. H. Fountain, Mrs. Theodore Fountain, Mr. Rurick Gough, Miss Agnes Massey, Mr. J. Pope Stephens, Miss Irma Fountain, Dr. J. N. Britt, Mrs. J. C. King, Miss Ruth Clyburn, Mr. O. M. Britt, Mrs. J. B. Bridgers, Mrs. J. C. King, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Britt and Miss Dovie Britt.

The guests were met at the door by Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Brown. Mrs. R. E. Lewis presented the guests to the receiving line and Mrs. E. K. Proctor conducted the guests to the dining room, where Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. McNeill received, Misses Lillian Proctor, Janie Carlyle, Jennie and Margie Russell, assisting. Miss Cammie McNeill presided at the bride's register, where each guest was registered. After leaving the dining room the guests were taken to the room where the many beautiful and useful presents were displayed. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Johnson receiving there. They were then received by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crichton and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McPhaul, where delicious punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McNeill and Mr. and Mrs. James D. ## PRESIDENT WILSON'S RED CROSS CHRISTMAS ROLL CALL MESSAGE

The White House, Washington, D. C. Nov. 26, 1918.

To the American People:

One year ago twenty-two million Americans enrolling as members of the Red Cross at Christmas time, sent to the men who were fighting our battles overseas a stimulating message of cheer and good will. They made it clear that our people were of their own free choice united with their government in the determination not only to wage war with the instruments of destruction, but also by every means in their power to repair the ravages of the invader and sustain and renew the spirit of the army and of the homes which they represented.

The friends of the American Red Cross in Italy, Belgium, and France have told, and will tell again, the story of how the Red Cross workers restored morale in the hospitals, in the camps, and at the cantonments, and we ought to be very proud that we have been permitted to be of service to those whose sufferings and whose glory are the heritage of humanity.

Now, by God's grace, the Red Cross Christmas message of 1918 is to be a message of peace as well as a message of good will. But peace does not mean that we can fold our hands. It means further sacrifice. Our membership must hold together and be increased for the great tasks to come. We must prove conclusively to an attentive world that America is permanently aroused to the needs of the new era, our old indifference gone forever.

The exact nature of the future service of the Red Cross will depend upon the programme of the associated governments, but there is immediate need today for every heartening word and for every helpful service. We must not forget that our soldiers and our sailors are still under orders and still have duties to perform of the highest consequence, and that the Red Cross Christmas membership means a great deal to them. The people of the saddened lands, moreover, returning home today where there are no homes must have the assurance that the hearts of our people are with them in the dark and doubtful days ahead. Let us, so far as we can, help them back to faith in mercy and in future happiness.

As President of the Red Cross, conscious in this great hour of the value of such a message from the American people, I should be glad if every American would join the Red Cross for 1919, and thus send forth to the whole human family the Christmas greeting for which it waits and for which it stands in greatest need.

WOODROW WILSON.
