

DEMPSEY KNOCKED

It was a Walkover for the New World's Champion Heavyweight Boxer.

Jack Dempsey (whose full name is William Harrison Dempsey, knocked Jess Willard out in three one-sided and bloody rounds at Toledo, O., on the 4th. The following is taken from a Toledo dispatch:

By virtue of one of the speediest and most one-sided battles which ever decided a big fistic event, Jack Dempsey, who may now wish to be known by his full voting name of William Harrison Dempsey, today became the world's champion heavyweight boxer.

To all intents and purposes he whipped the huge Jess Willard, favorite in the meagre betting in one round. Dempsey thought the referee had announced him winner and actually left the ring. But he was called back and the butchery continued for two rounds more when Jess, sitting in his corner, with a bewildered look on his swollen countenance, failed to respond to the gong for the fourth round.

"It was no use to continue," said the ex-champion. "My strength went from me in the first round."

He sat there, apparently the most surprised man in the United States at the moment. His right eye was closed and his cheeks swollen with cuts and bruises. Blood covered his body and his arms hung so helplessly on the ropes that it seemed as if a child might give him further abuse without arousing his interest.

Dempsey was breathing hard when the fight ended, but it was from exertion and not from punishment. He escaped almost unhurt, but as he had been using his arms like tripammers on the anatomy of his opponent for nine crowded minutes in a sun that sent the thermometer to 100 degrees, his heart was still pumping at high pressure and he appreciated the breathing spell.

In the first few seconds of the contest it looked as if the experts who had been assigned to keep detailed account of the blows struck might come measurably close to doing so, but it was only for a fraction of a moment. After that the experts did well to count Jack's blows, let alone take note of how each was made. The challenger knocked the big fellow down five times in the first round and had him hanging helplessly on the ropes or draped over his own shoulders most of the time when he was not taking advantage of the count.

The crowd thought the fight was over in that round. Willard was down for the fifth time and the count was apparently to end when the gong sounded. It was a modest gong which could not make itself heard before so many people and even Dempsey did not get it. He crawled thru the ropes and was headed out on to the shoulders of screaming fans when the truth was broken to him, and he was hauled back.

The attendance was below expectations. Seats were built for 80,000 and the estimate was that not more than half of these were occupied. Speculators lost heavily, they resold their tickets at anything from $5 to $15 under gate prices. No betting was reported at the ringside, nor was there much elsewhere, so far as could be ascertained.

Willard got $100,000 for the fight and Dempsey $27,500.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Some do it from ignorance: some from carelessness: some in a spirit of martyrdom and some from a mistaken sense of duty impelling them to go on sacrificing themselves for others, until they "drop in their tracks".

Thousands of women have learned better; have found out that it's wrong to suffer from the peculiar ills of womanhood; because they need not do it.

STELLA VITAE, the old-time "Woman's Relief" "Mother's Cordial" has been helping the women of the South to health and happiness for half a century.

It is the prescription of a famous old Southern doctor and has proved successful with thousands of women and young girls.

STELLA VITAE is compounded in the laboratories of the Thacher Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and sold by all druggists at a moderate price. Money refunded if the first bottle fails to help.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART!

The experience of a woman who has successfully passed the "changes" is valuable. This lady tells of the "bridge that carried her over."

"I was in a most wretched condition, at that most critical time in a woman's life, 'the change.' I had palpitation of the heart and would swell and bleed in a very distressing way."

"I took five bottles of STELLA VITAE, and I am happy to say that it cured me. When I began I weighed only 100 pounds. I now weigh 125 pounds."—Mrs. E. M. Russell, N. C.

COURT PROCEDURE NOW AND 100 YEARS AGO.

R. C. Lawrence Delivers Learned Address Before Superior Court Clerks on Development of the Law. Wilmington Star.

A history of American jurisprudence was contained in an eloquent and interesting address delivered yesterday morning by R. C. Lawrence, Esq., of Lumberton, one of the leaders of the bar in eastern Carolina, before the opening session of the annual convention of the Association of Clerks of Superior Court of North Carolina, which convened in the assembly room of the Oceanic hotel at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Lawrence's audience was startled at times during the course of his address yesterday morning by the comparisons that he drew with present day court procedure with that of 100 years ago, and there were sighs of evident relief that the clerks were holding office in modern times instead of the "good old days" when there were 30 ways of drawing an indictment and a lawyer had to guess at the right one, all of which invoked the clerks in endless intricate work in keeping the records straight.

Instance after instance was cited of cases in this State where palpably guilty prisoners were let go because of a defect in the drawing of the indictment. In one case the murdered man was stabbed in his breast and since the spelling of that portion of his anatomy was made to read "brest" the defendant was let go. Another was let off because the indictment said that the crime was committed in the 26th year of American independence when it should have said the 8th year.

High tribute was paid the legal profession in America for the part it has played in bringing reforms in American jurisprudence and to the clerks of the court, whose assistance has been invaluable. He asserted that the lawyers were conservative and in the midst of their conservatism there was no room for bolshevism to flourish and grow strong. He pointed to the fact that when a man was indicted in these days that six lines were sufficient to set forth the alleged crime in place of the forty pages that were once the minimum of criminal indictment. "It was that system of law that Blackstone declared to be the Acme of human reason that we have been developing away from," he declared.

BILL H. WILL BE TAKEN TO LONDON FOR TRIAL

Former German Emperor Will be Taken to England and Imprisoned in Tower of London, Says Daily Mail.

William Hohenzollern, former German emperor, will be brought to England in a British ship and imprisoned in the Tower of London, according to The London Daily Mail.

The death penalty will not be sought, the newspaper points out, but if he is found guilty the allies ask his banishment for life to a remote island, following the precedent of Napoleon's exile on St. Helena.

The international trial court had intended to try the former emperor alone. The Daily Mail says, but it is possible that former crown prince, Frederick William, will also be arraigned before it.
